"TOGETHER WE'RE BETTER":

Enjoying refreshments from the National Honor Society Induction are senior members: Mark Reedy, Mark Ashton, Stephanie White, Julie King, and Susan Kinnett.

Dressing for spirit days are student rituals, but did Dr. Counciller dress up or not?

Taking time out of their festive party are band members: Mark McCrocklin, John Cooper, Bryan Berney, Amanda King, Amber Coon, Joe Frees, Lynn Harrington, Jenny Cooper, Kristy Garner, Shannon Benfield, and Danny VanCise.

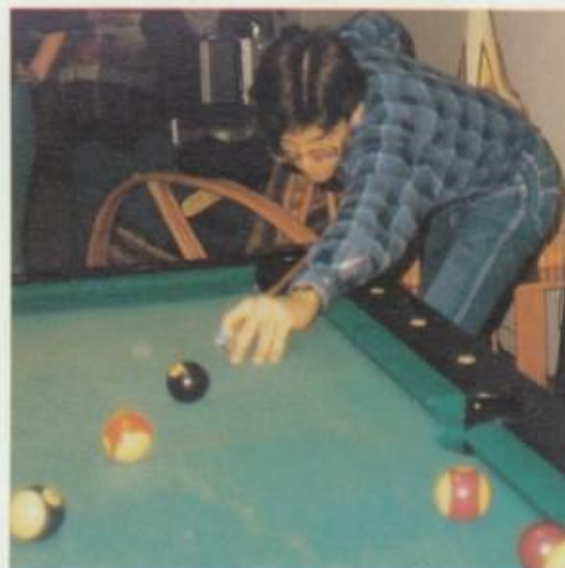

Being congratulated for a school record rushing performance is senior Co-Captain, Todd Shaw by Coach Todd Salkoski and Dennis Disney.

The Success Of Our School Depends On Our Unity.

The chain breaks down into smaller subdivisions. Curricular and extra-curricular activities need individuals from the original chain to be effective. In sports, the Athletic Director is the top of the chain. Directly following the Athletic Director are the coaches. Their purpose is to guide the athletes to be better participants and better individuals. The athletes are the last of this chain. Their job is to be gracious sportsman and to do their part as a member of the team.

Together We're Better is the theme that best describes our community and the institution that brings us together. The general structure of our chain is that the Board and Superintendent preside over the entire school corporation; the Principal is in charge of the school; the Vice-Principal assists the Principal with his duties; the Guidance people are to assist students in making right decisions, the faculty teaches the students, and the students learn to become responsible adults.

This chain, if maintained properly, will be very successful and each person involved will prosper. If by chance one link in the chain weakens or breaks, the whole chain will become crippled until that link is mended.

AS WE WORK TOGETHER:

Showing unity between two strong nations, Chihiro Mural poses for his first American yearbook. Chihiro is an exchange student from Japan.

Keeping a watchful eye on Hope Ellis' cake decorating skills is Mrs. Sharon Stephen.

As she tries to encourage blood donors, Mrs. Baker also makes a fashion statement.

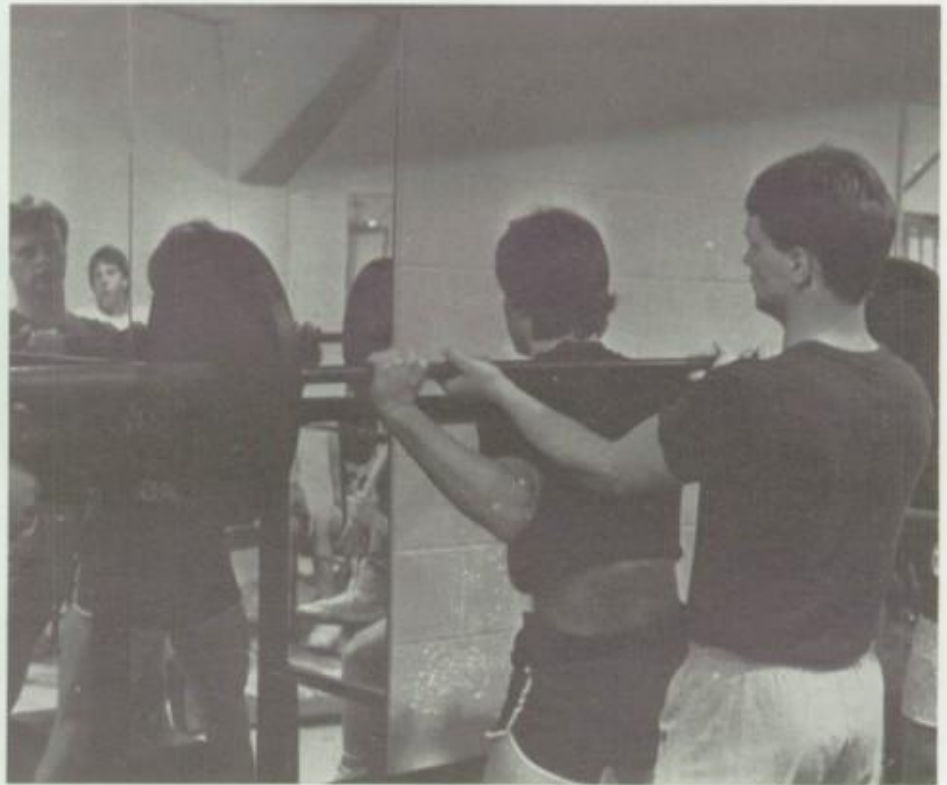

We must strive to maintain our individuality and extend a helping hand to others.

On the other hand, we have togetherness but in a negative way. Our school is brimming with small groups of students and teachers. These common groups are made up of shy individuals who are afraid of making a positive statement about themselves. They feel secure within these nice little groups. The group's two main objectives are to pass judgement and make fun of other people. The reasoning behind these childish activities are that they are afraid to be different. This is wrong because each person is unique and we can learn from each other. We can stop this nonsense by being ourselves. Be the best you can at all times and be proud of yourself.

If each one of us, while attending or working at S.H.S., does his/her part in the chain, we will each understand how the concept of "Together We're Better" can work positively.

Being transported through the crowded streets of Middletown, is senior Queen Candidate Pam Peavler.

Glancing in the mirror, Parrish Gross attempts to spot Brian Neal doing a deep squat thrust.

Giving blood is an ordeal to help others. Mr. Todd Salkowski is on the verge of consciousness and unconsciousness.

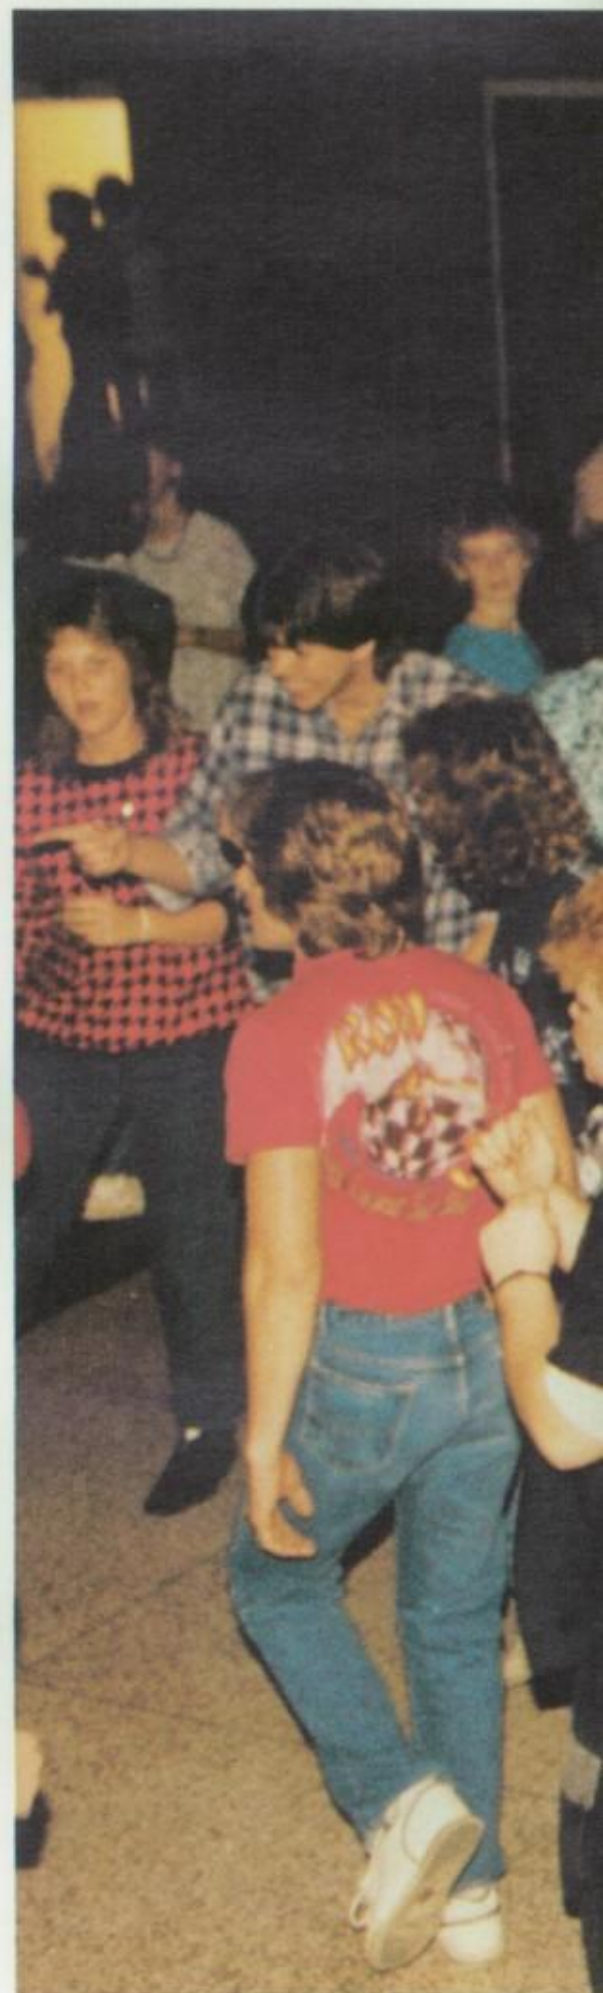

STUDENT LIFE

Pausing for a minute before entering their legislative session at The State House are Sara Wilson, Julie Hanson, Jeff Shelton, Tammie Miller, Lowell Amos, Stephanie White, Marvin Horton, and Dawn Coon.

Enjoying their balloons and the spirited pep session are Madalyn Johnson, Amy Gilkison, Amy Dietrich, Stephanie Minnick, Jami Barker, Sara Wilson, Tammie Miller, and Stacey Wilson.

For students, after game dances are a tradition. This dance was special as it helped celebrate the football team's sectional win.

As students we learn that togetherness brings success.

As we developed our theme, "Together We're Better", we felt that it would apply to all sections of our book. The togetherness is a very important part of student life. In addition to the learning experiences of the classroom, many of our best learning experiences come from interaction with other people as we develop into responsible adults.

Throughout the school year, we enjoy the togetherness whether it is at a dance or a ballgame or party, we all feel the need to be with other people. Perhaps the major part of maturing comes from the togetherness because we learn that we cannot be happy without having other people in our lives.

Another important ingredient of togetherness is in helping others. Many groups and students were involved in helping projects such as the Student Senate Blood Drive, the all school food drive at Thanksgiving, and the National Honor Society Toy Drive at Christmas.

"Together We're Better" describes what we hope will become a central theme in all our lives. As we live and continue to develop into responsible citizens, we must work and play together and also remember to help others.

PROMOTING SCHOOL SPIRIT:

Raider sign no. 9999 is completed by cheerleaders Anne Gilkison and Julie Manis.

Ready to show their Raider spirit at the Homecoming Pep Session are members of the Junior Class.

One thing Shenandoah never seems to run out of is its ever present pride and Raider spirit. Whether it be in the basketball, football, or volleyball bleachers, the softball or baseball stands, the finish line in the cross country and track, or at band competitions, there are always loyal Raider fans giving their support and lending their confidence. At school, students enjoy dress-up days. Toga, Nerd Day, and many others have been favorites along with the traditional "Blue and Gold Day." Besides dressing up, a few artistic Raider fans enjoy creating signs to show their support. Perhaps one of Shenandoah's greatest displays of spirit, is spirit week and the Homecoming Pep Session. The pep session is led by our enthusiastic cheerleaders and games are played between classes to decide who has the most true "Raider spirit." This year the Senior Class of 1987 proved to be the winning spirit leaders with the girls winning the flag football game, Todd Shaw placing 1st in the apple bob, and the class taking the float title.

Some Raiders reflected on the tremendous spirit in evidence during the fall: Coach Salkoski, "I thought school spirit was exceptional in the fall. Fans really got behind the football team and really gave us a big lift during our tournament. Also I felt that support was better at volleyball games than in the past. The girls played well and really deserved the boost in attendance." Marci Dietrich: "School spirit was great! Everyone students, parents, and teachers showed great enthusiasm in supporting our teams." Jami Barker, "The spirit at our sectional was great! That was the most spirit I've ever seen at a girls sport. It was appreciated by all of us. It helped us a lot."

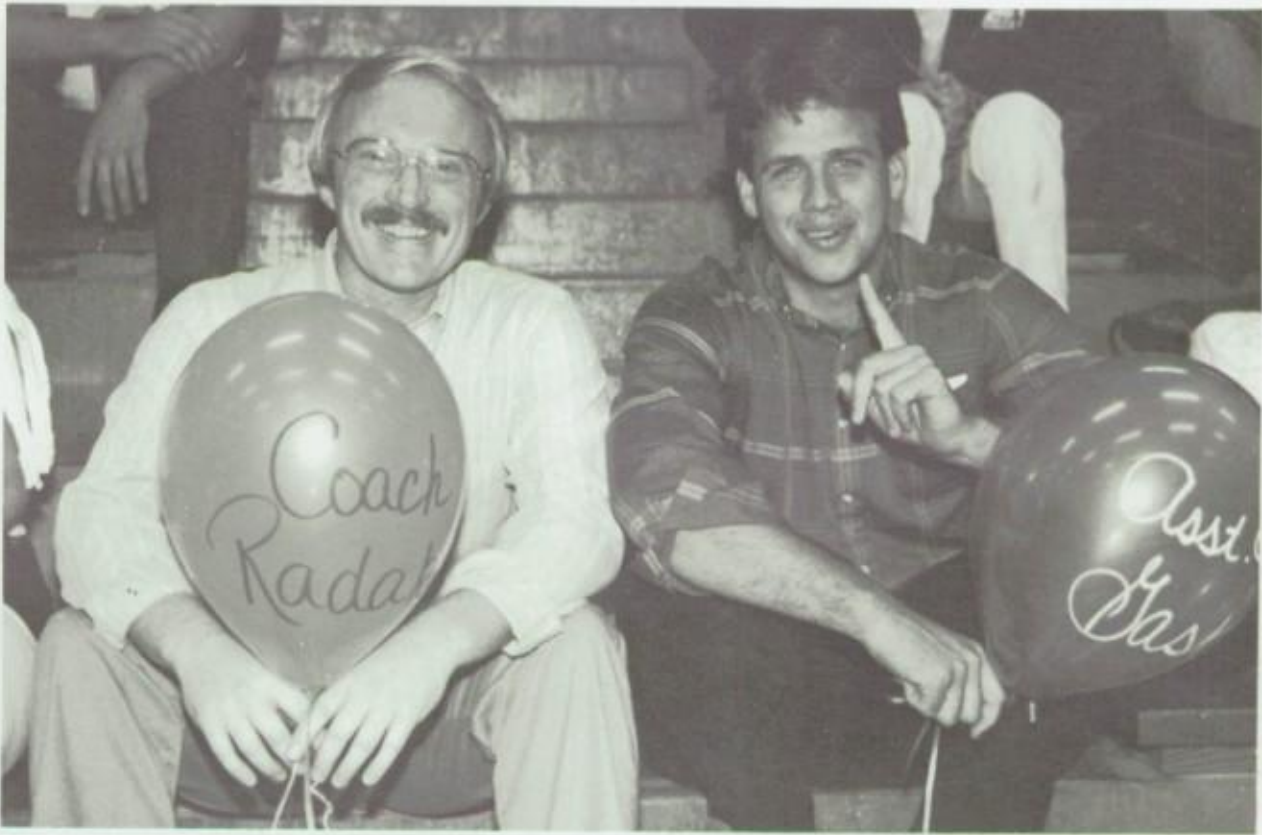

Spirit activities get many people involved and help our teams achieve their goals.

Demonstrating that a big mouth has value is John Egger who placed second to Todd Shaw in the apple bob contest.

A winning volleyball season makes for two smiling and relaxed coaches, Mr. Don Radaker and Mr. Bill Gast.

Modeling their Hawaiian fashions to show school spirit are Math Department twins, Ms. Teresa Riggs and Mrs. Melody Zapf.

Demonstrating his creative talents off the football field is senior All-State Running Back, Todd Shaw.

KING FOR HOMECOMING QUEEN:

In the excitement of the moment, Homecoming Queen Julie King receives congratulations from principal Terry Smith as Sherri Swain, Stevie Castor, Mark Ashton and Jerry Lowery look on.

Fighting to gain yardage for the Raiders is senior Todd Cordle against Tri-High.

Head Coach Todd Salkoski keeps a watchful eye on the Raider football team as he enjoys the sunshine and his team's lead.

Julie King And Todd Shaw Reign Over Homecoming And Raiders Defeat Tri-High 14-6.

Homecoming 1986 proved to be a very exciting event and the continuation of the football team's promising season ahead. The Tri High Titans became the Raiders 4th victim with the score of 14-6. Although the weather was a little rainy in the morning, by 2:00 game time the sun came out and set the tone for another Raider victory.

The traditional parade of class floats and King and Queen candidates before the game, capped a week of spirit building activities. The Senior Class placed 1st in the float contest with a game show theme. At halftime, Todd Shaw and Julie King were crowned as the 1986 Homecoming King and Queen. After the Raiders victorious afternoon, the Student Council sponsored a dance, a fitting conclusion to a most exciting and memorable day.

Parading around the field are Homecoming Royalty, Tammie Miller and Eric Boling, representing the Senior Class.

Featured during the Homecoming band field show are trumpet players Chris Berney and Danny VanCise, along with colorguard member, Amanda King.

WELCOME TO OPEN HOUSE:

Displaying her usual concentration is talented artist Sara Wilson.

While they attempt to cut a slice of cake after their Mock Wedding, Rich Krathwohl and Sonja Rains think: "Gosh this cake looks good!"

Open House is a time for parents and the community to become better acquainted with the schools. This year proved just how much Shenandoah parents care about education. A large crowd enjoyed a very different type of Open House from those presented in the past. Instead of going from classroom, parents visited display booths set up by various Shenandoah High School departments and clubs. Also, activities were presented in several classes throughout the evening — a Mock Wedding, debate, small engine demonstration, band music, art display, and physical fitness were just a few enjoyed by those in attendance. When asked what they thought, Mr. Smith replied, "I thought the Open House this year was very well received. We had numerous compliments on the format. Mrs. Sharin Christian organizing, and it paid off in what I understand was the biggest turnout in several years." Mrs. Christian said, "I felt Open House was more successful this year because our attendance was much bigger and many positive comments were made by people attending." Shenandoah parent, Karen Hallmann, thought this year's Open House was perhaps the best she had ever attended and looks forward to an even better one next year.

With the new format of Open House, hopefully next year will see an expansion of the participation of our various school groups. As school groups work to improve Open House, members of the community should continue to attend the event so that the interaction of ideas can improve our school community.

Doing their impressions, at Open House, of the Three Musketeers are Mr. Smith, Mr. Rice, and Dr. Councillor.

Looking at all the interesting displays at Open House, are Molly Wearly, Dustin Wise, Perry Carr, and Amy Sork.

Is this how Cristy Brinkley got her start asks Julie King as she shows how gesture drawing is done.

STAGING A MOCK DISASTER:

Arriving at the scene, "Lifeline" helicopter awaits to take critical patients to the hospital.

Waiting patiently for help, Mr. Dan Noel finds himself in a difficult situation

During the summer many Shenandoah students were involved in a disaster, a "Mock Disaster".

The procedure began early Saturday morning August 23rd and lasted most of the day. Each "victim" had pre-arranged injuries and make-up and cosmetics were applied to achieve the realism of these.

The stimulation was for total training purposes and mutual aid was a big factor. Emergency Response teams from four counties were utilized. "Lifeline" helicopter was also called to the scene.

Participants stated: Scott McCambridge: "I thought it was good because it helped the EMT's and fire departments." Mr. Jerry Bomholt: "It was a unique exhilarating experience."

The disaster took a lot of time and organizing; however, it was rated as one of the best in the state.

"Excuse me, but I need medical attention ... Stat!!", yells Amy Dietrich.

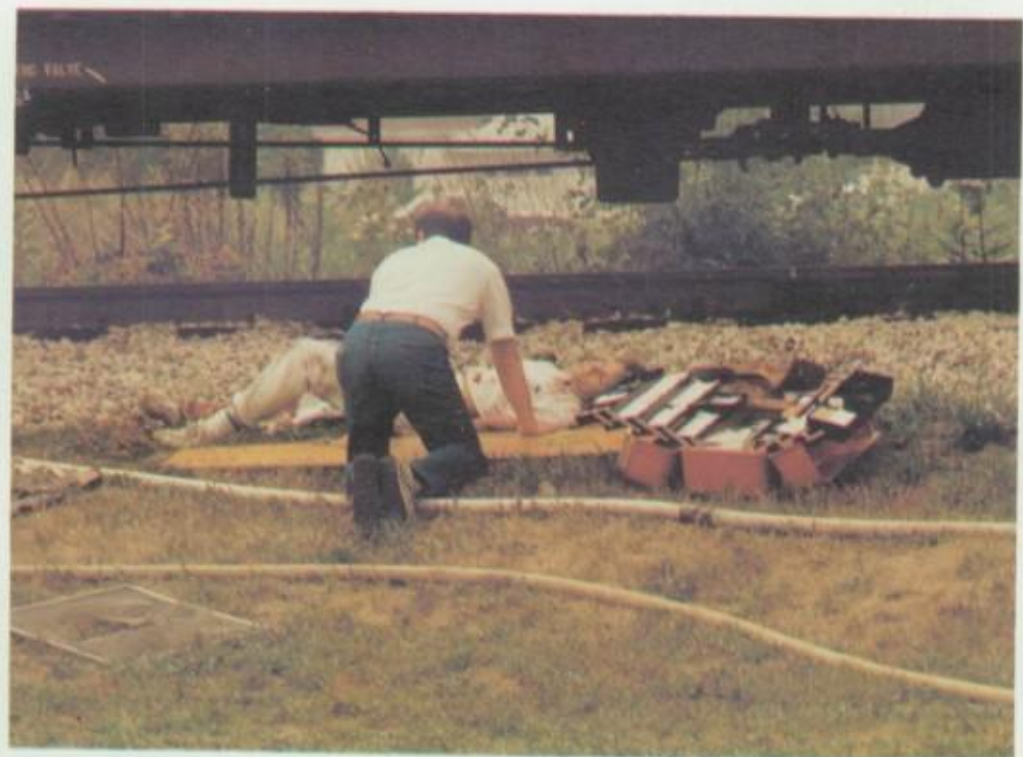

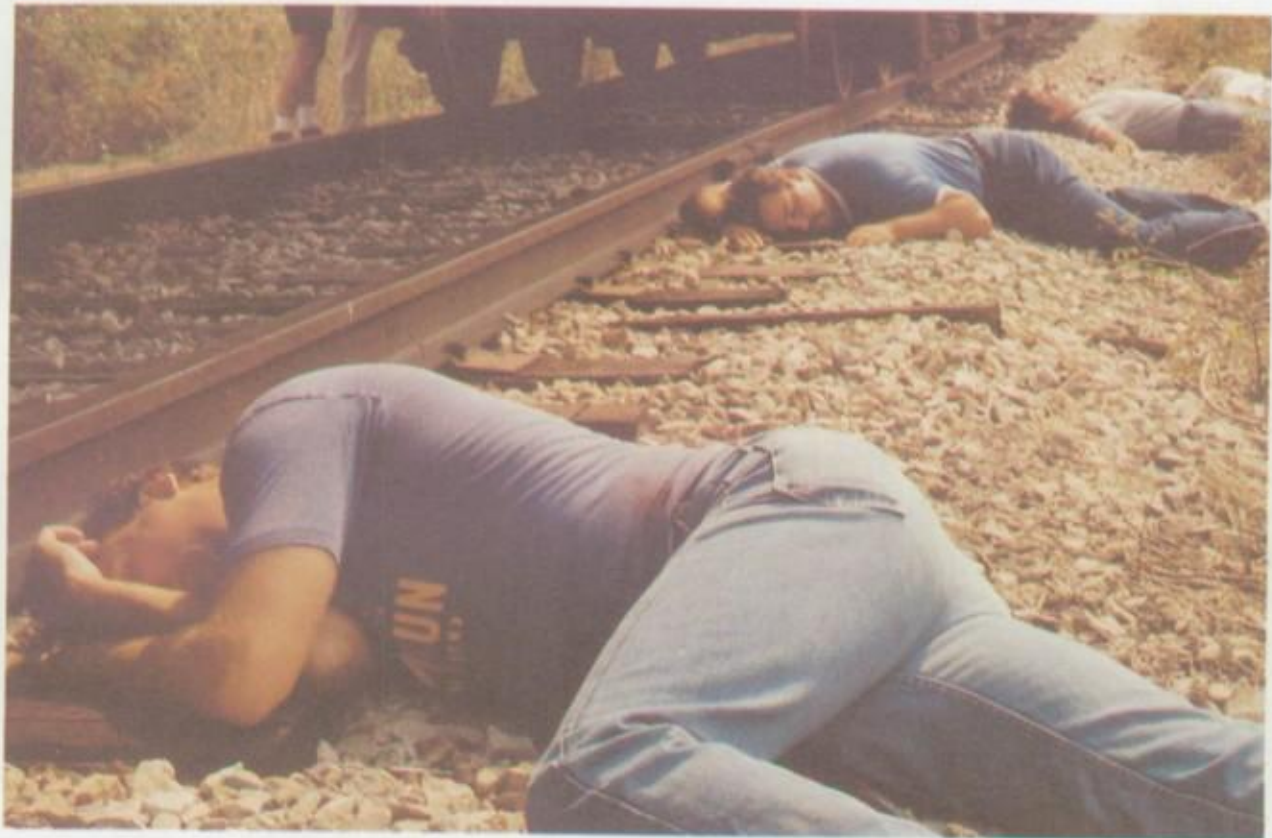

Community Members Unite To Train Personnel In The Event Of A Disaster.

Imagine being trapped inside of this bus as did many of the participants of the Mock Disaster.

Playing an important part in the Mock Disaster are victims Mr. Jerry Bomholt, Mr. Jim Hess, and Mr. Todd Salkoski.

After a long wait, Stephanie Minnick receives treatment from one of the many EMT's.

"Could anyone spare a band-aid?" asks Chris Todd as he displays his injuries for the disaster.

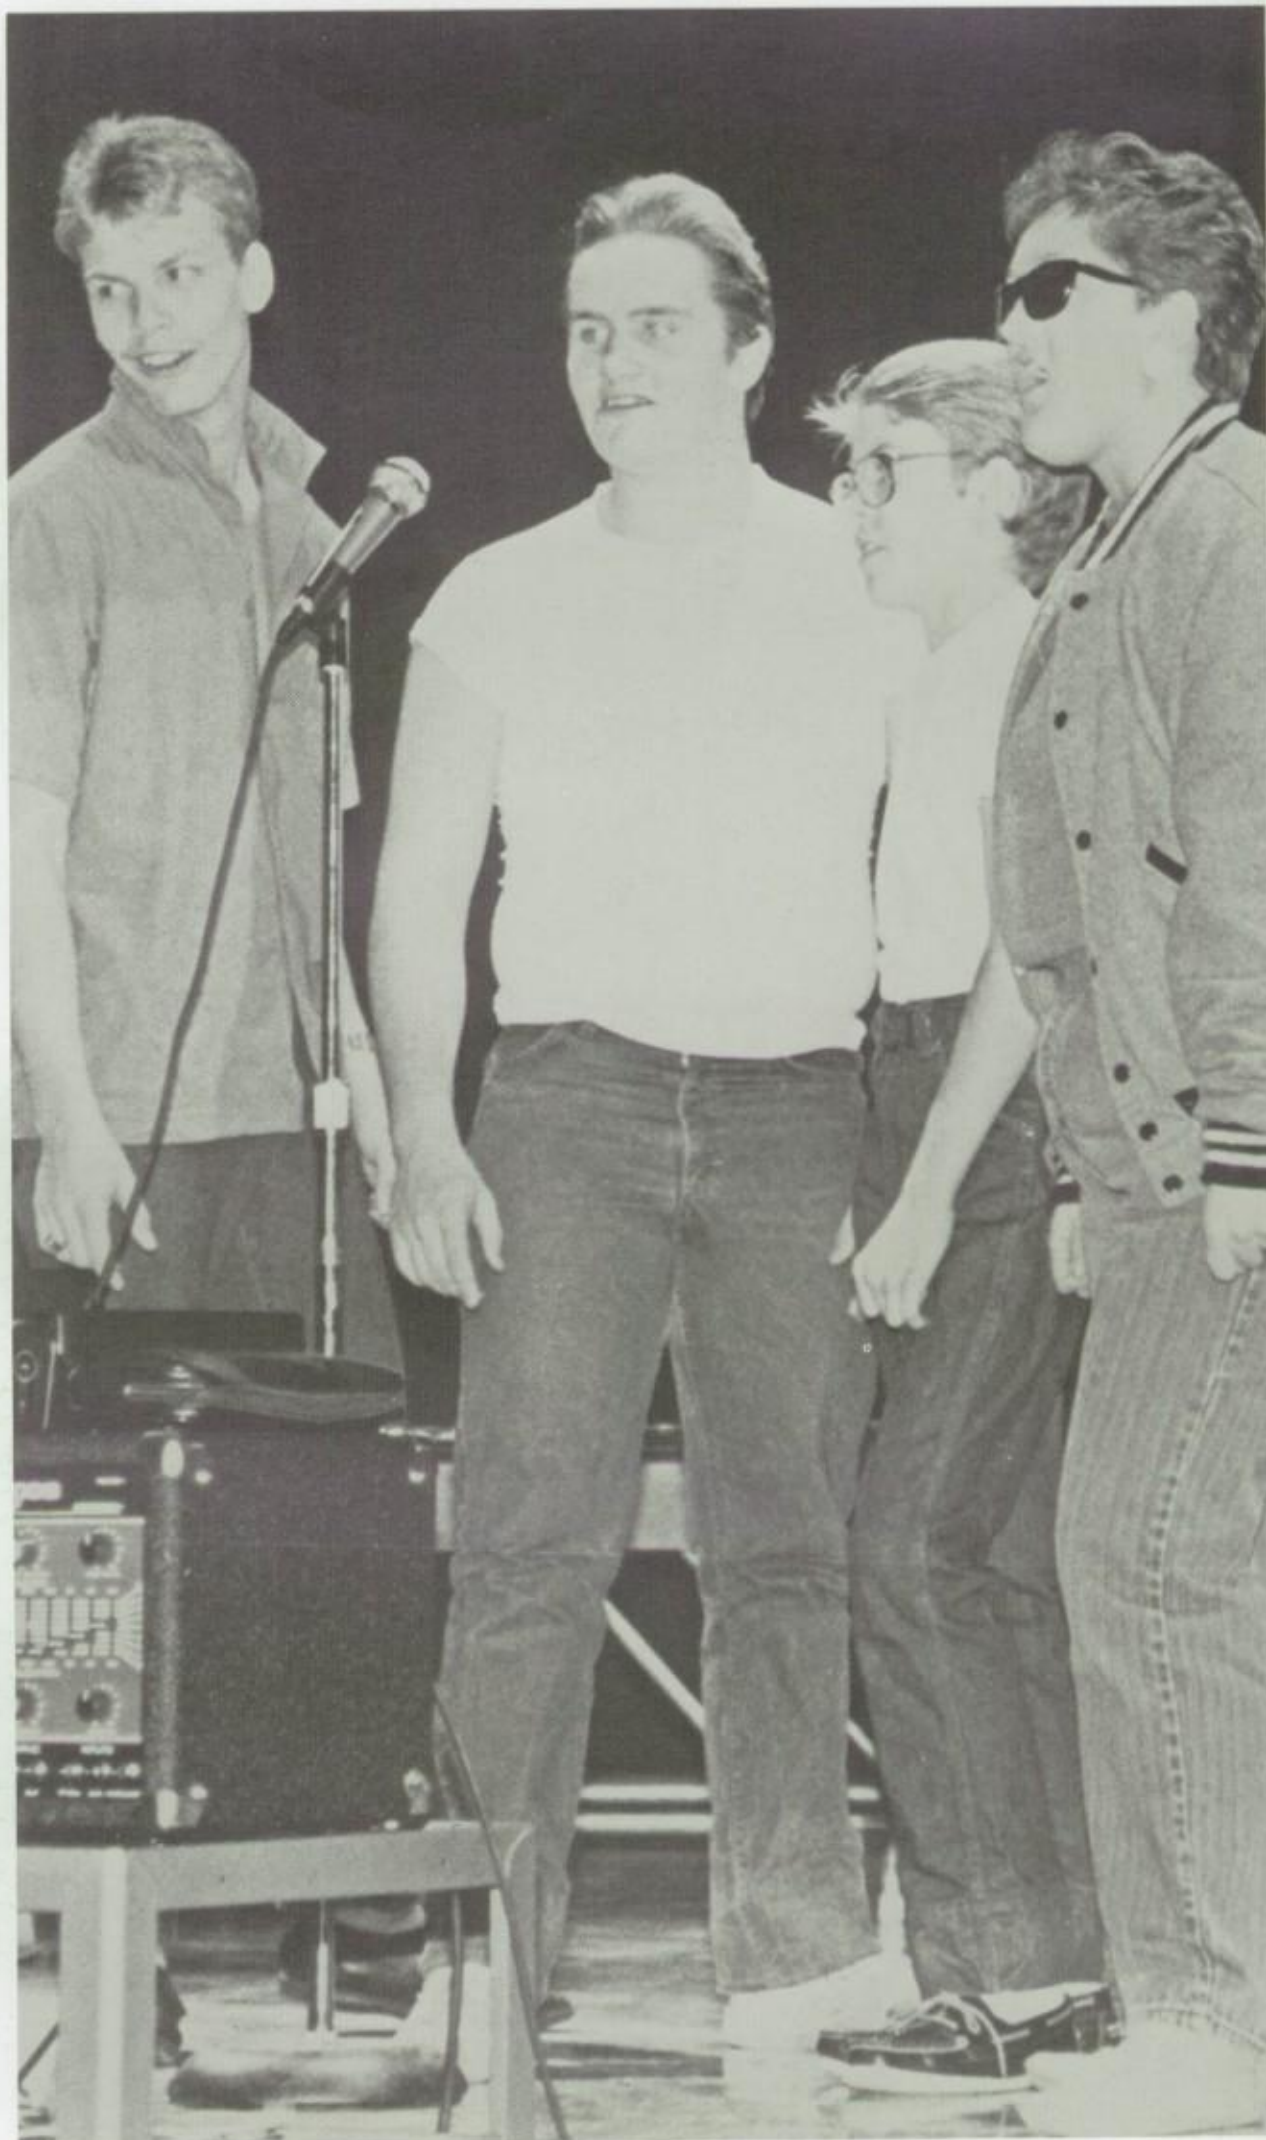

FALL KALEIDOSCOPE:

To give their show more atmosphere, the quartet of Chris Ramsey, Billy Sears, Tim Jared, and Carol Whiting entertained.

The opening of the Swing Choir's tribute to the fifties got the audience moving While responding to a comment made by his sister Belva (Carol Whiting), Joe Summers (Scott Hancock) becomes more vehement.

Musical Arts Department presents "The Lottery" and a musical salute to the fifties.

The Fall Kaleidoscope had a variety of performances to appeal to everyone. For the parents the Swing Choir performed a tribute to the fifties. The Jazz Band played selections from the Big Band Era. "The Lottery" was done, and it produced some mixed reactions.

The audience was filled with awe and repulsion after the play. The cast worked hard to make this play a success. The play was written not only to entertain, but also to produce constructive reflection in those who attended.

Director, Mr. David Brown, reflected on the presentation: The Autumn Kaleidoscope was an enjoyable experience. I was very disappointed, however, that so few people came to watch. The kids put forth a great amount of effort and they were satisfied with their performance.

Concluding "The Lottery" with a stoning of Tessie (Jenny Cooper) was the cast of the play.

Part of the Swing Choir's tribute to the fifties consisted of Carol Whiting singing a solo on "Only You."

As Old Man Warner (Chris Ramsey) speaks about the past, two farmers (Chad Gullet and Marvin Horton) listen intently.

PEP SESSIONS & CONVOS:

Students learn that pep sessions can be fun, but sometimes they may also be embarrassing as experienced by Perry Carr.

Presenting awards to the two outstanding science students, Jeff Shelton and Howard Moore, is Dr. Harry Councillor.

One of the ways we share together is in spirited pep sessions and convocations that may be informative, entertaining, or in recognition of individual accomplishments.

During this year, we had a number of pep sessions. Probably the highlights included the evening pep rally before the regional football game and the faculty skit during the pep session for the boys' basketball sectional. One of the most important convocations was the presentation by Mr. Sam Rhine on birth defects and what we can do to help prevent them.

At the end of the year, we had the two traditional honors convocations. These provide a fitting end to the year as we recognize those that have excelled.

Not only students are involved in pep sessions, but also the faculty is very important in creating school spirit.

Students enjoy the opportunity to show their spirit and learn new things in unison.

Precision, accuracy, co-ordination and soft hands are needed for Jason Hornaday to be successful in the egg toss.

Preparing for a pep session involves making many signs such as those supporting the wrestlers designed by matmaids Jenny Henry and Marie Kimmerling.

Teaching is not always a serious matter as demonstrated by Ms. Laura Bieberich, Mr. Steve Hickey, and Ms. Sherry Underwood.

Students always enjoy the opportunity to go outside and compete as a class in such traditional activities as the tug of war.

ON THE EDGE OF A DREAM:

Prom became a memorable event for Mary Carter and Mark Ashton as they were crowned this years Queen and King.

Enjoying the break between dances and the atmosphere of this special evening are Cheryl Sweigart and Chad Malloy.

After being crowned Princess and Prince, Denise Reedy and David Goyette pose for pictures before their special dance.

Students, faculty and guests enjoy the festivities at the Radisson in Muncie.

Many happy couples watched with anticipation to see who would be selected as the royalty for the 1987 Prom.

On a warm Saturday night, May 2, 1987, juniors and seniors and their dates traveled to the newly renovated Radisson Hotel in Muncie for this year's prom. As the guests arrived, they were escorted to the second floor where refreshments were provided and pictures were taken. The dance floor was in another room on this floor and the music was provided by Dance and Video Inc.

This year's theme, "On The Edge of A Dream", was fulfilled by many. For seniors, Mary Carter and Mark Ashton, the dream was obtained as they were crowned Queen and King. Also joining the royal court were Princess Denise Reedy and Prince David Goyette.

As is traditional, couples were dressed in elegant dresses and colorful tuxedos and enjoyed a fine dinner before the prom. After a night of fun, couples left Muncie to enjoy the post prom at Shenandoah High School.

Taking a break from the dance floor and just enjoying each others company are Anne Gilkison and Todd Shaw.

AROUND THE WORLD:

Trying for a bull's-eye is Senior Sara Wilson in Post Prom's Middle East Room.

Taking a walk "Around the World," is Scott Gilkison and his date Stephanie Boyd at Post Prom '87.

"Around the World in 80 Days" was the theme for the 1987 Post Prom. As you began your trip around the world, each guest received a passport and then traveled first to the Big Apple itself, New York City. Traveling next to a Mexican Cantina, guests could drink strawberry dacquiris while listening to two Mexican singers. After leaving Mexico you entered Paris, France where the main attraction was an artist. Next on your trip were the countries of Switzerland, Germany, and Italy. Upon leaving Italy, you were on your way to Monte Carlo for gambling and then on to the Middle East and the Orient. Finally, you entered the tropical island of Hawaii where you and your date could dance the rest of the night away. Sponsored by the Junior Class parents, it was a fun night to be remembered by all.

"Ole'!" cries Shane Young as he entertains Christy Cronk and Shannon Benfield in the Mexican Cantina.

A SENSE OF PRIDE:

A very proud Dr. Harry Councillor cites the achievements of the underclass members of his academic team.

FHA co-sponsors, Mrs. Donnetta Ratliff and Mrs. Sharon Stephen, recognized FHA District Officers Kim Meeks and Jenny Henry at this convocation.

On the final morning of the year, accomplishments of underclassmen were recognized. After attendance awards and department certificates were presented, some special achievements were noted: Golden Hammer Award — Bobby Gift; National Scholastic Art Awards — David Aaron, Shawn Bennett; Typing 50 wpm — Jerry Lowery, Kristi Jordan, Kari Cook; Typing 60 wpm — Tracy Utt; Choral Awards — Collette Huxford, Ginger Kennedy, and Jenny Cooper.

Girls' State delegates recognized were Franki Zile and Marcy Haskell while Darren Ghanayem and Jim Worrell attended Boys' State. To conclude the convocation, Mr. Terry Smith presented "I Dare You" leadership awards to Amy Gilkison and Franki Zile.

Completing another very successful year with the FFA, Mr. Steve Hickey presents certificates to his outstanding students.

Underclassmen receive recognition for their efforts during this school year.

Entertaining the convocation with a song is junior singer Chris Ramsey.

Receiving a certificate in Chemistry II from Dr. Harry Councillor is Christie Jones.

Smiling as he receives his typing award from Mrs. Jane Young, Jerry Lowery reacts to his fellow students.

Completing his first year as principal, Mr. Terry Smith thanks the faculty and student body for what he considered an excellent school year.

RECOGNITION FOR CLASS OF 1987

The Senior Class Honor's Convocation was held on May 20th, 1987. Mark Ashton, the NHS President, addressed the audience with a welcoming speech. Following his soliloquy were Principal Mr. Terry Smith and sponsor Mr. Rick Penn.

After Game Dances:

Sharing an intimate moment together are Seniors Jason Shaw and Sheri Swain at their last high school prom.

Dancing to the latest tunes, Shenandoah students get together to have a good time.

Even grads come to post-game dances as they enjoy seeing old friends.

Dances Continue To Be A Tradition As Students Rock To The Latest Sounds

Everyone seems to enjoy themselves at Prom, which is one of many dances held at Shenandoah.

Dances are a big part of social life at Shenandoah High School. They are a time when everyone can forget about homework and everyday living. After a game, friends get together to have a good time and pass on the latest gossip.

The most awaited dance of this year, and every year, is the Junior-Senior Prom. Unlike other dances, students go all out for the occasion. Fancy dresses and tuxedos, limosines and exquisite dining are just a part of the fun. Regardless of the type of dance, however, Shenandoah students are always ready to take a spin on the dance floor.

A popular place to be after a football or basketball game is a dance.

Katie Hayes and her date enjoy a fun evening at the Prom.

CELEBRATING GRADUATION:

Pausing a moment from the welcoming speech is Senior Class President Julie Hanson.

Waiting anxiously to make an entrance in the graduation ceremony are candlegirls Becky Downen, Marie Kimmerling, Denise Reedy, Melissa Harris, and Susie Sanders.

Graduation evening dawned with expectant parents and nervous seniors. Upon arrival to the school, the seniors were encouraged to acquaint themselves with the guest speaker Mike Watkins. After donning their caps and gowns, the seniors proceeded to line up for the final run through the ceremony. The seniors followed the candlegirls to their seats. Julie Hanson, Howard Moore, and Jeff Shelton gave their traditional speeches. Upon receiving their diplomas and changing their tassles, the newly graduated Class of 1987 celebrated by spraying rubber streamers everywhere. The exuberant graduates hurriedly walked from the gym to see a new life on the other side of the gym doors.

Jubilation is the mood of the Class of 1987 as they prepare to take the step that will open the door to their future. Celebrating are Robin Abshire, Seveanna Dellinger, Angie Coulter, and Shannon Benfield.

Seniors Reflect With Pride On Their Accomplishments And Look Forward To The Future.

Trying to motivate each person in his commencement address is Mike Watkins.

Turning to greet following members of their class is Lisa Adams, Justina Adams, Greg Acra, and Robin Abshire.

Reflecting on the past through the ceremony are Mary Carter, Phillip Chandler, and Kelly Coburn.

Displaying great prowess in the speech rotation is Valedictorian, Jeff Shelton.

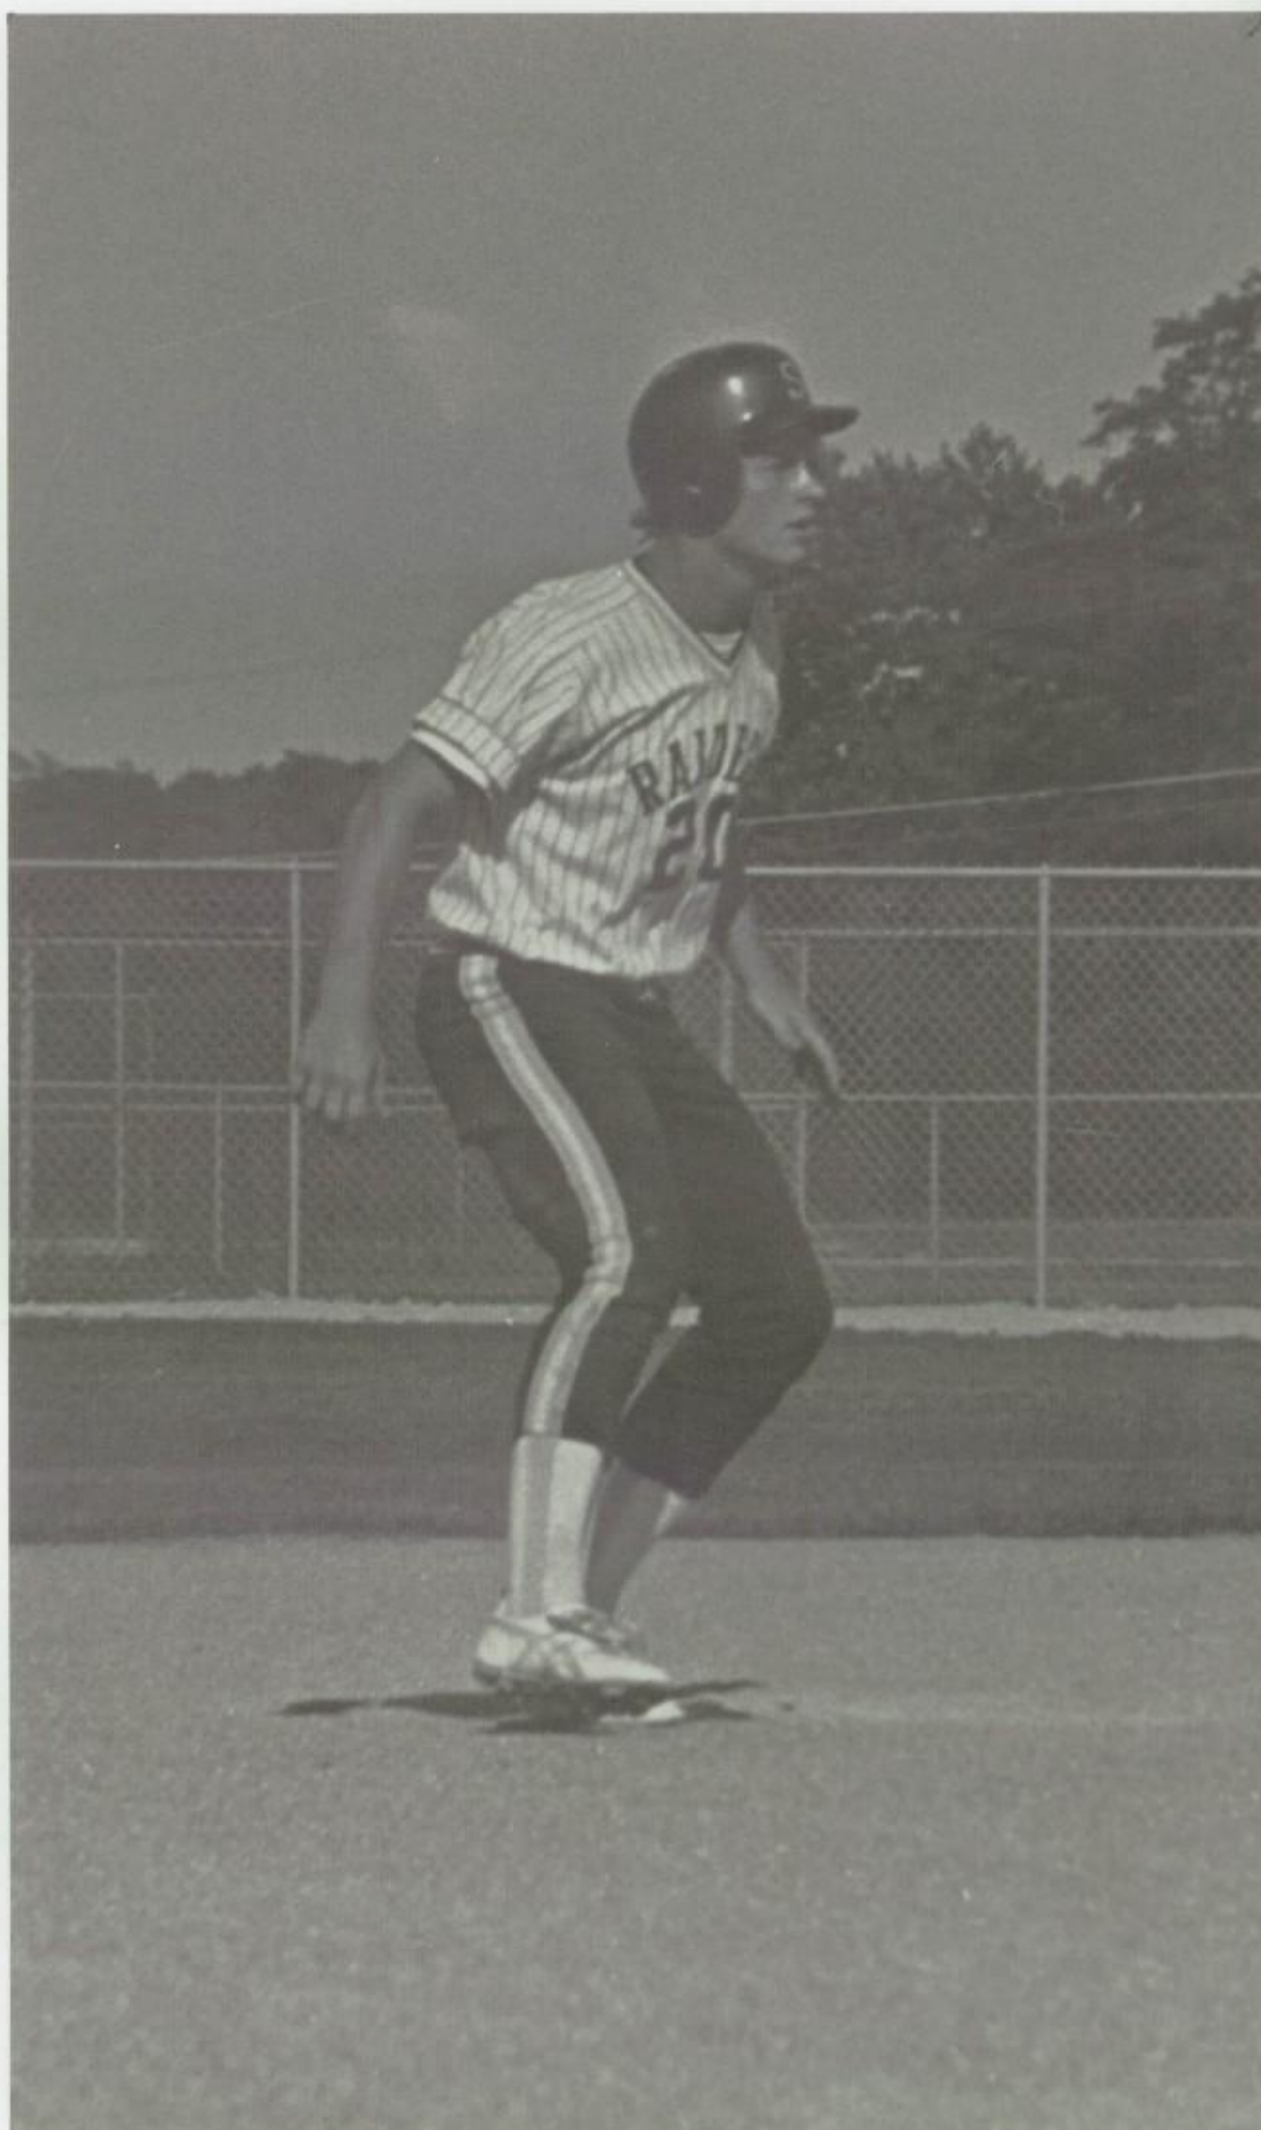

SPECIAL RECOGNITION:

Leading off from second base during the sectional, Todd Shaw's outstanding baseball season earned him second team All State recognition. This award enabled him to be All State in both football and baseball.

Discussing the current situation are Defensive Co-ordinator Kelly Cronk and Head Coach Todd Salkoski. Coach Salkoski was honored as Area Football Coach of the Year.

Enjoying the opportunity to present an award at the Underclass Honor's Convocation is Ms. Sharin Christian who served as President of the Indiana School Counselors Association this year.

By working together with people in their fields, these people brought honor to Shenandoah.

Despite playing solid defense at first base, Tim Carter's selection to the second team All-State squad was due to his booming bat.

Selected to the first group of scholars recognized as Indiana Academic All Stars was a great honor for Jeff Shelton who praised Mrs. Aleida Hernandez as the teacher who had the most influence on him.

Using her typing skills to perfection, Pam Peavler won the honor of being the Indiana State Champion Typist.

Meeting with umpires before the Hagerstown game at the Richmond Regional is Coach Rick Penn who was honored as Area Baseball Coach of the Year.

Outside Learning Experiences:

Although automobile styles have changed, many students still enjoy the sporty look.

Playfully waving the American flag at her desk in the House of Representatives in Indianapolis is Sara Wilson.

In an attempt to supplement our learning experiences, many classes use field trips to enhance the opportunities for students to gain more knowledge. Frequently these trips also provide a social learning experience.

Home Economics students again visited a hospital while art students examined great works of art at the art museums. Many of Mr. Hickey's FFA members traveled to contests throughout the state. Government students took up residence at the State House for one day during the second Raintree Model Legislature.

Regardless of the activity all students enjoyed the trips and believed that these experiences not only increase their knowledge, but also break up the routine of the day.

Field trips can be fun as well as interesting as shown by members of the German Club on their trip to Union Station.

Students leave the halls of Shenandoah to gain new perspectives and knowledge.

Union Station was once a bustling depot and still has an atmosphere of excitement as Christy Cronk emerges from a refurbished train car.

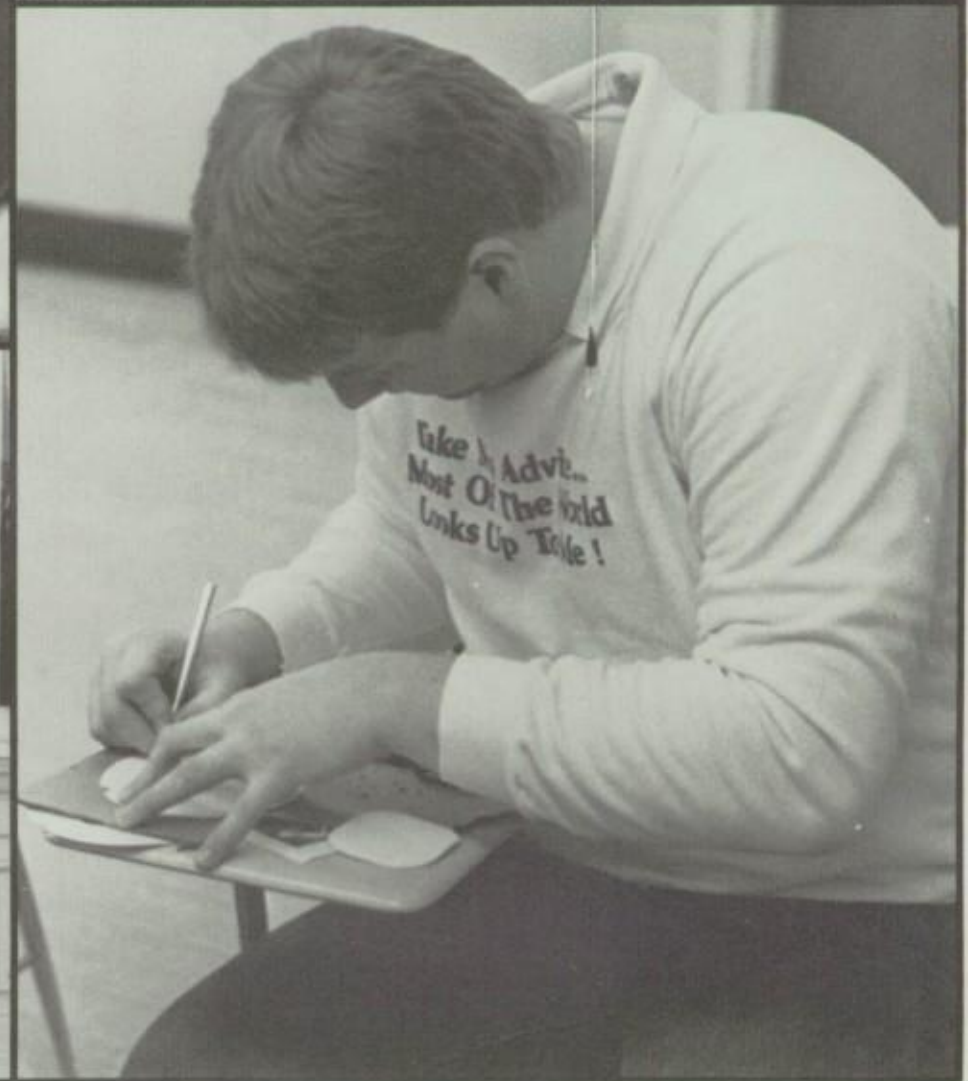

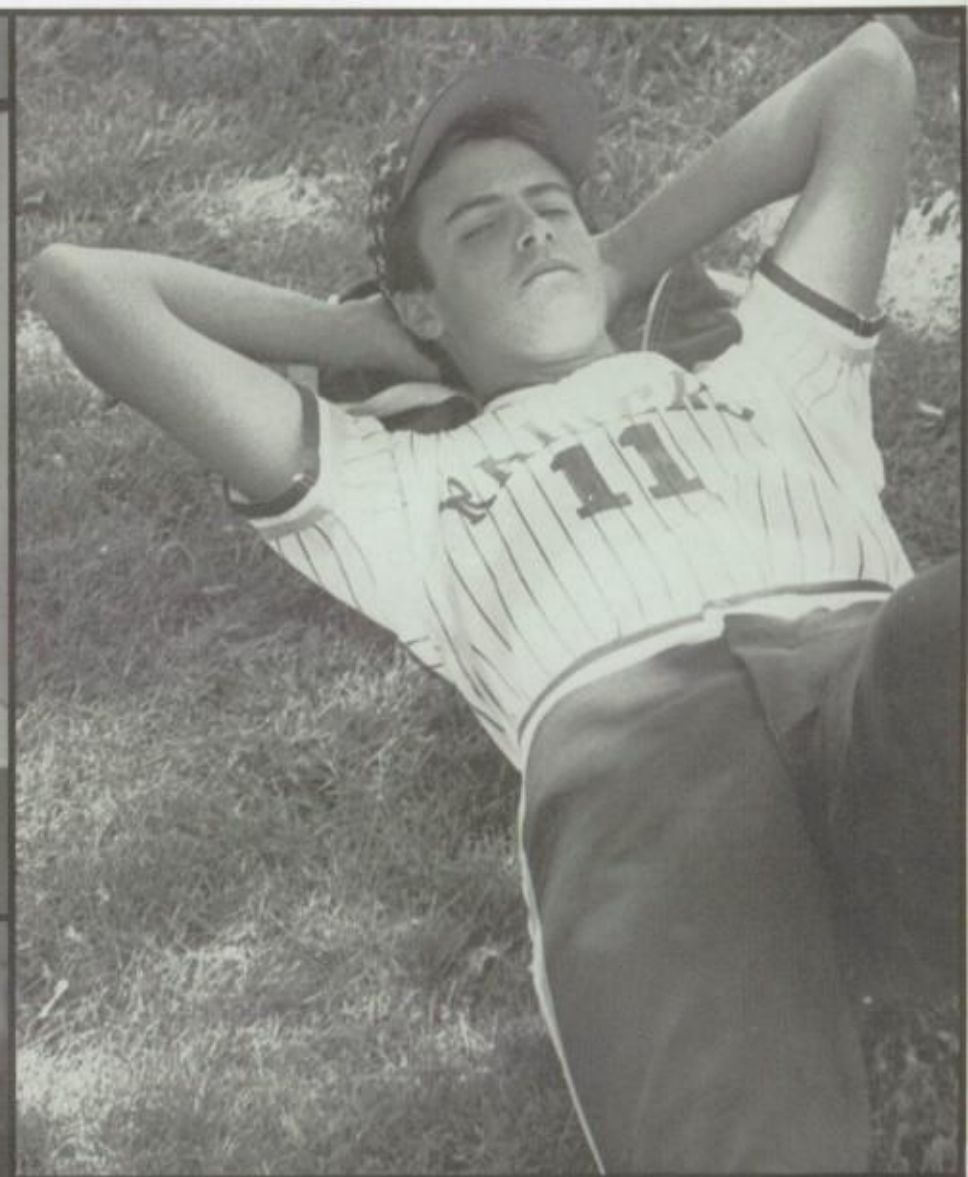

Learning about the development of the John Deere tractor are Greg Lane, Jim York, and Scott McCambridge.

An early car frame was one of the many interesting exhibits enjoyed by science students on their trip to Detroit.

Resting after selling another ad are yearbook and newspaper business managers, Pam Peavler and Angie Coulter.

LOOKING AT OUR PICTURES:

We can see that "Together is Better."

RAIDER PEOPLE:

Reflecting on the presentation of the game ball signifying his 100th varsity win is Coach Jerry Bomholt.

Throughout their careers, these seniors have worked for unity on all of their teams. John Prough, Todd Cordle, Todd Shaw, Tony New, Parrish Gross, Eric Boling and Brian Marsh enjoy their third straight baseball sectional title.

Huddling together to keep warm are our cheerleaders and mascots before the Whitko game. Raider togetherness was evident as many fans braved the conditions to root for our team.

Bringing people together is the theme of Raider Country.

As we developed the theme for this years book, we were concerned about the need for all groups to unite together for the benefit of the entire school. In this section, we will cover all of the various people who contribute to Shenandoah High School.

From the students through the faculty and staff to the school and central office administrative staff, it is of vital importance that we all work together for the same common goal — educating our student body. In a vast collection of people who comprise our school community, we must realize that there will always be differences, but that we must work together to solve our differences so that the education process will continue.

With the continued emphasis on education, it is very important that we continue to work together to see that all elements of our school community are working together to provide the best possible educational opportunities for students.

BUILDING PLANS FINALIZED

Presenting diplomas to graduating seniors is an enjoyable task for Superintendent Patrick J. Mark as he congratulates Brian Marsh.

After swearing in two new members, Mr. David Boram and Mr. Dale Green, and reorganizing for the year, the school board and superintendent became very involved in determining the future building plans for the corporation. It was first felt that a central site elementary school would be built in the area of Shenandoah High School; however, the board finally decided to have two elementary schools. They selected a plan that would remodel Fairfield Elementary School in Middletown and build a new school in Sulphur Springs.

Another important decision made by our board was the examination of a program for gifted and talented students. After a fall meeting of all staff members, committees were selected to study various options. In the fall of 1987, the plans are to begin some gifted and talented programs.

In the spring, Superintendent Mark announced that he would be leaving our corporation to assume the position of Superintendent at Northwestern Allen County of Indiana. During his tenure, the corporation has moved forward in the areas of elementary building plans and curriculum. The Raider staff would like to thank Mr. Mark for his support of our publication and to wish him and his family success in their new Venture.

As our school year ended, the school board selected Mr. Don K. Davenport of Southwest Parke Community School Corporation in Montezuma, Indiana as our new superintendent. We would like to welcome Mr. Davenport and his family to our school corporation and wish him the best as he begins his new duties.

CHANGING OF LEADERSHIP

Receiving his plaque in recognition of the football facility being named Dale Green Field from Mr. John Peckinpaugh is Mr. Green as Mr. Terry Smith and Mr. Patrick J. Mark share in the dedication ceremony.

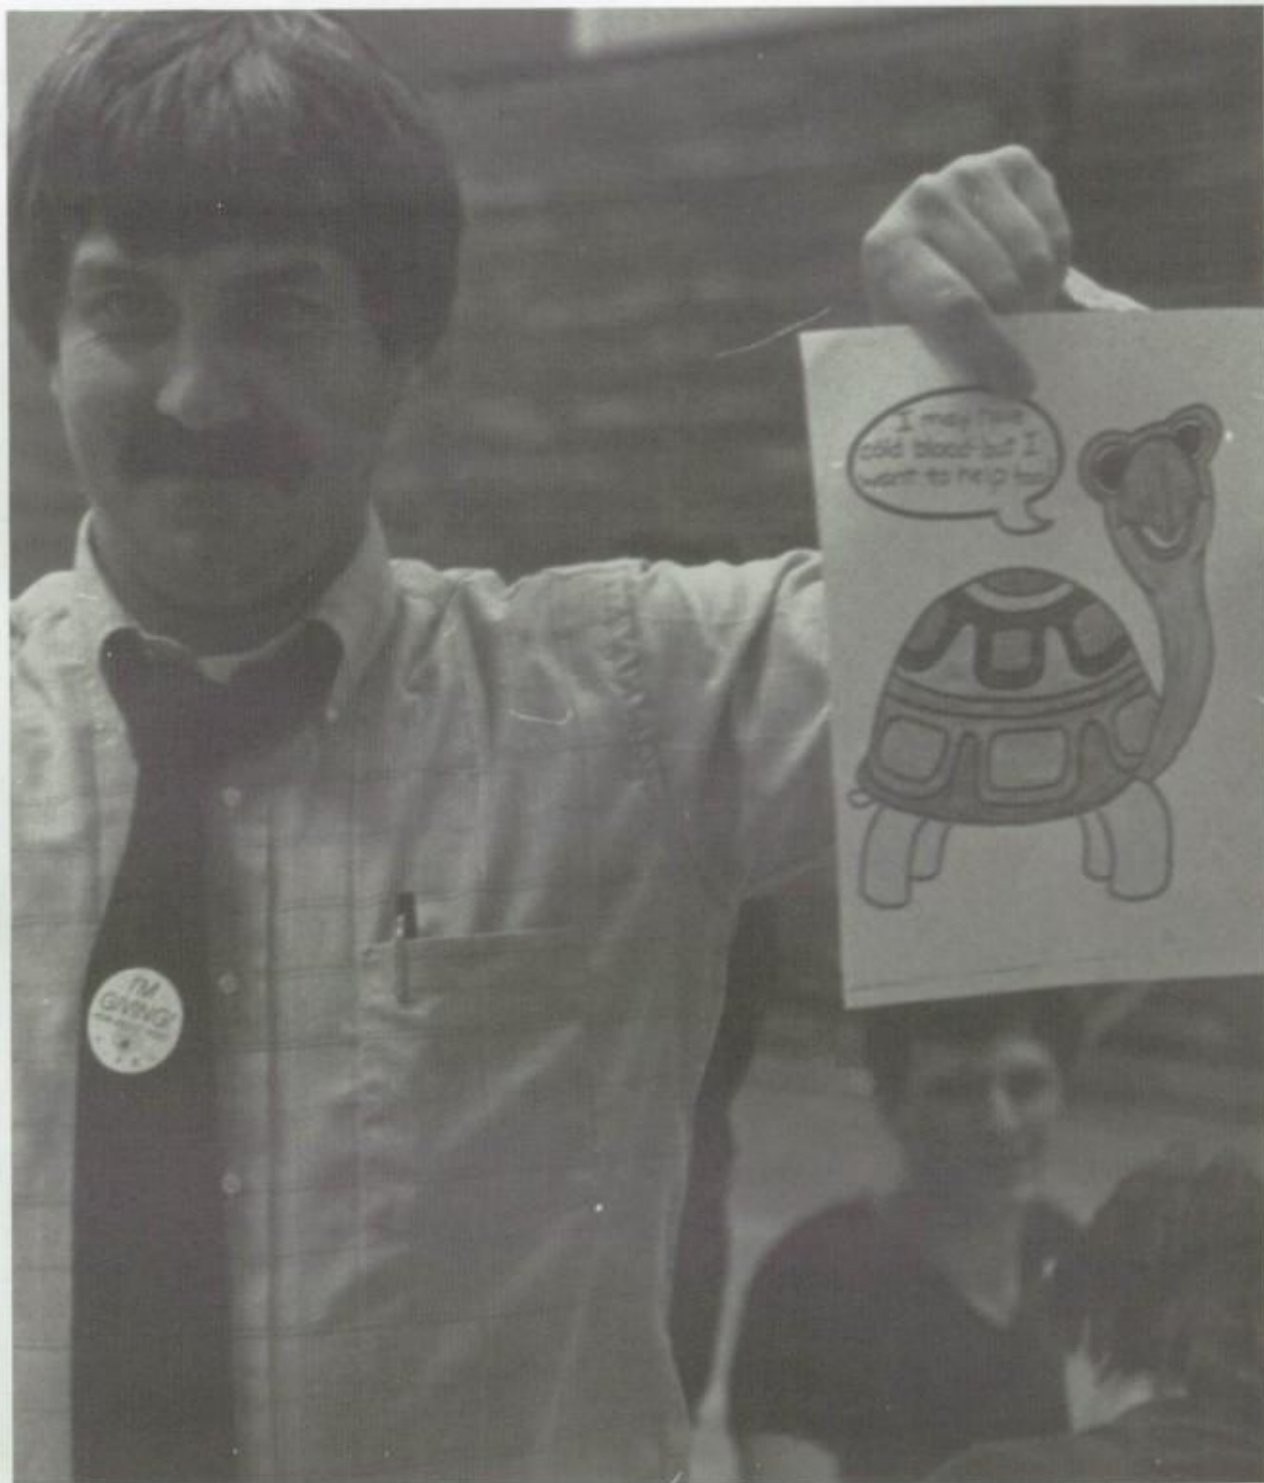

Enjoying a slow dance during the prom is board member Mr. DAVID Boram and his wife Karen.

As Board President John Peckinpaugh presents the family a plaque, Dr. Joe Jameson proudly accepts the award in recognition of the high school gym being named in honor of his father as the Von Jameson Memorial Gymnasium.

Supporting the annual blood drive, Mr. Dan Noel proves that he does have some warmth in his heart.

MR. SMITH REFLECTS ON '86-87

"I am proud to be able to say that I am principal of Shenandoah High School. After having been an assistant principal for many years, I was happy to make the change. It isn't that much different except that I have to accept more responsibility (and blame if anything goes wrong.)"

"I am very happy with the behaviour and the achievements of S.H.S. students. The last two weeks of the school year are often rough in many schools, and that was the test that I was waiting for. I think that most of our students came through that period fine, and I was pleasantly surprised."

"Some experiences that I'll remember are working until ten or eleven at night all of July and August trying to get school to open; all of our sectional and one regional championship in athletics; Jeff Shelton's achievements as an Indiana All-Star and National Merit Scholarship winner as well as the academic success of so many other students; the senior honors assembly and graduation itself which was one of the nicest that I've experienced. I like the positive, winning attitude that is being projected at Shenandoah High School in all areas and I want to help it increase if I can."

One of Mr. Doug Wilder's frequent responsibilities is to copy senior transcripts so that students may complete their college applications.

Teaching by demonstration is a frequent technique of Mr. Noble Stokes as he works with his student on their projects.

NEW TEACHERS REFLECT ON S.H.S.

Each year in the fall, one of the traditions is seeing and meeting all of the new people. It seems as if new teachers always draw attention. After a summer vacation, students talk in the halls about new teachers. Do you think their classes will be hard? What are they like in class?

This year there were two new additions to the faculty. In the Science Department, Mr. Eric Lautzenheiser replaced Mr. Walt Bruning who accepted another teaching position in Ohio. Replacing Mr. Dale Green who retired was Mr. David Brown. Since Mrs. Campbell was assigned to many of Mr. Green's classes, Mr. Brown is teaching in the Language Arts Department teaching both English and German.

Both of our new teachers have been busy with extra-curricular activities. Mr. Lautzenheiser coaches football and wrestling as well as sponsoring the Junior Class and the Biology and Nature Study Club. Being a talented performer himself, Mr. Brown has been very active with our performing arts groups working with band, guard, plays, and yet he still found time to sponsor the German Club.

After their first year on the faculty, both men told us some of their likes and dislikes.

Mr. Brown: Likes: Kids, teacher staff. Dislikes: Lack of adequate facilities for proper instruction of the students and the apathetic attitudes of some of the students.

Mr. Lautzenheiser: Likes: people who make up our school and the support that SHS receives from the community. Dislikes: Inadequate audio-visual equipment and supplies.

A man of many talents — Throughout the year, Mr. Steve Hickey performed many services for the school. Today the job was to repair a flat tire on the driver ed car.

Carefully checking his class lists early in the semester is a frequent requirement for first year science teacher Mr. Eric Lautzenheiser.

Teresa Mason: English 9 A & B, G.I.F.T. Sponsor.

Kurt Meyer: Photography, Production Printing, Graphic Arts 1, 2, 3, Amateur Radio Club Sponsor.

Norietta Miller: English 11 B & C, Speech, Creative Writing, Literary Journal.

Donna Oliver: Business Law, Introduction to Business, Keyboarding, World History.

Rick Penn: Yearbook, English 10C, College Seminar, Government, Man and Values, Newspaper, Head Baseball Coach, Asst. Basketball Coach, Senior Class Sponsor, English Department Chairperson.

Rick Quarles: Band, Color Guard, Show Choir.

Donnetta Ratliff: Clothing 1, 2, 3, 4, Housing, Family Relations, Family Management, Infant Care, Child Care, Girls' Golf Coach, Home Economics Dept. Chairperson.

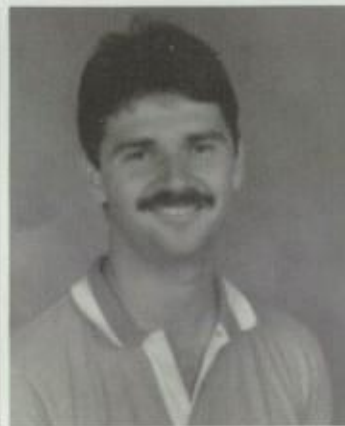

Bill Rice: Informal Geometry, Physics, Introductions to Physics, Math 5.

Teresa Riggs: Algebra 2, Computer Programming 1, Consumer Math, Senior Class Sponsor.

Todd Salkoski: Algebra I, Introduction to Algebra, Head Football Coach, Boys' Golf Coach, "S" Club Sponsor, FCA Sponsor, Sophomore Class Sponsor.

Barbara Shelton: Librarian, Library Club Sponsor.

Mark Short: Geometry, Informal Geometry, Computer Programming I, Asst. Cross Country Coach, Asst. Track Coach

Taking a moment from mixing materials for her art students, Mrs. Carolyn Thomas smiles for the camera. Mrs. Thomas's students have consistently been recognized for their creative talents.

Using the proper technique is essential to prevent injuries while lifting weights. Coach Bomholt discusses the procedures that will be followed in his class.

TEACHERS REACT TO EDUCATION REFORMS

ARE YOU IN FAVOR OF ADDING DAYS TO THE SCHOOL YEARS?

Mr. Salkoski: Yes, think of how much more we could do if we had ten extra days. There is always at least one chapter in the algebra book that we don't get to because we run out of time.

Dr. Counciller: No, students have great difficulty completing the assignments now required of them. Prolonging the time will not diminish "spring fever" and the desire to be out of school.

Mrs. Oliver: If necessary, yes.

Miss Underwood: No, actually I think no more learning will take place.

Mr. Bomholt: No, I don't think any additional days would further the value of our educational process. I think instead we should concentrate on improving the quality of the days we already attend.

Mr. Lautzenheiser: No, Where are you going to get the money to pay teachers, custodial staff, utilities, cafeteria workers, bus drivers, and so forth for the extra days. Taxes??????

Mrs. Zapf: No, this would be too costly and would not solve the motivational problem that most students exhibit during the year.

DO YOU BELIEVE THAT SNOW DAYS SHOULD BE MADE UP?

Mr. Salkoski: No, I think they should be real.

Dr. Counciller: Yes, under certain circumstances, not necessarily all of them.

Mrs. Oliver: No, how many and when they would be they made up would have to be decided and I might not be in favor of these decisions.

Miss Underwood: No, only if there is an exceptional number such as twenty five then only a percentage made up. I don't think missing a few days of school really makes any difference.

Mr. Bomholt: No, this is something none of us can control — A natural happening. There is no reason to extend the calendar unless it is an extraordinary amount.

Mr. Lautzenheiser: Not really. If the elements are against you a couple of days a year, take a break.

Mrs. Zapf: No, acts of God.

WHAT DO YOU BELIEVE WOULD BE TWO THINGS THAT COULD BE DONE TO IMPROVE EDUCATION IN INDIANA?

Mr. Salkoski: Education in Indiana is fine for those who want to learn and care to learn. You can not make a student care — either they do or they don't. The opportunity is there for everyone, some just take better advantage of it than others.

Dr. Counciller: I have not heard any student say that they are willing to study more or work harder. Everyone is looking for someone else to blame. Our school has made us number one in the world, but in times past students knew that they had to study to attain their goals.

Mrs. Oliver: One thing that would help would be if we could get the general public to value education more. I know that a lot of people do but not enough.

Miss Underwood: Students who cared.

Mr. Bomholt: Competency testing at every level for teachers and students. I think they should issue eight bullets to every teacher at the time he or she gets his or hers license and two bullets for every year thereafter.

Mr. Lautzenheiser: Smaller classes — Wider variety of educational materials.

Mrs. Zapf: We spoon fed the students. We should demand more of them. If they make it, they do. If not, they repeat the course. More parent involvement — if they could see what their sons and daughters in class, sometimes, it might be a rude awakening for them.

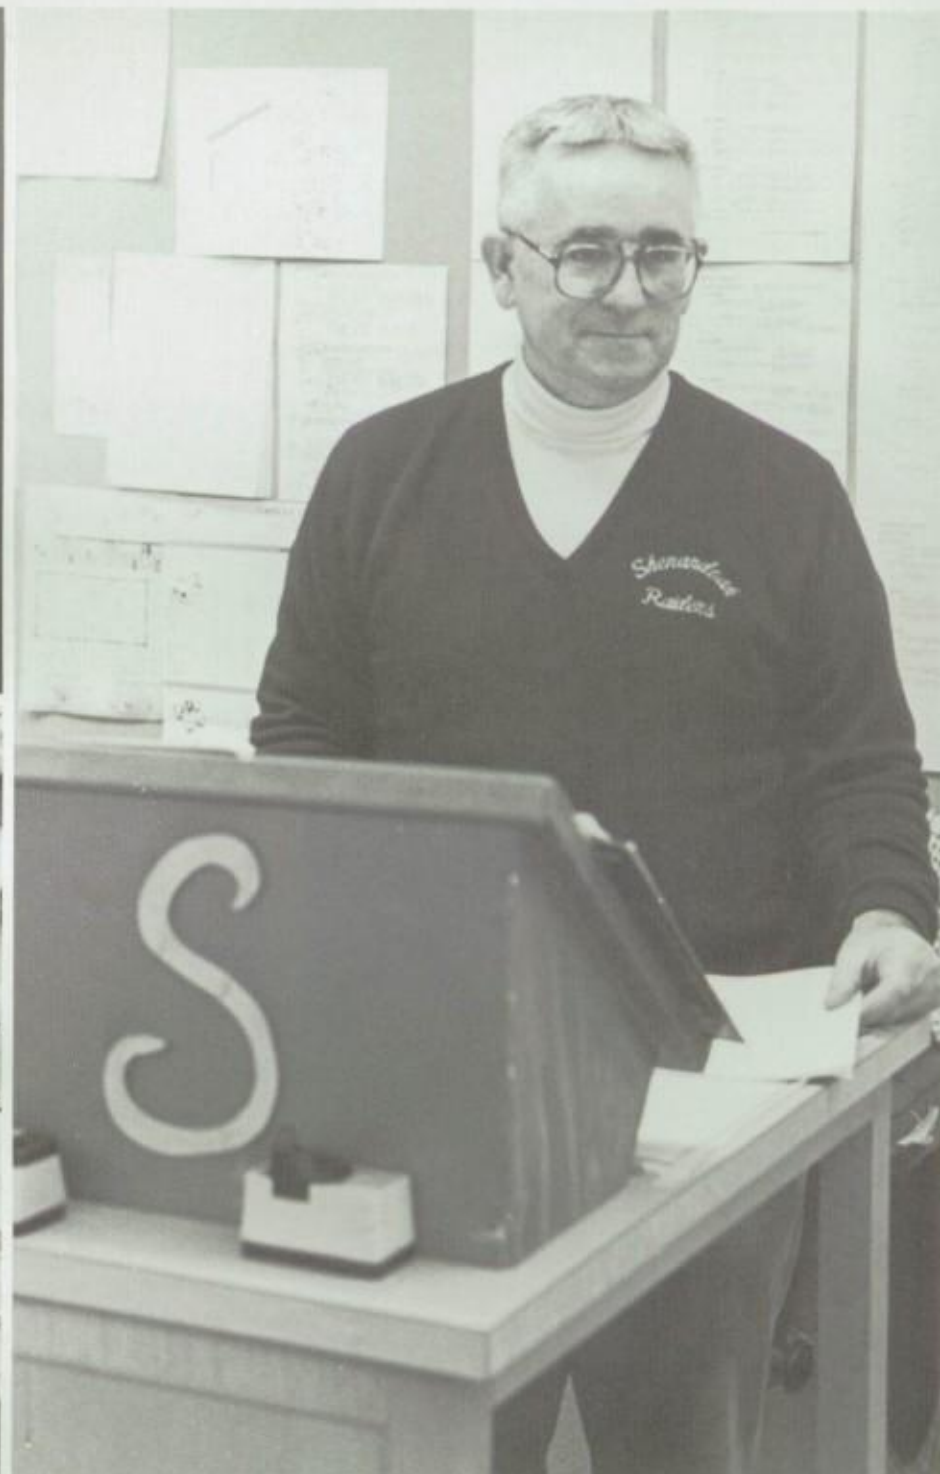

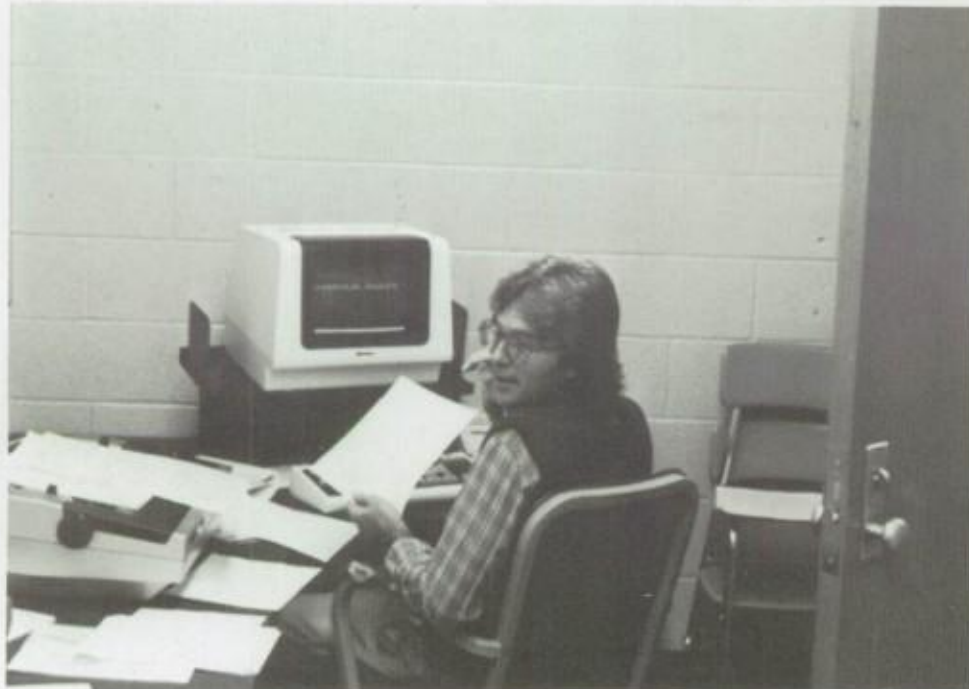

Answering a question from her Advanced Foods class is Mrs. Sharon Stephen. Mrs. Stephen's room is the source of many tasty dishes during the year.

Drill and review are essential to the study of English usage. Mrs. Lighty reviews a section on usage of irregular verbs with her 10A class.

STEPHEN, SHARON: Foods I & II, Orientation To World Workshop, Adv. Foods.
STOKES, NOBLE: Woods I, II, III & IV, Home Maintenance.
THOMAS, CAROLYN: Art I, II, III & Special Adv. Art, NAHS Sponsor, Fine Arts Chairperson.

WISEHART, MARVIN: Drafting I, II, III & IV, Architectural Drawing I, II, III & IV, Industrial Arts Chairperson, Drivers Ed., Assistant Baseball Coach.
YOUNG, JANE: Keyboarding Bus. Major, Shorthand I & II, Production Typing, Word Processing, Office Machines, Business Dept. Chairperson.
ZAPF, MELODY: Math IV, Algebra I, Basic Math, Math Dept. Chairperson.

TEACHERS ENJOY HOBBIES

Most if not all of us have hobbies outside of school which we devote much time and effort to. Not only the students, but teachers too have hobbies that are both interesting and unusual. Many hobbies involve collecting such as coins which is the case of Dr. Councillor and Mr. Smith. Mrs. Zapf shows her fondness for cats in her collection of cat miniatures. Mr. Brown on the other hand, has a varied collection of coffee cups. Mrs. Young and Ms. Riggs share a common interest in their collection of bells. Mr. Lautzenheiser and Mr. Salkoski are sports fans which is apparent in their collection of baseball cards.

Despite his busy schedule, Mr. Rick Penn enjoys public speaking. On this morning, he spoke to seniors on the topic, "If Only Things Were Different."

Taking time out from the structure of their classes are Mrs. Judy Lighty and Mr. Eric Lautzenheiser during the faculty skit at the sectional pep session.

WORKING TOGETHER FOR US

Taking the time to make sure our school grounds are perfectly prepared is Mr. Hayden Ooten.

Probably as much as any group in our school, our staff demonstrates the togetherness that is needed to have the total school function.

Our staff began the day as our bus drivers ran their routes and delivered many of us to school on time through rain or snow. Once we arrived at the high school, we are greeted by clean halls and clean classrooms that reflect the hard work of our custodial and maintenance staff. In the spring and summer, the job is made even more difficult when one thinks of the vast amount of mowing that must be done to keep all of our school grounds looking their best.

Halfway through the school day, we all are ready for the lunch break. Again this year, our cafeteria staff worked very hard to give us meals that we would enjoy. At the close of the school year, we said good-bye to Mrs. Faye Cade who has served for many years as the Food Service Director for Shenandoah High School. Mrs. Cade decided to retire so that she can spend more time with her husband who has also retired. We thank her for all of her efforts and wish her a happy retirement experience.

Modeling their Halloween fashions are our own Cafeteria women.

FRESHMAN FACE A NEW BEGINNING

When the summer is over, all students are faced with the start of another school year. However, when you become a freshman, it is different. You are faced not only with a new year, but with a new school and many new faces. The high school years introduce the freshman to many different activities such as Homecoming, athletic events, after game dances and of course, new classes. The officers of the Class of 1990 hope that our class has shown the spirit and enthusiasm that contribute to a successful school year.

SOPHOMORES FACE NEW RESPONSIBILITIES

With two years of high school behind us, our class officers are working with the class to make our next two years the best ever. The class of 1989 is led by president Perry Carr, Vice President Stormy White, Secretary Shawnda Scott and Treasurer Bill Morre.

Being a sophomore brings more responsibilities like planning on courses needed for graduating, picking a college and thinking of a career. Along with the responsibilities comes things such as getting your drivers license, buying a car and dating that special person.

Sophomore Class Officers: Bill Moore, Treasurer; Stormy White, Vice-President; Mr. Todd Salkoski, Sponsor; Shawnda Scott, Secretary; Perry Carr, President.

JUNIORS SHOWCASE RADISSON

As the Class of 1988 began the school year, they understood our theme "Together We're Better" because they were faced with the traditional responsibilities of hosting the prom. Throughout the year, they raised funds so that the event at the Radisson in Muncie was a rousing success.

The educational reforms passed by the state seemed to influence the juniors as many of them worked on changing their schedules to pursue the new Academic Diploma. As the year ended, juniors were busy making senior picture appointments, looking at future plans and enjoying the accomplishment of finally becoming a senior.

Junior Class Officers: President Franki Zile, Vice-President Christie Jones, Secretary Amy Clapp and Treasurer Michelle Ratliff.

gained membership in Shenandoah's most elite clubs. He has been an active member on the Academic and Spelling Academic Teams. During his Junior summer, Jeff was chosen as a delegate to Boys State. Also during the summer, Jeff had a chance to get acquainted with the nation's most prestigious university. Jeff earned two college credits studying biology at Harvard University.

Togetherness Is A Vital Factor In The Success Of Our Athletic Teams.

In athletics, teamwork and dedication are the keys to success. Even if competing individually, an athlete needs a coach and teammates to win.

There are always highs and lows in sports, but all the great achievements are reached by the help of others. Many coaches have contributed much time and effort to each season they have coached their team to victory. Every individual on a team, whether a player or a manager, must contribute 100% for a team to achieve their greatest hopes. Even the fans are a vital part of the success of Shenandoah Athletics. Without the support of everyone, Raider sports would not be as strong as they are today.

In every sport there is the need for

SECTIONAL CHAMPS:

Raiders Lose Heartbreaker To Whitko

After the 1985 season in which the Raider gridders finished the regular season undefeated at 8-0, they still felt the disappointment of a loss to Hagerstown in the final game of the sectional. As the 1986 season began, the coaching staff and the players were dedicated to the goal of winning a sectional championship.

The season began with two opening wins, but we were soundly defeated by New Palestine which denied us the opportunity to defend the BBRC championship we won in 1985. The team rebounded, however, to win a hard fought homecoming contest against Tri-High. On a muddy field after a driving rain and playing without Todd Shaw, the squad lost an overtime game to Knightstown. But after losing their second straight game of the season in a loss to Frankton, the team regrouped and won the final two games of the regular season.

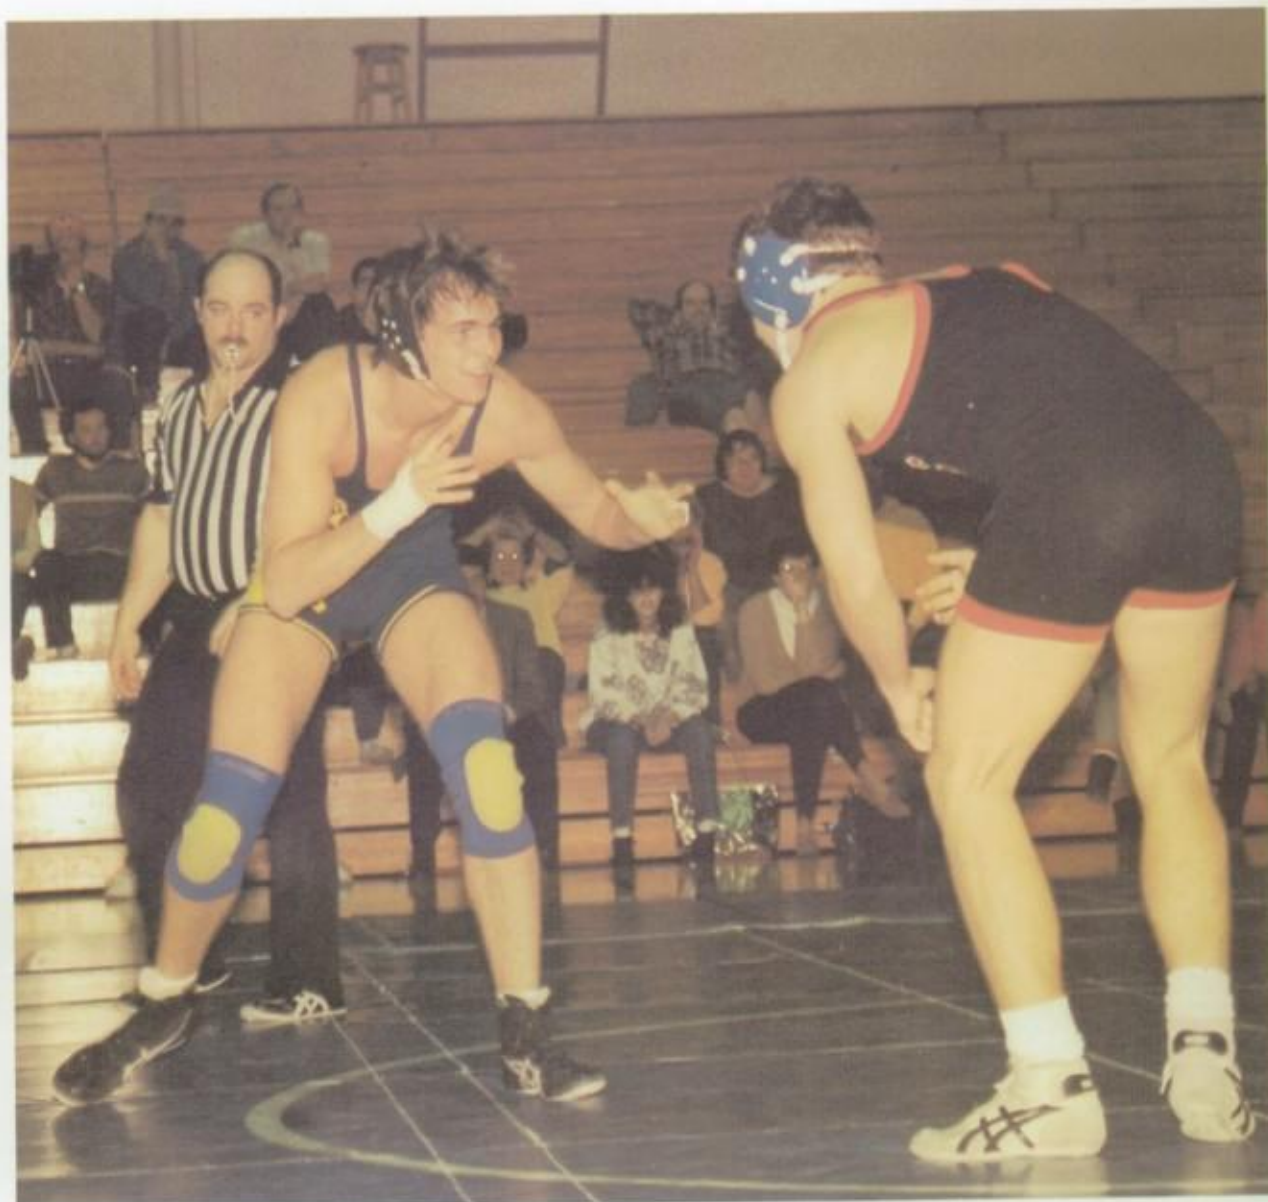

They opened sectional play with a smashing defeat of Northeastern Wayne by a margin of 48-0. Then they traveled to Cambridge City where they received inspired play from ill senior co-captain John Prough and rallied to post a 10-6 victory. In the final game of the sectional, senior co-captain and all time Raider rushing leader finished a great career before the home crowd as the Raiders defeated Union County to claim the school's first football sectional championship.

In the regional, the gridders came within a few seconds of advancing to the state finals as they lost to eventual 2A State Champion Whitko 21-20. The squad battled the long trip and the extremely cold weather to hold a commanding lead at the end of three quarters, but Whitko rallied for three touchdowns in the final quarter to win the game and end a great Raider season. Despite the loss, the Raiders had gone one step farther than before. To conclude the great year, Todd Shaw was selected as a member of the 2A All-State Team.

Facing off with his opponent, David Hamm seeks another win. David won the sectional in his weight class.

Heavyweight David Ebbert anticipates the official's call of a pin that will give him another victory.

BLENDING YOUTH AND EXPERIENCE:

Animals Post Best Winning Percentage.

In a year that began with the announcement that this would be Coach Cronk's final year at the helm of "The Animals", the team worked together as Coach Cronk and new assistant coach Eric Lautzenheiser blended some talented newcomers and some seasoned veterans into a formidable squad of wrestlers.

The wrestlers had the best winning percentage of any of Coach Cronk's teams as they won six of their first seven dual meets with only a loss to New Castle blemishing the record. The next meet was in Coach Cronk's view "the highlight of the season as we beat Anderson Highland for the first time."

One of the disappointments of the year was the third place finish in the BBRC after we had defeated all of the conference teams on our schedule in dual meets. However, at this point in the season, the squad was battling illness and injuries.

The team regrouped and placed a strong second to New Castle in the sectional. David Hamm had an excellent tourney performance, but he was forced to withdraw from semi-state competition due to an injury.

A very positive note for the wrestling program was the announcement by Coach Cronk that he had reconsidered his retirement decision and would return to lead "The Animals" into another year of competition. Under his leadership, our wrestling program will continue to be one of the most competitive in our area.

After a great career with the Animals Coach Kelly Cronk reconsidered an earlier decision and will return for another season.

SECTIONAL CHAMPS:

Girls' Post Greatest Season In History

The Shenandoah girls volleyball team had an outstanding season with 25 wins and 2 losses. These statistics include victories at the Brown County Tourney, Henry County Tourney, Sectional and Regional. The Raiders started off with three consecutive wins. In the fourth game the Raiders just fell short of a victory over New Castle. The games following that all proved to be victorious. One of the highlights of the season included the Brown County Tourney in which the Raiders pulled many victories over Decatur, Edinburg and Brown County. By far the greatest achievement of the Raiders was the victory in winning the first sectional title in girls volleyball. The girls won the first game against our rivals, New Castle. The second game was another win over Knightstown which made the Raiders the 1986 Volleyball Sectional Champs.

The Regional came the week following the sectional. The Raiders first match was unfortunately the loss which put them out of the regional competition. The game was against the Richmond Red Devils and the Raiders put up a fight but just couldn't pull through. The victories the Raiders have had in the overall season outshine their two losses a great deal. The volleyball team is excited and looking forward to the 1987 season with expectations to improve their outstanding record.

A NEW BEGINNING:

Girls' Participate In Meets For The First Time

Shenandoah's Varsity and Reserve Harriers, under the guidance of first year coach Doug Wilder, continued the strong Raider tradition of fine cross-country teams by posting an outstanding 7-1 dual meet record in 1986. In addition, they finished 2nd in the Henry County Invitational, 3rd in the B. B. R. C., 4th in the Rushville Invitational, and 5th in the Union City Invitational. They finished 11th in the sectional. The Raiders were led by sophomore Phil Carper, with excellent support from Dale Manis, Perry Carr, Brian Seward, and Corey Hale.

The Raider Cross-Country team experienced something different this season when they were joined in practice and competition by Shenandoah's first two female runners, Amy Ireton and Missy Phelps. Amy, a sophomore, and Missy, a junior, ran as "exhibition status" runners in the boy's meets so they could legally participate in the girl's sectional. They were also able to compete in three girl's invitational and two dual meets where, against Elwood, Amy became the first Raider female in S. H. S. history to bring home a first place blue ribbon.

The Raiders are now looking forward to a strong 1987 season when they will return five of their eight runners from 1986. And, Amy and Missy look forward to 1987 in hopes of attracting at least five more girls to the program so they can have a full girl's squad.

FRESHMAN FOOTBALL:

Reserves and Frosh Gain Experience

The freshman team ended their season at 3-3 under their new coach, Mr. Lautzenheiser. Their first home game against New Palestine, they lost 30 to 0. In their next two games, they came back and beat Hagerstown and Triton Central by the scores of 13-0, 8-6. Their final game against Pendleton, they lost 8-32. In the reserve season, their record was 4-1. Their only loss was against Lapel which was in their first game.

The freshman and reserve teams are preparing themselves for the varsity action they're sure to face in their later school years. Coach Hess feels that with hard work in the weight room over the summer and continued hard work in practice that many of these players will contribute to the varsity program.

GAINING EXPERIENCE

Young players show promise for the future.

Without a senior player on the squad, Coach Donnetta Ratliff knew that her young team would struggle some this season. However, the girls managed to improve throughout the year and posted a very respectable 6-7 record against strong competition.

At the sectional meet, the team placed fifth against a very strong field. Amy Clapp and Anne Gilkison tied for the third position for the individual regional qualifier position. In a playoff, Amy defeated Anne to gain a chance to play in the regional.

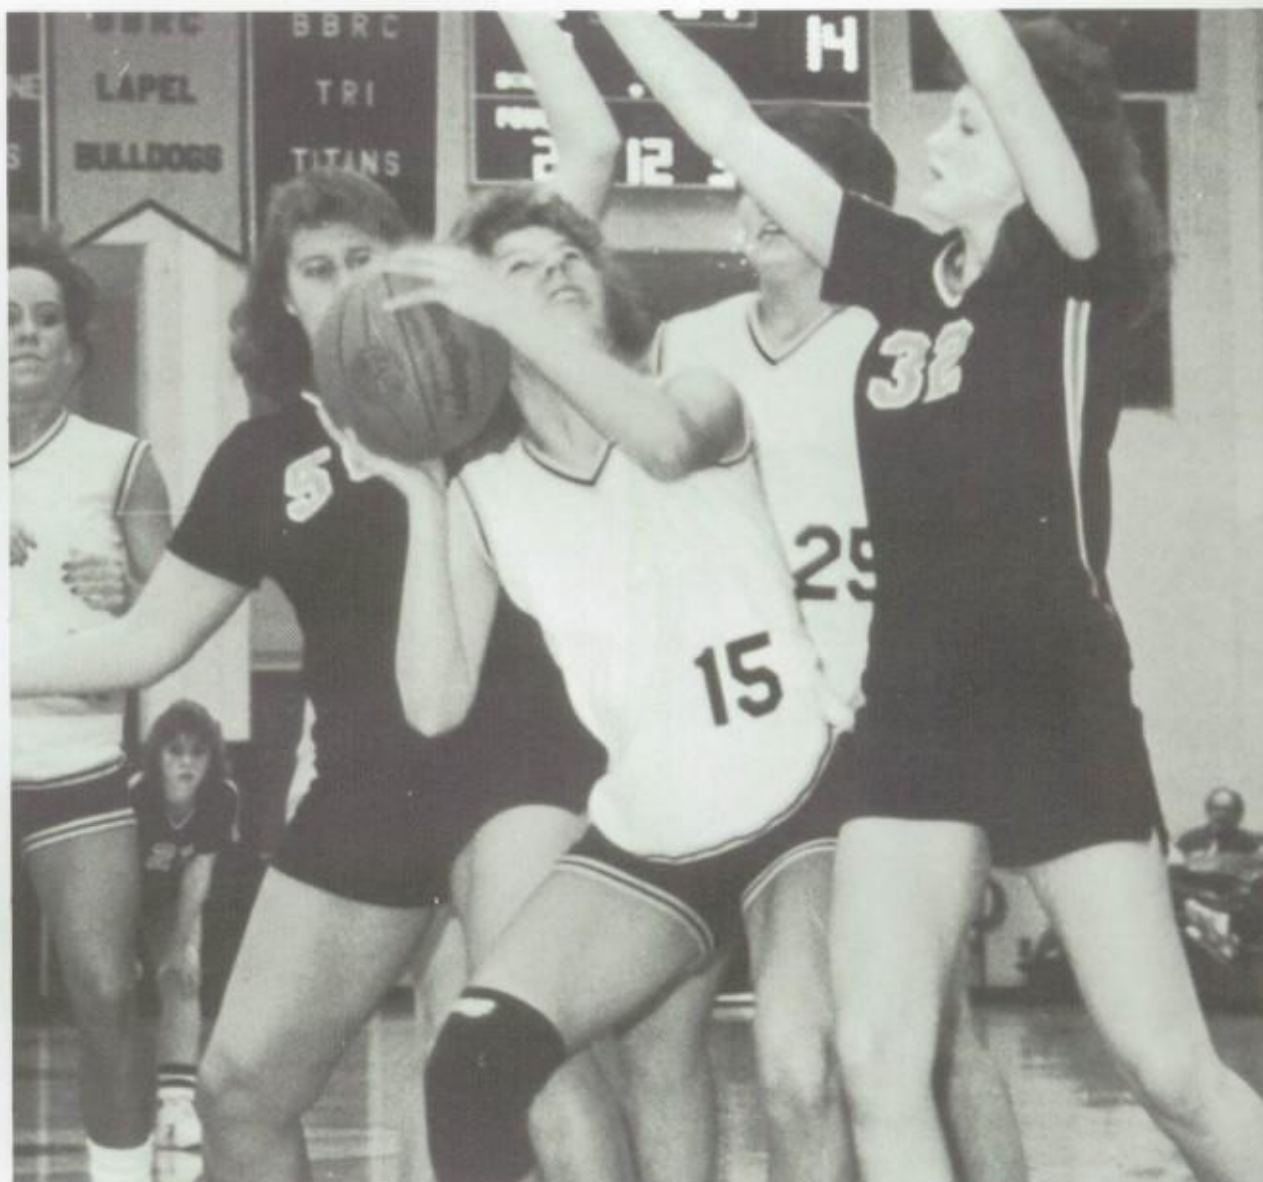

Since her young team improved throughout the season, Coach Ratliff was very optimistic about the 1987-1988 season. She felt that with the returning experienced players plus some new talent entering the program that the Raider girls' golfers would be very competitive in the future.

Using body language, Anne Gilkison attempts to persuade her putt into the practice cup.

Powering the ball up in heavy traffic, Kelli Bullock looks for two more points.

Using her quickness on the dribble, Shonita Flamion makes a move on her defender.

Trying to make the pass into the post, Stormy White steps around the defensive player as she looks for her teammate.

With her arms high in the air, Annette Gilkison demonstrates good defensive technique.

GAINING EXPERIENCE:

Young golfers have a promising future.

Despite a losing record of 7-12, the girls' reserve team coached by Ms. Cindy DeBord could point out several highlights that could lead one to consider the season a relative success. Working with a new coaching staff with some new and different philosophies proved to be difficult in the early season as the team struggled and lost their first five games. After that slow start, the team rebounded to split their last fourteen games.

After the five game losing streak, the team began to pull together with wins over Muncie South, Muncie North and Eastern Hancock. The next game may have been the highlight of the season. The New Castle Trojans provided the opposition, but the reserve players were equal to the task as they defeated their arch rival Trojans by a score of 29-25. In this game, Stormy White had 11 points and Kelli Bullock added 9 for the victorious cause.

After the win over New Castle, the girls continued to play well with a win over Delta. Their final win of the season was over Morristown with Stormy White scoring 10 points followed by Shonita Flamion with 5 points. The girls' then lost their final five games of the season, but Coach DeBord felt that they continued to show improvement in their play.

One of the other highlights of the season was the varsity girls' win in the sectional. Many girls who played on the reserve team dressed and practiced for the sectional and regional. This winning experience combined with a desire to work on their game in the off-season will pay dividends for the girls' basketball program in the future.

With perfect form, Amy Gilkison shoots to score as Anne Gilkison sprints for rebounding position.

Deeply concentrating, Senior Shelley Jennings eyes the rim preparing for a foul shot as Franki Zile looks on.

Through the arms of the defense, Stacey Wilson powers the ball up for two.

Anne Gilkison looks for assistance from teammate Dawn Coon.

SECTIONAL CHAMPS:

Raider ladies win first ever title

Starting with prosperity, then to near disaster, and finishing by making history, the Raider Girls Varsity Basketball team had a year filled with adversity. This year's team became the first ever Shenandoah girls team to win a basketball sectional and compete in a Regional.

The Raiders began their season with a big win over Blue River, but were unable to win again until mid-season against Muncie South, Muncie North and Eastern Hancock. Then the Raiders fell once again into a short slump, until they met Frankton. In double overtime, the team played an excellent game and edged out a 46-42 victory over Frankton. Shelley Jennings led with a high score of 24 points. The Raiders ended regular season play with a victory over Lapel ending with a 6-13 record.

Entering the Sectional, the Raiders drew a first round by playing Blue River, whom they had previously beaten. After defeating the Vikings once again, the Raiders advanced to the final game against Union. Trailing by three at the half, the Raiders pulled together for a 53-46 win and a first ever Sectional Championship.

They next advanced to the Anderson Regional to play a strong Highland team. In a tough game the Raiders were beaten by the Scots who later traveled to the state finals.

After the suspension of Varsity Coach Sheri Turner with two games and the Sectional remaining, the girls realized they had to overcome their struggles and work together. With the help of coaches Todd Sal-koski, Rick Penn, Dan Noel, Marvin Wishart, and Cindy DeBoard, the team was able to accomplish the Sectional victory to add a fine finish to the season.

With the loss of Seniors Shelley Jennings, Dawn Coon, and Shannon Benfield, next year's team will have to work hard and play together to remain prosperous. Congratulations to the team and good luck for next year.

Leaping high, Shelley Jennings tries for two more during the Sectional Championship.

Shooting over Lapel's defense to score for the Raiders is Randy Fish.

Looking for an open man under the basket is point guard Rusty Connor.

Brian Moore has no trouble taking an easy jump for two "more" points.

Surrounded by defensive players, Mike Turner has a tough shot to the basket.

FROSH SHOW IMPROVEMENT

Winning BBRC Tourney highlights season

Since it was their first year of high school basketball, the freshmen did their best to make the most of it. The boys ended the season with the best record, 13-6, that they have achieved as a group.

Rebounding from their loss to New Castle in the New Castle Tournament, which was held at Shenandoah because of weather conditions, the Raiders did an outstanding job winning the Big Blue River Conference Tournament. After beating Lapel, 29-25, in the first round, they were up to face a tough team from Knightstown. Fortunately fate was on their side and they slipped by the Panthers with a score of 29-27. Next came the final round of the tournament. Facing Morristown, instead of slipping, the Raiders cruised by the Yellowjackets with the game ending with a score of 50-26.

Several freshmen led the team in excellent statistical standings.

John Egger did an exceptional job leading the Raiders in freethrow percentage, total points, and offensive and defensive rebounds. Both Brian Moore and Mike Turner shared the highest field goal percentages. Rusty Connor had the most assists for this year's freshmen squad.

Reflecting on his first year of coaching after a very successful playing career, Coach Burgess stated: "It sure was different than playing. At times I found myself wishing that I could go on the floor and play in key situations. I was very proud of our players. They worked hard and their improvement enabled them to post their best record since they have been playing. It will be very important that they work hard throughout the year to improve their skills so that they can play at the reserve and varsity level in the future."

Concentrating hard to make an important free throw is John Egger who lead the team in free throw percentage.

Shooting from the line, Mike Burris prepares to add another point to the Raider score.

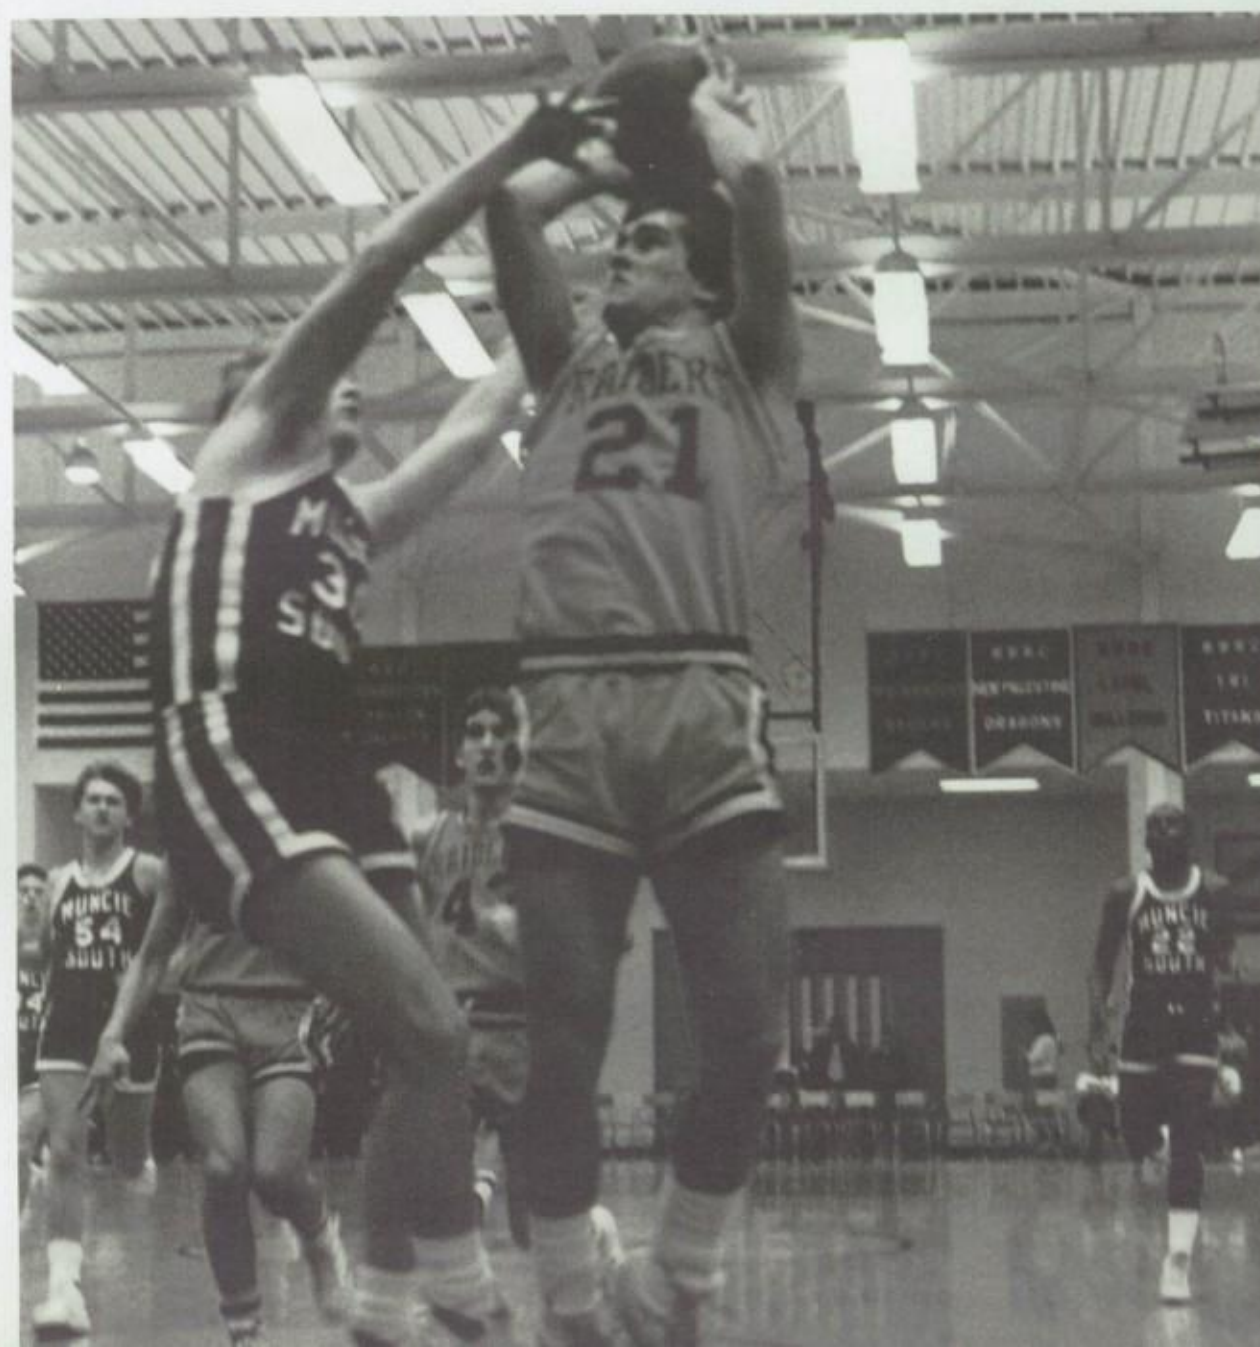

Over outreached hands, David Goyette goes up through traffic.

Jim York fights for a rebound while being smashed by a Muncie South player.

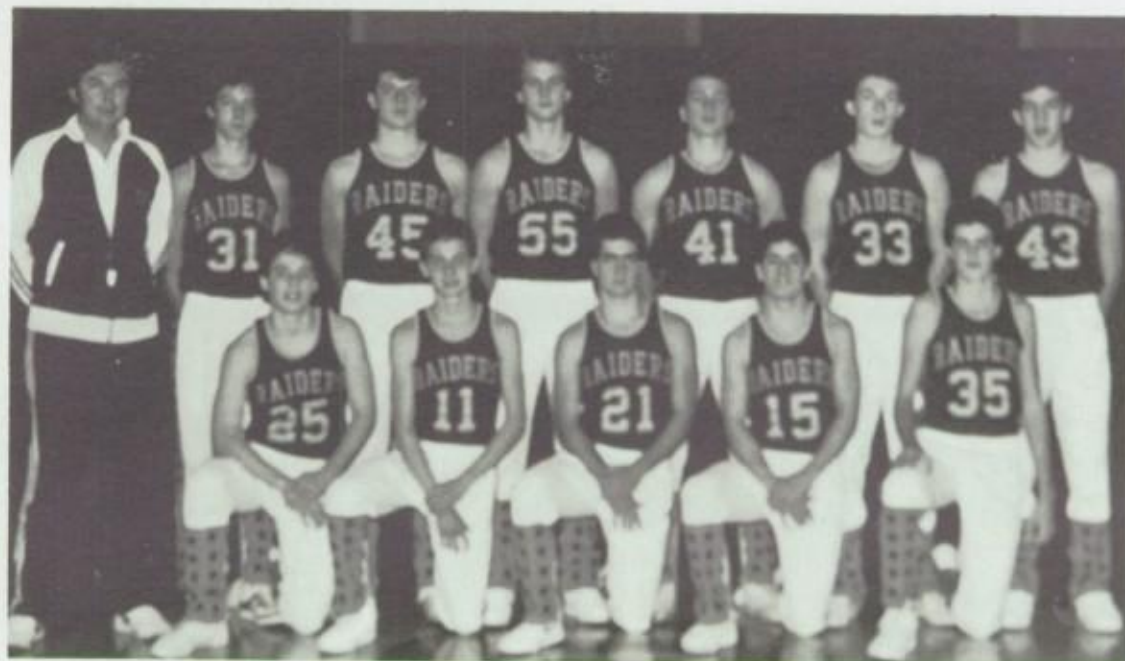

Driving in the paint, Scott McCambridge fights for a basket.

WINNING SEASON:

Reserves set free throw record.

With the varsity experiencing some difficulties early in the season due to changing line ups, it was very difficult for the junior varsity squad to develop any consistency. However, the players worked hard and played well together and were able to post a 4-5 record for the first half of the season.

After the Noblesville game, the varsity situation was much more stable and this enabled the junior varsity to begin to find an established style of play. This element of consistency enabled the team to win seven of their last eleven games and post an 11-9 mark for the year. This marked the ninth straight year that Coach Rick Penn's teams have posted winning records.

In Coach Penn's view some of the outstanding performances included wins over Muncie North, Muncie South, and Yorktown. He commented that "the comeback in the last ten minutes of the Yorktown game was as well as we've played since I've been JV coach. I also felt that the four quarter effort against Muncie South was one of our best efforts in a few years."

One of the keys to the team's success was the offensive balance displayed by six players averaging between 5.5 points per game and David Goyette's team leading average of 8.1 points per game. The reserves also shot 66% from the free throw line which was the best in Coach Penn's nine year tenure.

As the school year ended, it was announced that Coach Bomholt had resigned to accept the post at Columbia City and that Coach Penn would replace him. Reflecting on that fact and his junior varsity experiences, Coach Penn remarked: "I feel very fortunate to have the opportunity to follow the legacy of coaches in the history of Raider basketball. I have been very happy with the JV program (124-56) in the last nine years. It is imperative that our players play as much as they can the year around so that we can continue and build on the Raider basketball tradition.

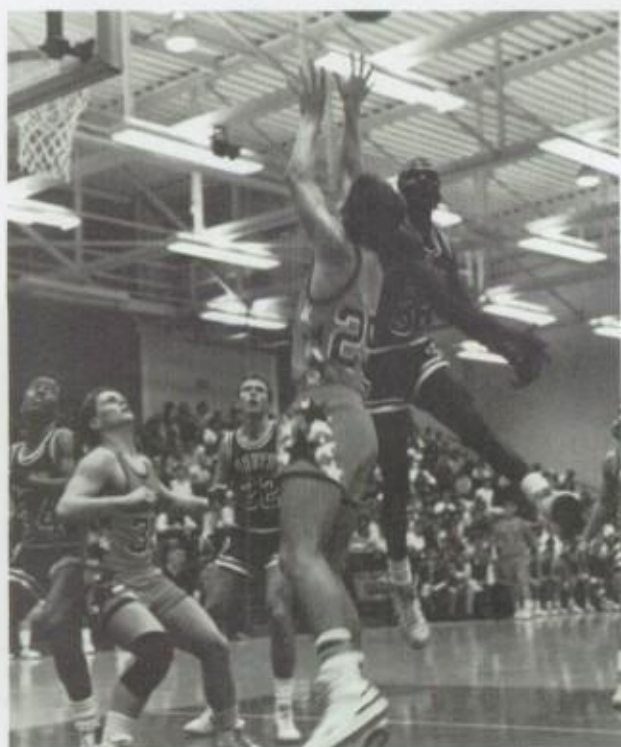

Sophomore Jason Hornaday puts up another shot without being contested.

Going up strong with both hands, John Prough pulls down the defensive rebound against Lapel as Tim Carter blocks out his man.

The scoreboard reflects the sad tale as the Raiders lose the final game of the sectional to Knightstown.

With a nice move inside, Mike Murdock puts the ball softly over the outstretched arm of the Muncie South defender.

Using his size and strength, Tim Carter muscled for two as John Prough and Parrish Gross battle for offensive rebounding position.

TWO DIFFERENT SEASONS:

After slow start, team finishes strong.

In a season that could best be described as really two seasons, the Raiders finished strong as they became a very formidable squad. The early part of the season was a disaster. Despite playing good defense and playing very hard, the team struggled to a 1-8 record. But to the credit of the people in the program, they kept working and knew that their hard work would eventually pay off.

After the loss to Noblesville, the Raiders regained the services of junior Tim Carter. Carter's return enabled Coach Bomholt to now have a consistent unit and this line up proceeded to win eight of their next eleven games to finish the regular season at 9-11. During this stretch of excellent basketball, the key game was probably the Lapel game as the Raiders dominated both ends of the floor and posted a 68-50 victory. This win enabled the team to tie for the BBRC championship with Knightstown. Also this game marked a milestone for Coach Bomholt as it gave him his one hundredth varsity coaching win.

The team entered the tournament with optimism and opened play with a hard fought win over New Castle. In the second game of the sectional, New Castle was again in evidence due to the fact that both teams had gold uniforms, the Raiders had to change into Trojan white jerseys to defeat Monroe Central. The final game against Knightstown continued the string of disappointing losses to the Panthers as they prevailed 56-53.

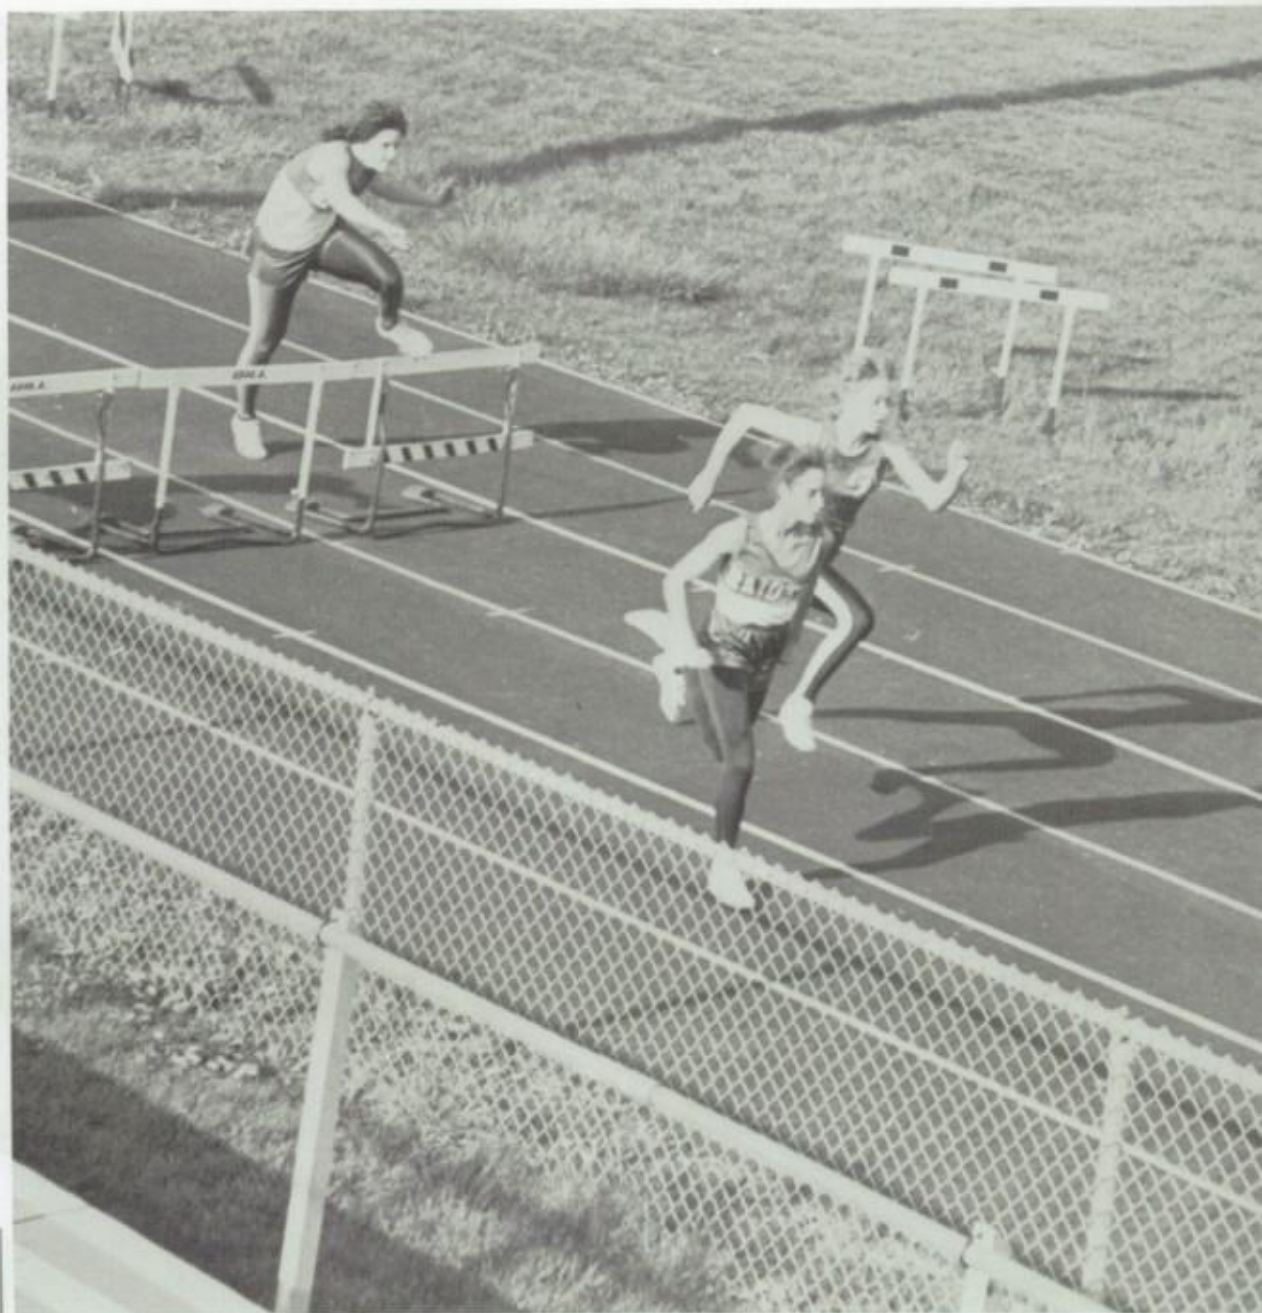

After the season, Coach Jerry Bomholt resigned and accepted the head coaching position at Columbia City. In his two years, Coach Bomholt's teams posted a 22-22 record. The Raider staff would like to wish both Coach Bomholt and his family good luck.

Coming up strong with the soft touch for the layup is Todd Shaw. Shaw concluded four years of varsity play as the team's MVP and leading scorer for the year.

Striving towards the finish line in the 100 meter hurdles are Jennifer Goodwin and Franki Zile.

Psyching herself to put the shot is junior track member Franki Zile.

Panting her way around the track during the 3200 is first-year team member Suzanne Hallmann.

Stacy VanCour leaps over the high jump bar to score for the Raiders.

GAINING EXPERIENCE:

Girls' set many new records.

Although the girls' track season record was 7-9, the season turned out to be successful. In the Big Blue River Conference meet, the girls finished fifth out of eight teams. In that meet, Terri Reeves set a new conference meet record in the shot put. Amy Ireton finished second in both the 1600 and the 800 meter runs setting school records in both events. Jennifer Goodwin finished third in the 300 meter hurdles, also setting a new school record.

Five of the girls qualified for sectional. Among these girls are Amy Ireton, Jennifer Goodwin, Terri Reeves, Betty Reeves, and Franki Zile. Amy finished second in the 800 and Terri Reeves finished third in the shot put. Both girls went on to compete in the regional track meet held at Fort Wayne.

There were six new records set this year. Among these records and their setters are the 800 meters in 2:29.9 and the 1600 meters in 5:45. The holder of both records is Amy Ireton. Terri Reeves set a new shot put record with a throw of thirty-eight feet, six and one half inches. Jennifer Goodwin set records in the 100 meter hurdles, 15.8, and the 300 meter hurdles, 49.3. The 1600 meter relay team, consisting of Jennifer Goodwin, Amy Ireton, Stephanie and Stacy VanCour, also set a new record with a time of 4:28.

Coach Sherry Underwood is left to pick up her track team's equipment after practice.

Senior Paul Van Cise sprints toward the finish of the high hurdles for a first place as Dale Griggs fights for second.

Skimming the bar, Perry Carr clears the high jump.

Shane Sheady endures the 3200 meter run, while pushing himself enough to stay ahead of his opponent.

Leaping through the air, Ken Mullins stretches for a competitive distance.

NEW COACHING STAFF:

Raider runners continue the great track tradition.

Along with the new season, a change in coaching came for the boys' track team. After the retirement of Mr. Green, Mr. Wilder took over the position of head coach with Mark Short and Troy Burgess as assistants. Along with a change in coaching, there was also a loss of some key Seniors. The team, however, was able to overcome this loss and turn in a fine season.

After starting slowly, the team cranked up for a mid-season rally with many wins and two very close losses. The team, also, had many outstanding performances at the conference meet and came home with an overall 3rd place.

This year's team had two individuals who set three new records. Senior Corey Hale broke the 800 meter run record that was set in '82. Phil Carper joined Corey in the record book by breaking both the 1600 meter and the 3200 meter runs.

The Raiders also had many qualifiers for the Sectional held at Muncie Central. First year member Ronnie Conner qualified for the 200 meter, long jump, and the 400 meter relay along with teammates Rob Prewett, Kent Roberts, and Dale Griggs. Griggs also qualified for the high jump. Paul VanCise qualified in both the 110 meter hurdles and the 300 meter hurdles. Distance runners Corey Hale, in the 800 meter, and Phil Carper, in the 3200 meter, also qualified. Phil placed a respectable 6th while Corey placed 5th and will advance to the Regional.

This year's team gave many thrilling performances and a lot of dedication. The future appears to hold a lot for coming Raider teams.

REEDY — STATE FINALIST:

Golfers enjoy a winning season.

Waiting out a rain delay, Jim Worrell practices his putting stroke on the carpet in the Valley View Club House.

With some returning experienced players, Coach Todd Salkoski anticipated that this year's edition of Raider golfers would be very competitive. Due to good competition among squad members, Coach Salkoski was able to juggle his varsity players to give a number of different golfers experience and a chance to compete.

This inner competition led to improved play among all golfers which was an important factor in the team posting a 9-5 record in dual meets. One of the disappointments during the year was the play of the team in the BBRC meet as they placed fifth.

In the sectional, the team again placed fifth, but they narrowly missed qualifying for the regional as a team. However, Mark Reedy's play was good enough for him to advance to regional play. In the regional, Mark played one of the best rounds of his high school career which enabled him to play in the state finals. In the state meet, Mark did not play as well as he had, but his play to reach that level was a great accomplishment.

Fielding the ball cleanly, shortstop Amy Dietrich throws the ball to first for the out.

Stretching to meet the throw from third baseman Amy Gilkison, first baseman Mary Carter demonstrates her excellent fielding skills.

Concentrating on hitting the ball where it is pitched is senior slugger Marcie Card.

With her eyes on her catcher's target, Stephanie Lloyd begins to deliver the next pitch.

SECTIONAL CHAMPS:

Girls gain state wide recognition.

As the softball season began, the coaching staff of Jim Hess and Roger Murdock and the girls were determined to regain the sectional crown that they had lost to New Castle during the 1985-1986 season. After the long pre-season which consisted of workouts in the gym scheduled around outside practices depending on the weather, the team opened play on a strong note as they won their first eleven games. This winning streak enabled the team to be ranked in the top ten in the state by coaches in a statewide poll.

Shortly after this ranking, a key game in the state took place as our girls traveled to Greenfield to play the number two team in the state. In a game that deserved the attention it was given, our girls lost a hard fought battle in extra innings by the score of 6-5. Despite the loss, our coaches and team knew that they had the ability to play with any team in the state.

After this loss, they rebounded to post a six game winning streak. Then in a unique tourney preceding the state tournament, our girls hosted a five inning or two hour double elimination tourney which included twelve area teams. Despite playing well, our girls finished third as they lost twice to New Castle.

Also, our newly formed reserve team coached by Mr. Larry Huse were entered in this tourney. They played well as they did throughout their first season and defeated some varsity teams. Coach Hess felt that the reserve program will enhance the always strong softball program.

With the sectional loss last year, the team entered the tourney with a tremendous desire to win and they began play with decisive wins over Richmond and Muncie North. Then in a rain-delayed championship game, our girls regained their sectional crown by defeating Pendleton. This win set up a rematch with Greenfield. However, in the opening game of the regional, Greenfield again prevailed and ended a tremendous year.

TOURNAMENT CHAMPS:

Reserves post impressive record.

Since Coach Rob Robbins has directed the fortunes of the Raider reserve program, these young teams have been very successful. This season was no exception as the team won ten of twelve games with only two losses to New Castle to blemish their record. However, later in the season, our reserves behind the excellent pitching of Brian Seward and the bats of Bill Weightman and his offensive teammates were able to defeat the Trojans.

Again this year, the reserves were involved in two tournaments. In the Henry County Reserve Tourney, the team defeated Tri-High and then suffered their first loss of the season to New Castle in the championship game. In May the squad had a chance to reverse its tournament fortunes as they played in the Eastern Hancock Invitational. Again, in the first round, they faced Tri-High and they came away with a 5-0 victory. In the championship game, they defeated Triton Central 8-4 to win this tourney for the fourth straight year.

The success of this team in Coach Robbins's view was that they received excellent play from a number of more experienced players who also saw action on the varsity combined with a strong effort from a group of promising young players. For the most part, he felt that the team was able to dictate its own fate by scoring a number of runs in most of their outings.

Reflecting on the future of these young players, Coach Robbins commented: "Our varsity has had so much success in the last three years with a number of veteran players. After this year, we lose an outstanding group of seniors. It will be a challenge for some of these reserve players to come in and play on the varsity at the high level of expectation that we have for varsity players."

Encouraging his players and reminding them of the situation is Reserve Coach Rob Robbins during the New Castle game.

Senior co-captains in three sports, John Prough and Todd Shaw greet Parrish Gross after his home run put the Raiders in the lead in the sectional championship game.

Pushing hard off the pitching rubber, Todd Cordle fires a fastball in sectional action. Cordle was the winning pitcher in all three sectional games.

Congratulations are in order for Todd Shaw, John Prough and Tim Carter as they cross the plate and wait for Todd Cordle after his grand slam homer against Beech Grove in the semi-state.

Expertly blocking the plate, Parrish Gross applies the tag to the sliding Knightstown runner in the opening game of the sectional.

REGIONAL CHAMPS

Three sectionals in a row!!!

As the baseball season began, the coaches were concerned about two losses. First, the loss of pitcher David Hornaday who moved to New Jersey after posting a 13-0 record his junior year and second, the loss in the regional that kept them from defending their 1985 crown. The team set early goals that they would pull together to overcome the loss of Hornaday and that they would win three sectionals in a row so that they could return to the Richmond Regional.

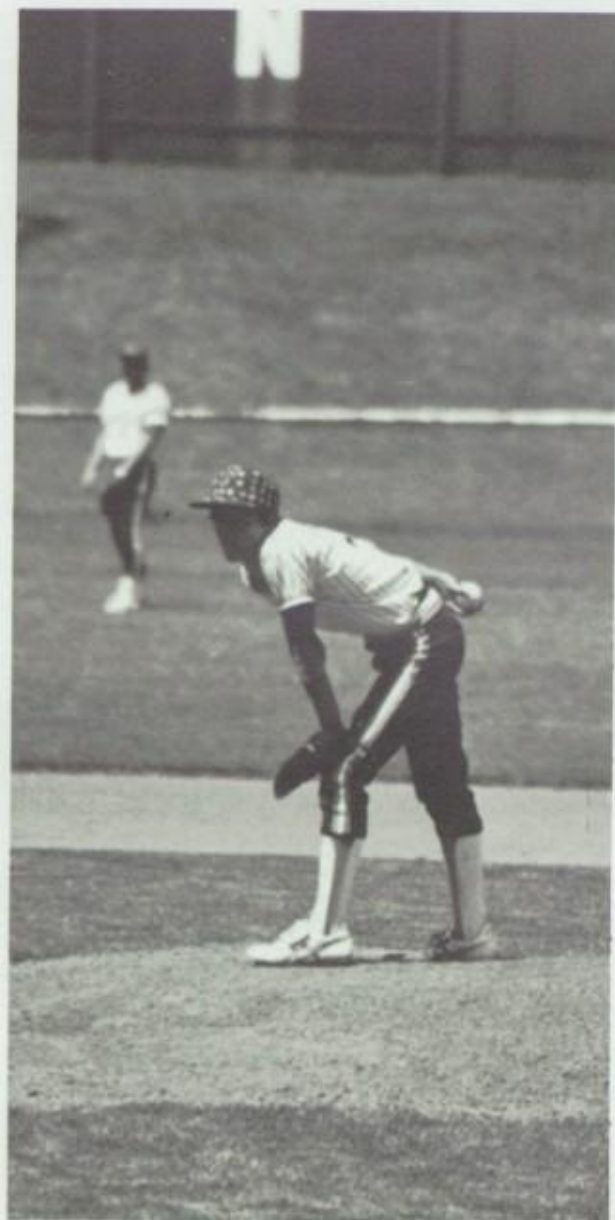

In a difficult season opener, the team lost to Muncie South 4-2 as they allowed three unearned runs. After that loss, the bats began booming and the team won ten straight games. For the second year in a row, they saw their long winning streak end at the hands of the Anderson Indians.

As the team moved into May, they won their second straight Shenandoah Invitational Tourney by edging Lapel and then shutting out Delta in the championship game. Traveling to New Palestine, the squad had won thirteen consecutive games in the conference and by defeating New Palestine they could become undefeated conference champs for the second straight year. However, in a tremendous game, New Palestine came from behind on a two run homer in the bottom of the ninth inning to deny the Raiders the conference championship.

As the team entered sectional play, they were again on a five game winning streak. Knightstown was the first opponent to fall. Then in the expected game of the tournament, the team battled the New Castle Trojans. John Prough hit a long home run to give us the lead and "Woose" Marsh added a two RBI single. Eric Boling in relief of Todd Cordle made the four runs stand up for a 4-3 win. In the championship game, the bats demolished Tri-High 15-0 to give the team their third straight sectional championship which was a first for any team in our school's history.

In the regional, a tremendous rally in the seventh inning against Hagerstown gave the team a chance to avenge their loss to Muncie South. They were up to the task as they defeated the Rebels to win the regional title. As they entered semi-state play, they knew that they were only two games away from their goal of playing in the state finals. Despite a grand slam homer from Todd Cordle, the team could not hold the lead and lost to Beech Grove to end a great season.

Looking for his sign in the Hagerstown game, Eric Boling is ready to challenge the hitter. Boling was selected as the Most Valuable Player in the Richmond Regional.

SPIRIT! SPIRIT! SPIRIT!

With so many of our athletic teams experiencing excellent seasons, coaches continually emphasized the element that our fans played in supporting their teams. However, a key link in that fan support was due to the hard work of our cheerleaders who braved some difficult conditions this year as they carried the Raider spirit throughout the various sporting seasons. Two nights particularly stood out in the minds of the cheerleaders. They said they will never forget the rain and the mud at the Knightstown football game or the bitter cold at the Football Regional at Whitko. But throughout it all, our cheerleaders responded to the challenge and performed their duties in a spirited manner.

During basketball season, the usherettes again were responsible for passing out programs. This year they added two new responsibilities as they provided water and towels to the officials and served as hostesses in the hospitality room. Elected by the Student Council, our mascots led our teams into competition and continued the "Raider" tradition.

Performing during a time-out, the Varsity and Junior Varsity Cheerleaders end their cheer with a mount.

Representing Shenandoah at many events, are Mascots Dawn Coon and Tyler Hamilton.

Varsity cheerleaders are Christie Jones, Amy Dietrich, Anne Gilkison, Shawnda Scott, and Marci Dietrich.

Freshmen cheerleaders include Heather Meyer, Stephani Charleton, Collette Huxford, Rhonda Boram, and Sheiletha Walters.

Freshmen, Junior Varsity, and Varsity all take part in raising spirit during Homecoming.

Junior Varsity cheerleaders are Cheryl Sweigart, Stacy Van Cour, Julie Manis, Becky Downen, and Wendy Graddy.

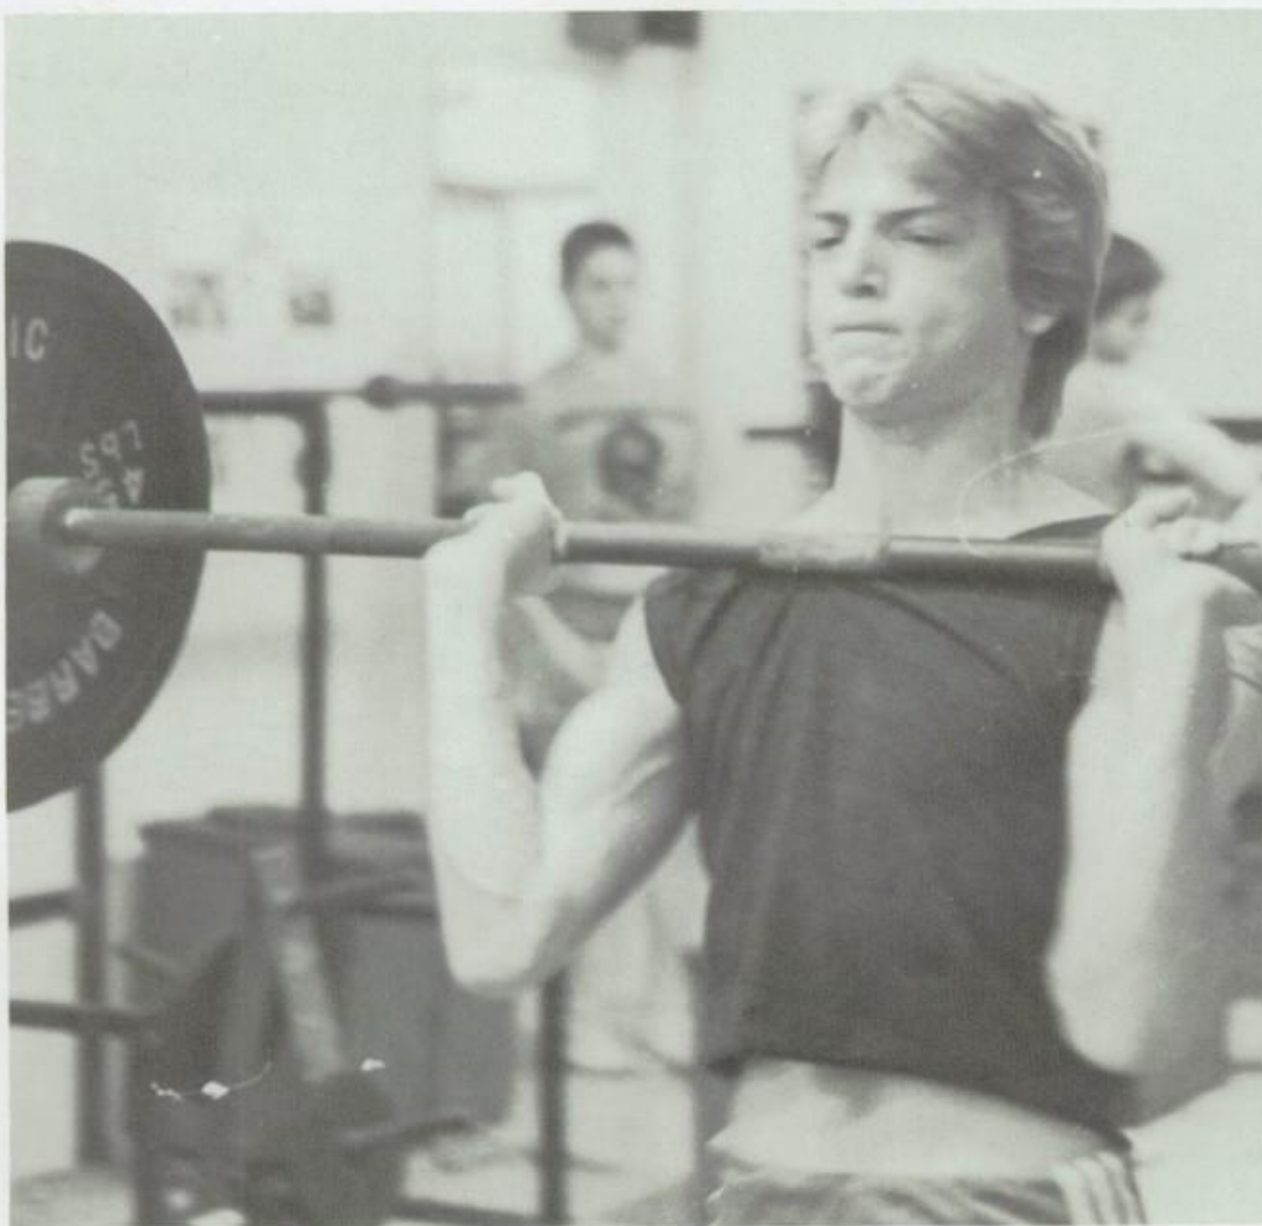

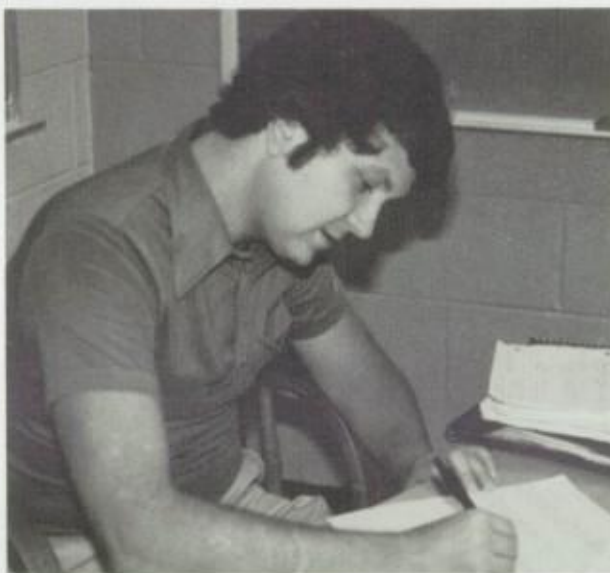

Showing her school spirit is Junior Varsity cheerleader Ann Gilkison.

Usherettes are Sherri Swain, Angie Coulter, Terri Bossman, Mr. Dan Noel, Shannon Benfield, Christy Cronk, and Lori Kendell.

ACADEMICS & CLUBS:

Students aren't the only ones who have homework. Teachers do too, as shown here by Mr. Short.

"No Pain, No Gain" is senior Scott Neal's motto as he attempts to lift the weights above his head.

By Working Together, All Elements Of The School Can Enhance Learning.

The priorities of education today have greatly changed. Schools are pushing students to take more Math, Science, and English. Starting with the graduating class of 1988, students will be required to have 8 credits in English (instead of the usual 6), and 4 credits each in both Math and Science (instead of 2). The need for these classes has been shown by the changing needs of a technological society. For example, four new science courses were developed in place of the old Lab Science.

Lowell Amos ponders over a new bill at Model Legislature in Indianapolis.

After much controversy, Shenandoah has still kept Activity Period. This takes place usually every other Wednesday and cuts out some time between third and fourth period. There are approximately twenty-four clubs to choose from and if a student isn't interested in joining a club, he can have a studyhall.

Clubs and Activities are an important part of SHS. If students, teachers, and administrators all work together to have a good curriculum, we will show that "Together We're Better."

SCIENCE DEPARTMENT CHANGES:

New requirements bring new classes.

In the 1986-87 school year, the science department has added Mr. Lautzenheiser to their staff. He teaches Biology, Basic Earth Science, and sponsors the Biology and Nature Study Club and the junior class.

This year, because of the new two year requirement of science, four new courses were offered. They are: Basic Biology, Basic Chemistry, Basic Physics, and Basic Earth Science. These are all one semester classes that replace lab science.

The Science Department Staff had this evaluation of the changes made.

Dr. Councillor: "Shenandoah

High School has a Science Department that is among the best in the state for a school with an enrollment of 550 students. Presently, a student may attain credit in five major science areas with a total of fifteen possible credits."

Mr. Lautzenheiser: "The variety of courses offered by our department, considering the size of the school, is its most obvious strength. Not having any experience with other schools makes me hesitant to say too much, but I am impressed with number of science credits available from a department so small.

GROUPS PROVIDE STUDENT LEADERSHIP:

Helping others brings people together.

Providing Shenandoah with student body leadership are Student Council officers along with class representatives. The members of Student Council are elected at the end of each school year by their classmates. Student Council participated in many activities throughout the year. This year the organization sent several members to the Indiana Student Council Convention at East Noble High School accompanied by second year sponsor Carol Baker.

Along with Judy Lighty, Mrs. Baker co-sponsors National Honor Society. N.H.S. had their annual toy drive and again it turned out to be a great success. This was just one of the many projects N.H.S. performs for the school and community. To be a member of National Honor Society, you must have an accumulated grade point average of a 10.0 or higher along with good recommendations from the faculty.

IT IS YOUR MOVE:

In an effort to win the game, Dusty Wise makes a strategic move.

Mental concentration is the key to success.

The Chess and Scrabble clubs have grown in the past year due to more time and greater interest in these challenging fields.

While many of our extra-curricular activities seem to be emphasizing the individuals physical development, the Chess and Scrabble Clubs are designed for those students who enjoy a more mental form of competition.

Mr. Meyer and Mrs. Campell sponsor these clubs and meet with the members during activity period. Members pay a small fee to cover the cost of new supplies.

Hopefully next year there will be even more members. Some competition may also be scheduled with other area schools on a round-robin basis.

LOOKING FOR HELP:

Our library is a storage room of information

Need a reference book, an important date, or even the daily newspaper? Why not go to the library. Our library is filled with information from the longest time ago to the nearest future. You can be part of the library by being in Library Club or a Library Aide. The Library Club raises money for new books, decoration, and furniture for our library. The officers are as followed: President — Steffanie Cheap, Vice-President — Jenny Henry, Secretary — Nikki Fadely, Treasurer — Kim Meeks.

You may also be a part of the library by being a Library Aide. They get .5 credits each semester. They also help out the library by checking in and out books, delivering video equipment, and putting books back on the shelves.

Our librarian is Mrs. Barbara Shelton. She will be happy to help you out in anyway. The library is at your disposal, come in and visit.

LEARNING ABOUT LIVING:

Home Ec students learn life-long skills.

The Future Homemakers of America have been very active this year in many different conferences and meetings. They have also been very successful in proficiency events. Last fall they went to Union Station on a fieldtrip, and to Delta for a District Meeting. In the Spring, they hosted a District Meeting and two Shenandoah F.H.A. members were elected as officers. Mary Amos was elected Vice-President and Jenny Henry was elected to the Public Relations position. Eight of the F.H.A. members went to the State Conference and five of them competed in proficiency events. Three of the girls received silver medals in these events. Jenny Henry earned a silver in storytelling, Stephanie Cheap in waitressing and Nikki Fadely in sandwich preparation. This has been a very busy and productive year for F.H.A. and the Home Economics Department.

STATE RECOGNITION:

FFA has another outstanding year.

This year, the Agriculture Department offered a new course, Horse and Pony Production. Students learned the anatomy of the horse, breeds, parts of tack, proper care of horses, parasites and diseases, and horse nutrition. They had opportunities to listen to guest speakers and watch films provided by the American Quarter Horse Association.

This year has been another rewarding one for the FFA. Shane Young replaced Greg Acra as president. They held their annual fruit sale and Young McDonald's Farm for the State hospital. Some members also had the privilege of traveling to Kansas City, Missouri for the National Convention. The Parliamentary Procedures Team also had an outstanding year. They placed first in district competition and second in their sectional. In addition, they were invited to demonstrate their talent for 4-H Junior Leaders in Indianapolis.

PROGRESS IN INDUSTRIAL ARTS:

Computer Graphics
added to drafting program.

This year in the Industrial Arts Department, there was an addition of an Apple IIe, Robo System CAD-2 computer. (CAD = Computer Aided Drafting/Design). It allows students to prepare for use of CAD in industry. CAD automates many of drafting's tedious chores and increases the productivity of a drafter. Mr. Wischart is "very happy and excited about the new CAD System." He feels "drafting and architectural drawing students will benefit from having had the CAD experience."

Also, the Amateur Radio Club was re-activated after being inactive last year. Some activities they participated in included reading morning announcements in the spring and visited radio stations and college audio-visual departments. These were just a few ways Mr. Meyer, sponsor, tried to further the knowledge of the members in the field of radio and television.

Very carefully, Mr. Wischart checks over some papers.

LEARNING TO LIVE TOGETHER:

Social Studies classes learn to interact.

Other than the retirement of history teacher Mr. Dale Green, the Social Studies Department remained relatively the same. This vacancy was filled by Mrs. Joan Campbell. She formerly taught German and English, but now teaches U.S. History, World Geography, Economics and Etymology.

When asked what her favorite assignment was this year, she stated: "I enjoyed the stock market assignment in Economics the most. A lot of students really got involved in it. It was fun to watch the students attempt to make their fortunes during the course of this assignment."

Mrs. Carol Baker, who teaches Sociology, U.S. History and Psychology, tried several new things this year. Sociology students dealt with current social problems such as child and wife abuse, rape, suicide, T.V. and sports violence, and cult activity.

In U.S. History, students became news correspondents and covered some aspect of a war of their choice.

The Psychology class created a pamphlet over a psychological problem or issue.

Government students participated in the election as well as the second annual Raintree Model Legislature. Also, this summer, students could elect to take government.

Taking notes is a major part of U.S. History in Mrs. Baker's class.

"PEANUTS" ON PARADE:

Hard work pays off for the color guard.

The 1986-87 Shenandoah Color Guard experienced a much more than satisfactory season. The winter show including the famous Peanuts characters proved to be a very exciting show for the young and old alike. With the twelve members dressed as Charlie Brown and two extras as Lucy and "Chuck" they all had a party, flew a kite and wrote a book report on Peter Rabbit. At last the long and hard hours of practice came together to produce an award winning show.

The guards hard work did not just begin during the winter. The guard has been working hard since school was out last spring. They attended band camp from noon until late at night for two weeks. During these two weeks they marched countless times up and down the high schools' parking lot in the hot sun to prepare for the field show which they performed during the home football games and at competitions. The outfits and brightly colored flags tied the show together to add the special touch to a long hard season. "I feel we had a terrific season and that everyone had a good time performing the show. We were able to reach many of our goals that we had set out to do. I am very proud of everyone who took part in this years shows. Everyone has worked to their fullest ability" stated. Mr. Quarles.

Amber McCrocklin proudly adds her part to the Russian field show.

Showing that a guard members job is never finished are Amanda Denny, Angela Ellis, Robin Abshire and Chris Ramsey as they rock to raise money for the upcoming show featuring the Peanuts Gang.

Proving that twirling goes beyond flags and rifles are the seniors Lorri Wools, Debbi Smith and Susan Kinnett twirling pencils.

ENTERTAINING US:

Our musical groups
perform for many groups.

For students who are looking forward to a possible career in the music entertainment business, S.H.S. offers the choir and swing choir. Shenandoah's choral department has been in many different activities this year. They participated in the Christmas Concert and in the Spring Concert. At graduation the Senior choir members sang "Shenandoah." The swing choir sang at one of the basketball games. They also opened up for the drama club play, "The Lottery." The swing choir has been very active and has a lot of upcoming potential from the underclassmen. The choir at S.H.S. offers a wide variety of music which most students are unaware of. The S.H.S. swing choir has talent and enthusiasm. Both groups should be recognized and supported more by the high school student body, faculty and community.

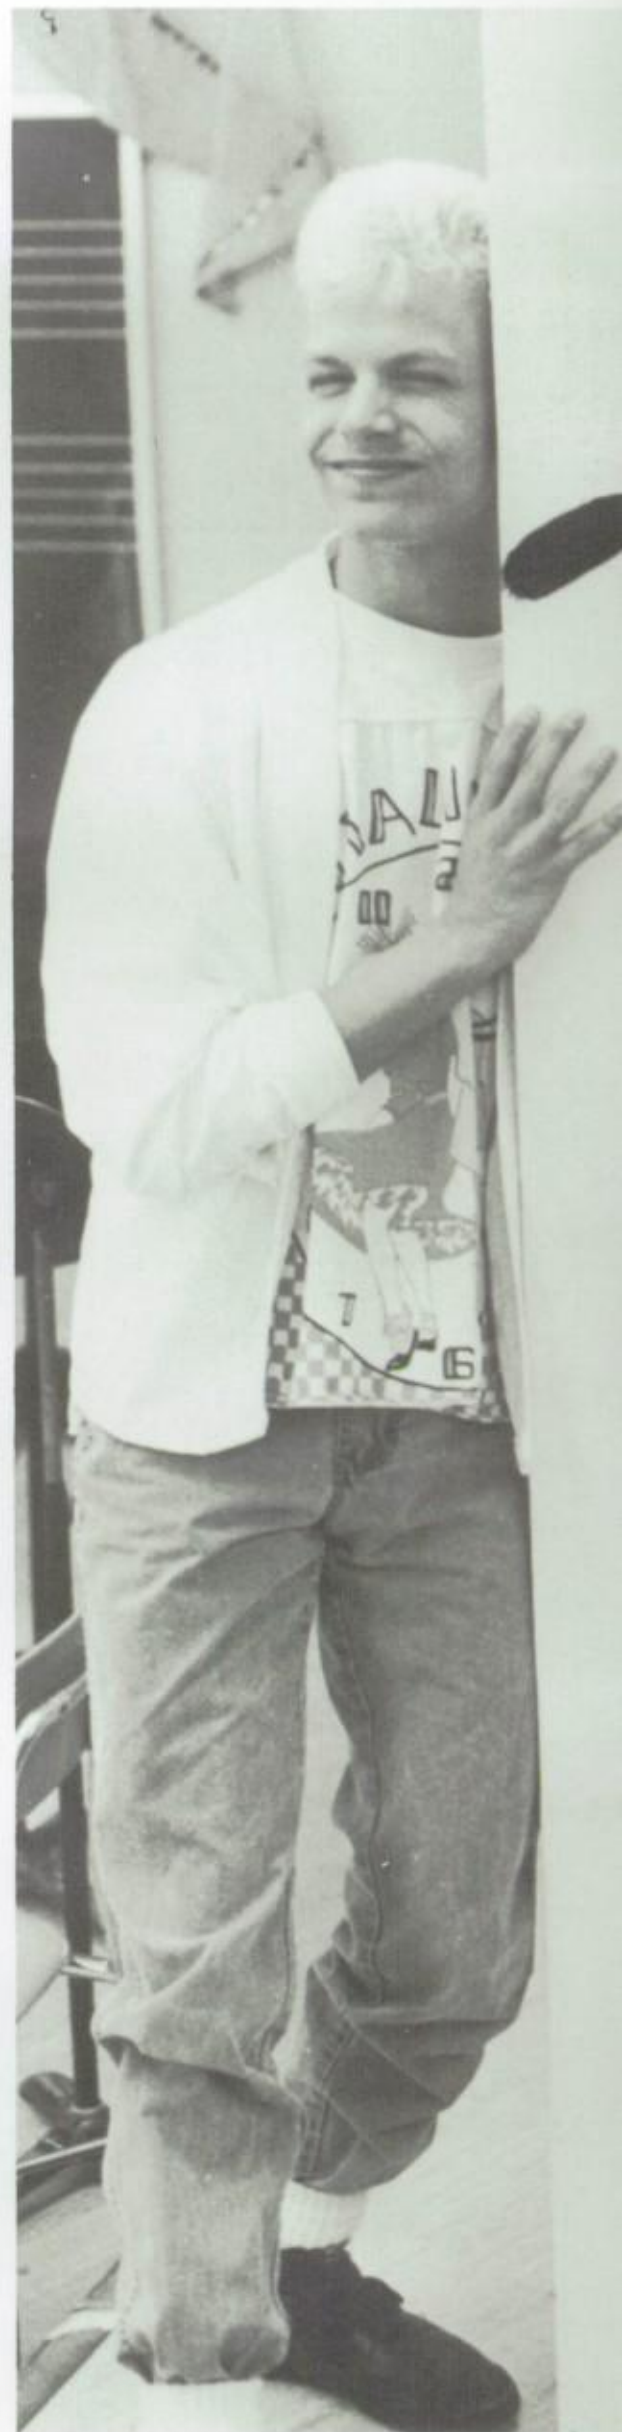

Practicing for one of her solo numbers is senior singer Robin Abshire.

Enjoying a sing-a-long around the piano are Amanda King, Amber Coon, Kristi Garner, and Amber McCrocklin, Collette Huxford and Jenny Cooper.

BAND ENJOYS SUCCESS:

New look and new show well received.

This year the Shenandoah High School Band changed their tunes along with changing their appearance. The band has spent many hours perfecting their marching skills as well as their playing skills while many of their parents spent time sewing new uniforms to add the special touch to this years show. The directors have chosen black and white as the uniform colors because they can be easily added to give a different look for the many different shows the band will put on.

This year the band performed a Russian show which earned them awards and praises from many judges. Even though the beginning of the year had its problems, the band, through many hours of practice, proved the talent that our band has.

Mr. Quarles said: "I feel that we have come a long way from the beginning of the year and I feel that next year we have the ability to go even farther and reach for many more goals that we have set for ourselves."

Band, like many of our groups, depends on togetherness to be a precise marching and playing unit. As the year ended, members participated in the Middletown Fair and prepared for a long summer of practice on their new show.

Directing the band in another successful year is Drum-major Bryan Berney.

Waiting the command to begin the half time show is the clarinet section of the band.

As they do throughout the year, color guard members lead the band onto the field for their outstanding field show.

Demonstrating her skill in playing the flute is Mariella Nicholas.

Showing that they have spirit are senior band members Bryan Berney, Paul VanCise, and Matt Irvine.

Adding their part to the musical production are Kristi Garner, Amber Coon, Amber McCrocklin, Shannon Benfield and Mariella Nicholas.

DISPLAYING TALENT:

Musical Arts students perform plays and concerts.

In the fall, the drama club put on the play "The Lottery". It was about a small town that held a yearly lottery and the person who "won" was stoned to death. This was supposed to help the farmer's crops. Jennifer Cooper had the lead role as Tessie Hutchinson.

The spring musical was The Wizard of Oz. The cast was as follows: Dorothy — Jenny Cooper, Scarecrow — Chris Ramsey, Lion — Scot Hancock, Tinman — Ginger Kennedy, Wizard — Lance Turner, and Wicked Witch — Kim Stephens. There was a good turn out both nights the play was performed.

In order to put on the spring musical, the Drama Department had a fund raising project of selling cookies and other food items. The money went to the purchasing of props and costumes for the play. Mr. Brown and Mr. Quarles were the play directors and club sponsors.

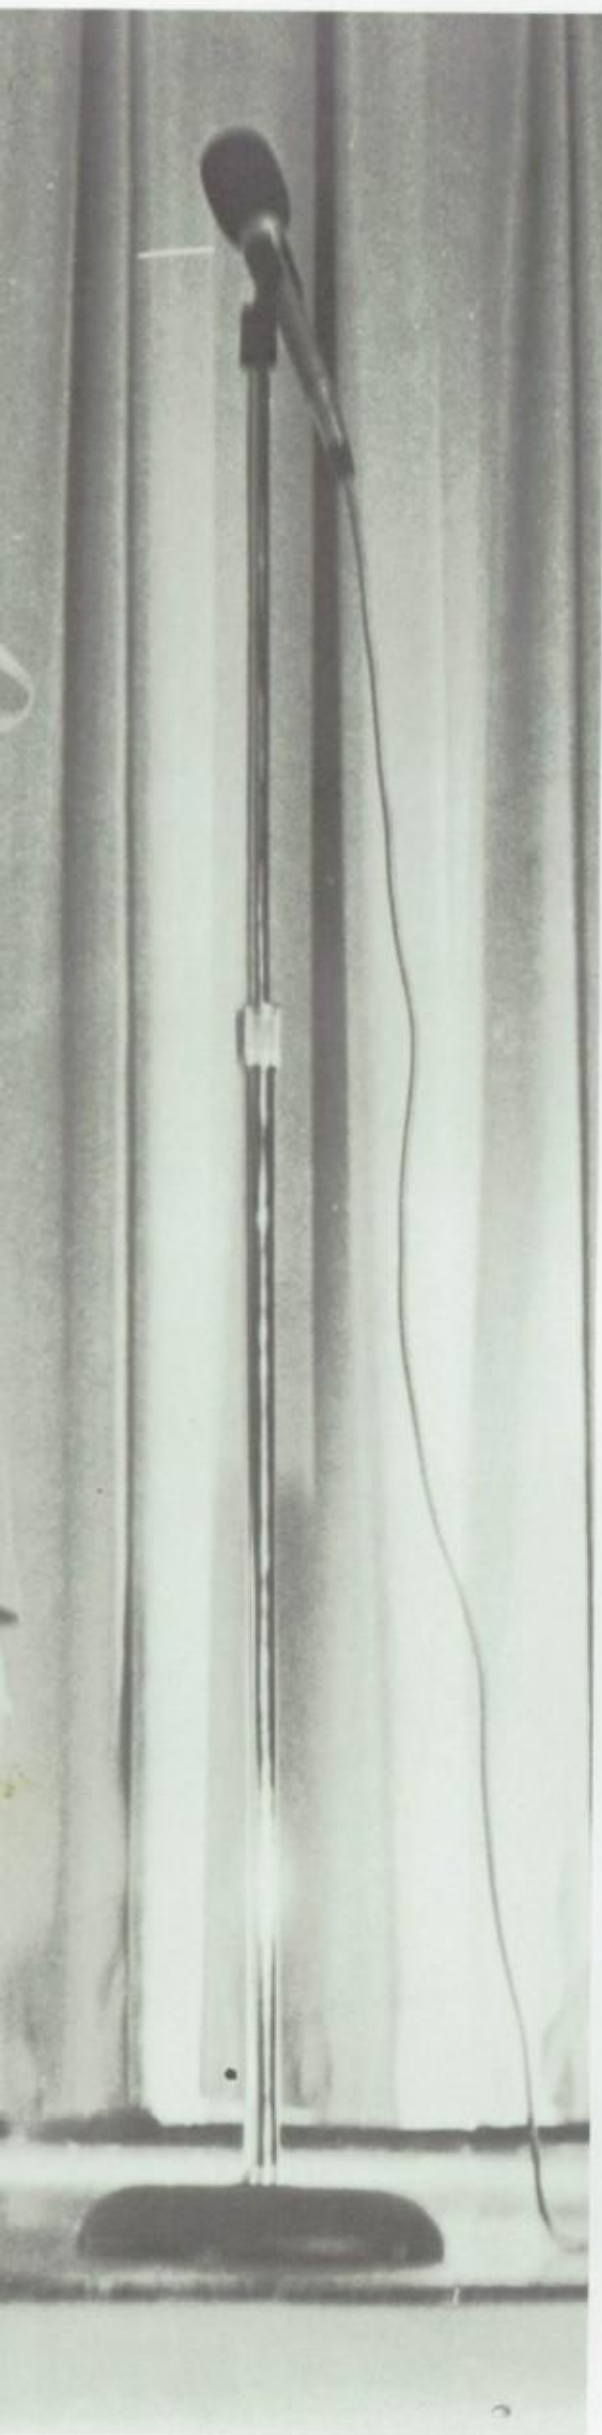

Displaying their talents are Jenny Cooper and Chris Ramsey as they play the parts of Dorothy and the Scarecrow.

WORKING TOGETHER:

Athletes share and work to help others.

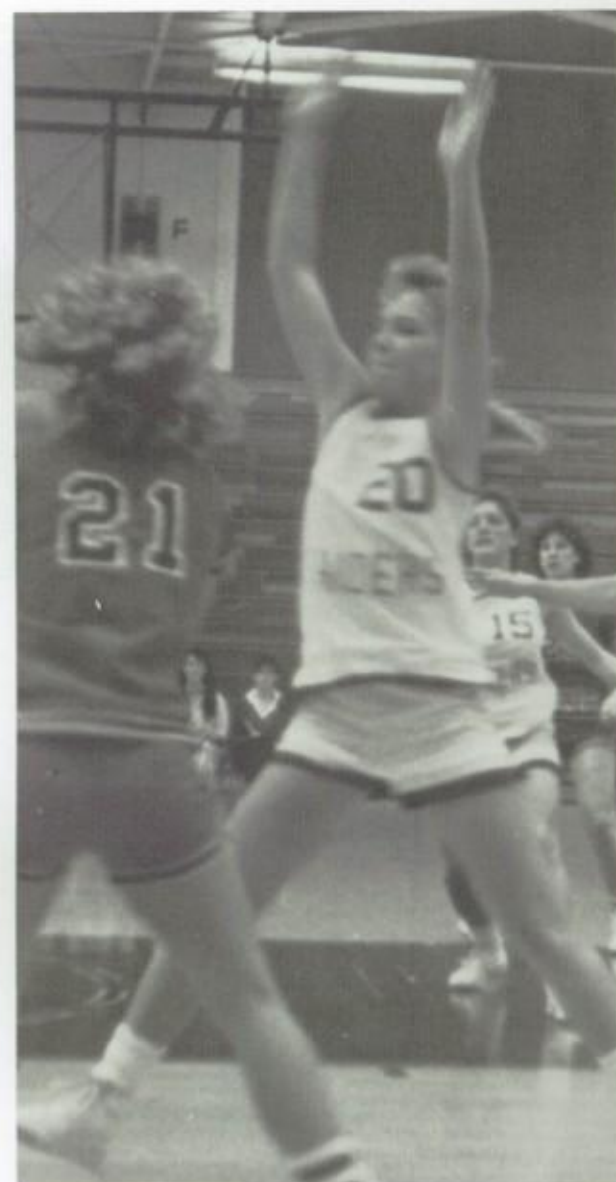

Two groups at Shenandoah have serving, devoted, athletes. S-Club is a group of athletes that have received a Varsity letter. FCA (Fellowship of Christian Athletes) includes athletes that have a strong faith in God. Mr. Todd Salkoski is sponsor of both groups.

The S-Club is committed to keeping athletics at SHS first class. This year they raised money by selling game ball sponsorships and raffle tickets at home ballgames. With the money raised, they were able to purchase a new Olympic set of weights and dumbbells for the weight room, and a Schwinn Air-Dyne Exercise/Training Bike for the Training Room. These purchases were made with the thought that all athletes at SHS might benefit from them.

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes at SHS this year went national. The group became an official Huddle and 14 of the members became national members. The monthly meetings focused on "Becoming the Best We Could Be in both Athletics and Our Christian Lives." Highlights included a trip to the "Haunted" House in Anderson and the second annual canoe trip.

While playing three sports, FCA Vice-President Amy Gilkison displays the sportsmanship ideals of the group.

LANGUAGES ARE EMPHASIZED:

Academic diploma will increase student load.

The German Club this year, under a new sponsor, Mr. Brown, has had various successful activities. To raise money, they sold Gummi Bears which were popular among the students. They took a field trip to Union Station and ate at the German restaurant, the Heidleburg Haus. They also made a delicious looking gingerbread house for Christmas.

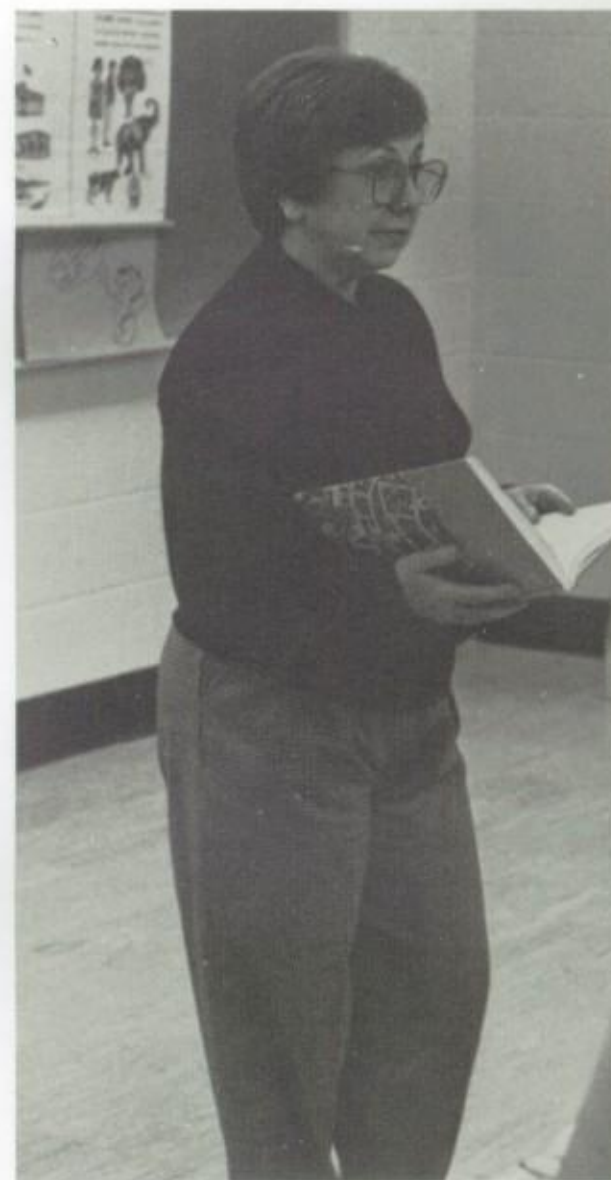

The activities of the Spanish Club consisted of their annual Christmas Party with the different Spanish dishes and the smashing of the Pinata, which has always been an interesting tradition of the party. As their fund raiser, the club members sold Old Fashioned candy sticks.

They also got a taste of Spanish food on their trip to One Accord.

With the new state requirements for students for graduation, the Foreign Language Department will face increased work loads as many students will elect to take three years of course work in this area.

During this year, Jeff Shelton working on an independent study program with Mrs. Hernandez so that he could complete five years of work in Spanish. Jeff also honored Mrs. Hernandez by selecting him as his most important teacher when nominated and selected for the Indiana Academic All-Stars.

WORKING TOGETHER:

Our theme of "Together We're Better", was selected by the year-book, staff members and it probably applies to the publications staffs as it does to any other group in our school.

The newspaper staff under the leadership of Pam Peavler as editor had a successful year as they met their goal of publishing one issue approximately every three weeks. Issues that were the most popular included the Christmas issue, Valentines issue and the Senior issue.

The Raider staff under the leadership of Dawn Coon, Amy Dietrich and Amy Gilkison worked very hard to produce another quality year-book. We hope that this book has some unique elements that will set it apart from the other nineteen volumes. As we worked together, we realized the unique quality of the staff that produced the book.

DEVELOPING CREATIVE TALENT:

Students travel
to enjoy great art

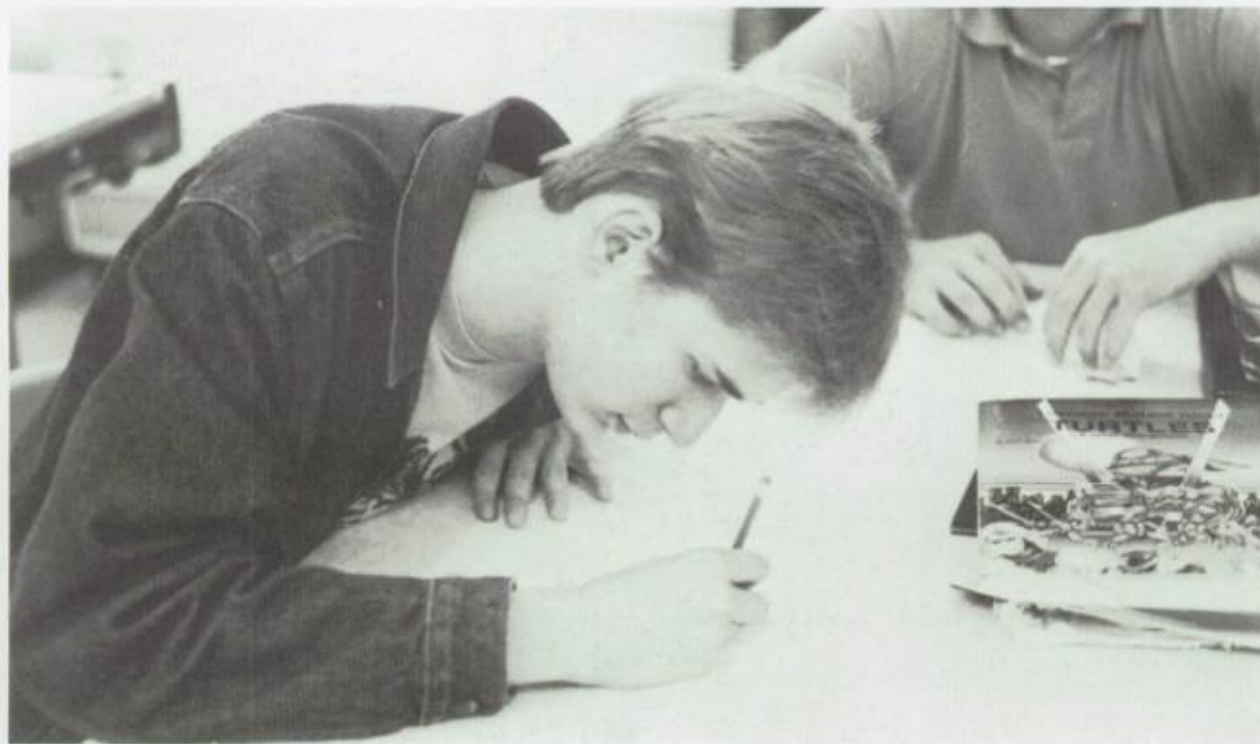

The National Art Honor Society completed its third year at Shenandoah. The organization consisted of seventeen members after the recent induction. The officers were Sara Wilson — President, Rose Peckinpugh — Vice-President, Stacie Canady — Secretary, and Marvin Horton — Treasurer.

The purpose of this organization is to foster excellence and a dedicated spirit to the pursuit of art. It also helped in aiding members to work toward the attainment of their highest potential in the area of art. National Art Honor Society is a nation-wide organization and to be a member of it is a great honor.

N.A.H.S. members took their annual trip to the Chicago Art Institute where the members spent the day in a world of art. The organization also had two fund raisers this year in order to keep the art supplies in abundance.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION CHANGES:

Curriculum features co-educational activities

This year the Physical Education has been through some changes. Instead of having separate boys and girls P.E., they are combined and Miss Underwood and Mr. Bomholt each teach Co-ed P.E. classes. Some of the activities include: football, softball, soccer and square dancing.

When Miss Underwood was asked of her opinion of co-ed classes, she stated: "I like having co-ed classes. I think it is more fun for the students and definitely more fun for me. I think having co-ed classes gives a better balance and makes for a better learning environment."

Health, a requirement, is taught by Miss Underwood. In this class, you learn about such things as first aid, drugs and alcohol, and birth control.

Being a Driver's Ed. teacher is a scary job. Not only are you teaching sophomores and freshmen how to drive, but you are also in the car with them when they do.

On the job training, Brian Heckley and Dale Peavler change a flat on the driver ed car.

The weight training class carefully listens to Mr. Bomholt as he gives instructions on what to do.

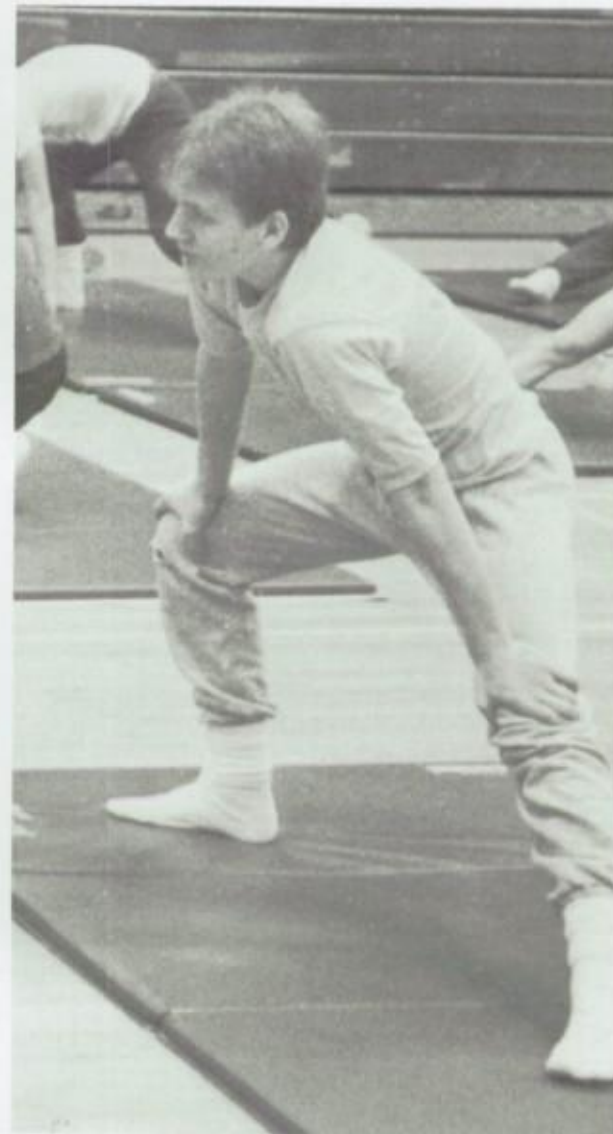

Greg Lane and Jason Hornaday give "Manny" mouth-to-mouth resuscitation.

"... 18, 19, 20 ...", Margaret Downen seems to enjoy jumping rope.

Randy Fish stretches during an aerobics warmup. For the first time, guys participated in aerobics.

Dreading the ride ahead, seems to be what Mr. Barentine is thinking as he gets into the car with sophomores Amy Sheppard and Vanessa Branham.

MEETING THE NEEDS:

Math Faculty works on new programs.

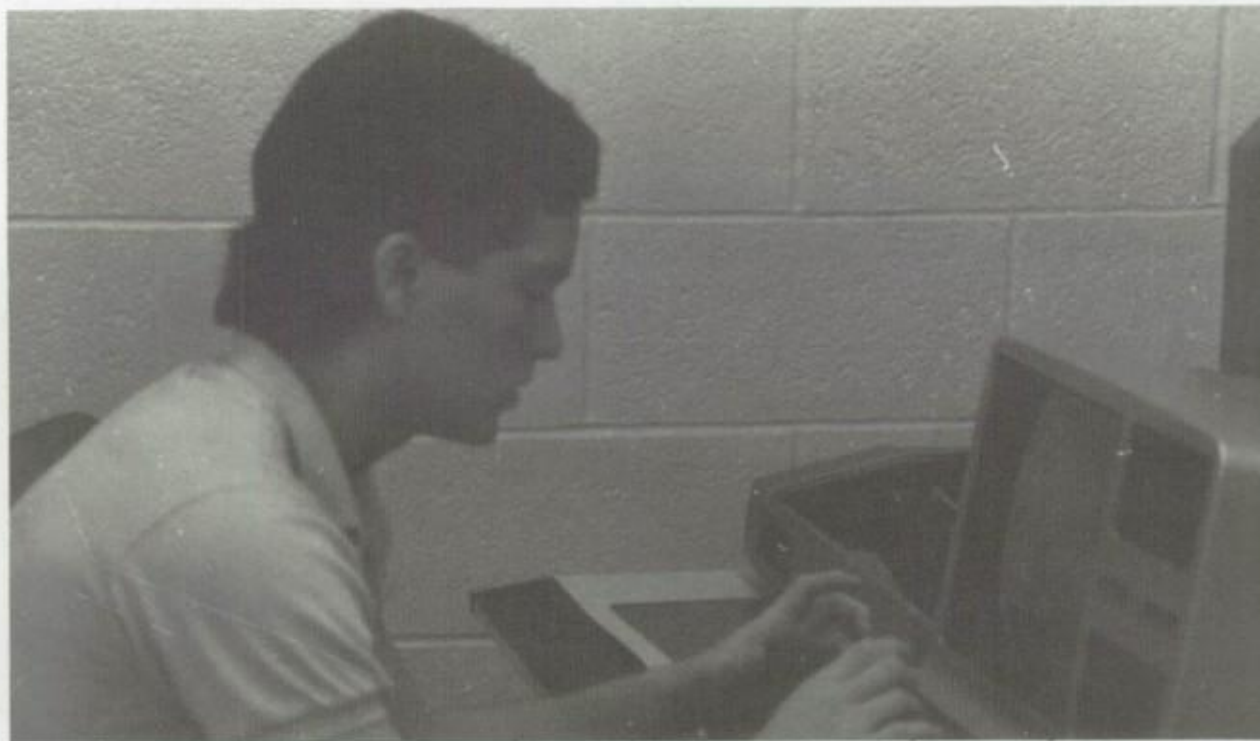

With the increasing emphasis on education in the academic areas, the Math Department found themselves working on curriculum choices that will provide for the needs of their students over the next few years.

As the work neared completion, Mrs. Melody Zapf, Department Chairperson commented: "I feel that we have developed a program that will be beneficial to all of our students regardless of their needs in the math area. I will be interested to see how summer school and eighth grade algebra will influence our program."

Throughout the year, students continued to do the traditional math course work expected of them in their respective classes. However, many of them elected to pursue the study of computers. Regardless of one's interest, our math faculty will work very hard to provide a program that will meet any student's need.

Trying to figure out a hard problem in Algebra II is Perry Carr.

Mike Shelton works on a program for Computers.

Miss Riggs helps Keith Stum with an Algebra II problem.

Working on their polyhedron project for Mr. Mark Short's geometry class are Lance Hockwalt and Jennifer Thompson.

A PERIOD OF CHANGE:

Students will find courses for their needs.

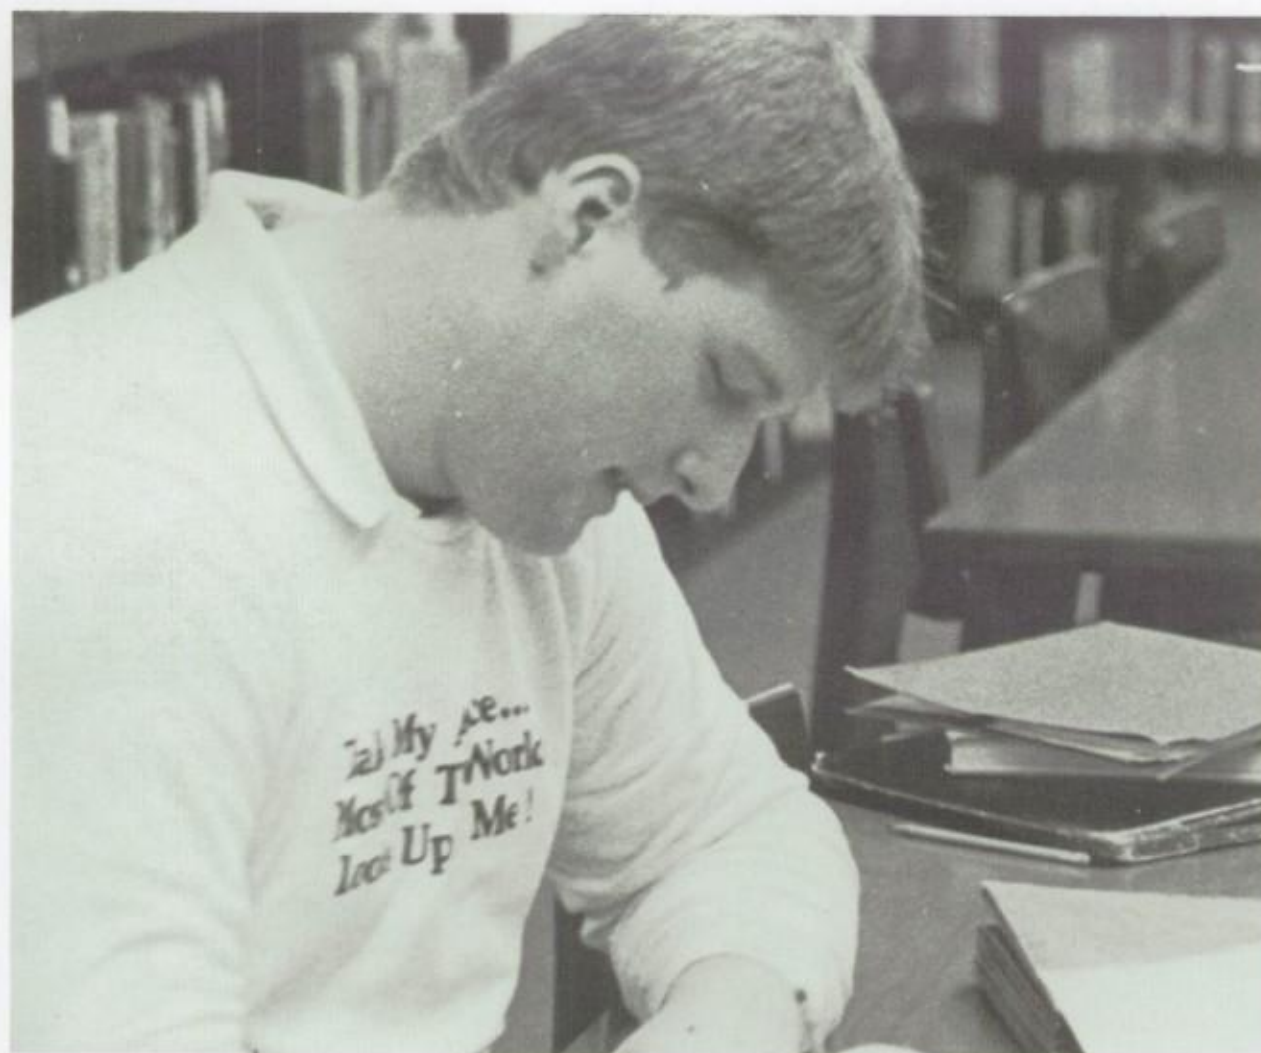

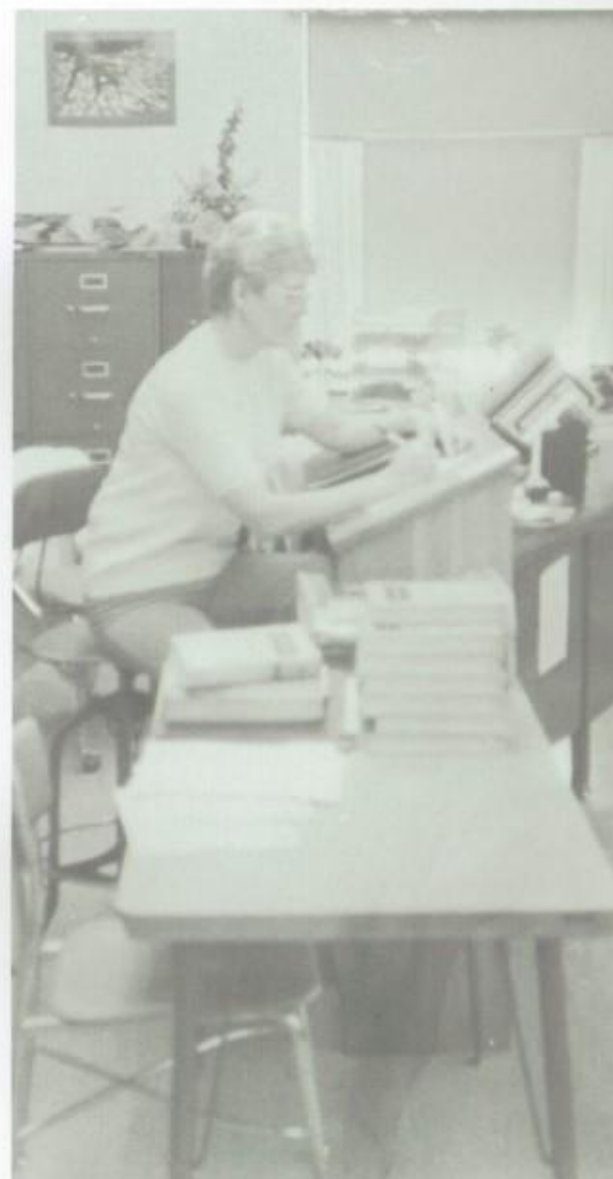

This year the English Department added a new teacher to its staff. Mr. David Brown taught English 11A, 9C, and Etymology. He also helped with the Drama Club. There are a few changes that will take place next year. College English Seminar will be replaced by a new class called English Literature. Mrs. Lighty will teach English 11A and Mr. Brown will takeover the sophomore classes.

English is a required course for all four years of high school. There are a variety of different classes you can take besides the ones required. Some of these are: Creative Writing, Etymology, Speech and Composition.

For those who enjoy writing, Literary Journal enables students to publish their poems and short stories. There is also a contest for the best poem and the best short story. This year Carol Whiting won with her poem entitled "No Pain" and Suzanne Hallman won with her short story "Tree Months."

All of the changes that are taking place within the English Department are structured around the new requirements to offer the Advanced Scholar Diploma. However, the Department is still very concerned that it provides experiences for all students in grammar, composition, spelling speech and literature.

It must be Friday as Mrs. Lighty checks the entries in the sophomore journals.

Tim Carter works quietly in the library on his research paper for Mr. Brown.

Mrs. Lighty's English class is busy working on their assignments as they write in their journals.

Marci Dietrich listens attentively in class as she thinks about what the poem means to her.

Preparing to take notes is freshman Kasey Renaud on Mrs. Mason's lecture on Huckleberry Finn.

A STATE CHAMPION:

Pam Peavler is the best typist in Indiana.

The business classes at SHS are taught by Mrs. Young (Department Chairperson), Mrs. Goar, and Mrs. Oliver. Shenandoah offers a wide variety of business classes. Your freshman year you might take General Business. For your sophomore year you are offered three different keyboarding classes or Record-keeping. Your junior and senior years you could take Accounting I & II, Production Typing, Office Machines, Office Practice, Shorthand I & II, or Business Law. A new class started was word processing. This class helped in typing the 1986-87 Curriculum Handbook. Computer accounting was offered a full year instead of just one semester.

Pam Peavler, a senior at SHS, was named 1987 Olympia National Scholastic Typing Contest Winner for the state of Indiana. For the contest she took a 5 minute timed writing and typed a letter, memo and table. She received an Olympia electronic typewriter, a t-shirt, and certificate. She was entered in the National Contest competing with students from the 49 other states. The winner will receive $500. Pam types 100 words a minute and dictates 120 words a minute. Congratulations Pam!!

Business teacher Mrs. Jane Young takes part in the pep session for sectional.

Jerry Lowery carefully types out his keyboarding assignment.

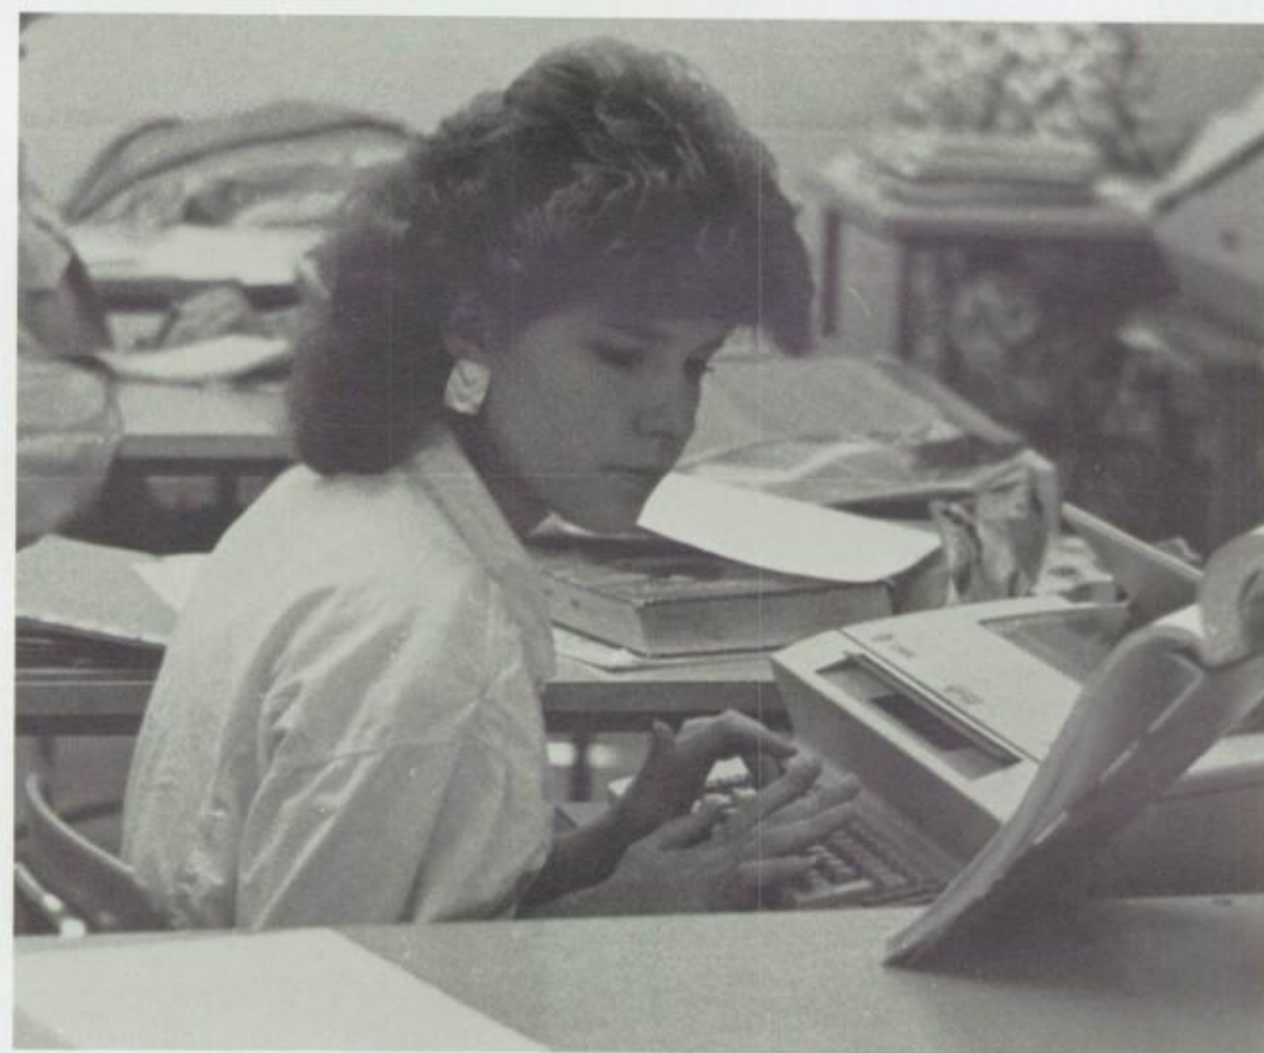

Amy Shepherd, Wendy Graddy, and Sarah Carpenter work on a timed writing.

Mrs. Oliver explains the assignment in General Business.

David Burgauer presents Pam Peavler with her award for winning the state championship.

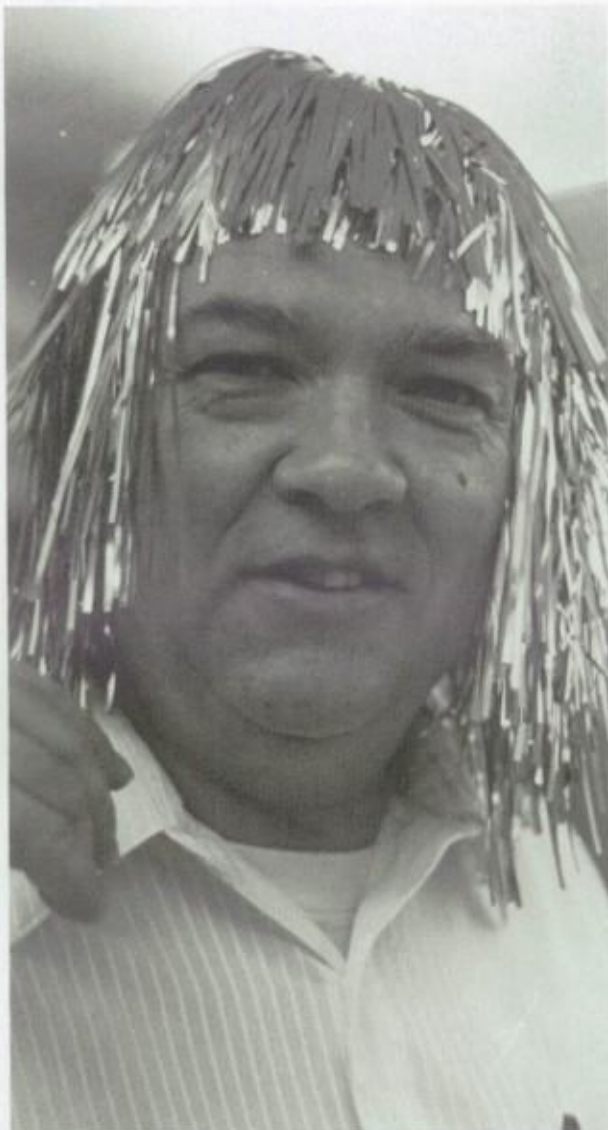

Amy Keesling lets her fingers do the typing.

NEW GROUPS FORMED:

Students work together to achieve goals.

Two new groups became a part of the students extra-curricular choices this year. With the emphasis on academic competition, an academic team was formed under the leadership of Dr. Harry Councillor. This team entered into a variety of events including a spelling bowl, a brain game at Triton Central, and state competition at Anderson High School. In their first full year of participation, our team did very well and our science team qualified for the state finals. Another honor given to our school was the selection of Dr. Councillor as the science coach for the state as Indiana competed against Kentucky in June.

Students Against Drunk Driving became an active group this year as they worked to promote educational programs for our community about the dangers of alcohol abuse. They also provided social experiences for students without the use of drugs and/or alcohol. Mrs. Teresa Mason commented that she hoped that more students will participate in the future.

Always willing to play his part to promote school spirit, Dr. Harry Councillor was selected to coach the Indiana science team against Kentucky.

ACADEMIC TEAM:Front: Perry Carr, Becky Downen, Christie Jones, Franki Zile, Bobbie Cain. Middle: Scot Hancock, Charlotte Spell, Darren Ghanayem, Kelli Nullock, Marvin Horton. Back: Mr. Smith, Jeff Shelton, Howard Moore, Tammie Miller, Dr. Counciller.

Marching into the graduation ceremony is National Merit Scholar and Valedictorian Jeff Shelton who was a key member of the Academic Team.

Bringing home the trophy for Shenendoah's Academic Team in a victory at the Triton Central Brain Game, are members Amy Dietrich, Franki Zile, Jeff Shelton, Marvin Horton, and Amy Gilkison.

COMMUNITY:

In recognition of past achievements, parents and community members come to honor students as they join National Honor Society.

Members of the Class of 1987 are enjoying a day in the sun during recess in the fourth grade. Today they are ready to become vital contributors to our community.

The community shows pride and spirit by rallying behind the team during the basketball sectional.

Togetherness is the key to success in Raider country.

The theme "Together We're Better" can clearly be distinguished in each of the pictures. The crowd picture taken at the New Castle Fieldhouse demonstrates community togetherness. People in our community took time from their busy schedules to share with the students and athletes from our school. Our caring community always bands together to back its young people. They show their affection by attending various extra-curricular events, by purchasing a wide range of paraphernalia that each class of club sells in order to go on field trips or buy much needed equipment for the school, and Teachers show that they not only help students in the classroom, but also support them in extra-curricular activities by their participation in a pep session.

by becoming involved in organizations created solely for the betterment of our school. Without the purchasing power of our business community, our publications The Raider Review and The Raider Yearbook would not be printed nor would our school even be classified as a functional institution. Each community within a school corporation has to overcome their differences in order to offer its young people a chance for an education, a chance to become a successful member of our society, and a chance to be happy in our world.

A CLOSING LOOK:

In all that we do we must remember to work together with our fellow man.

"TOGETHER WE'RE BETTER

With each player understanding his role and playing together, the Raider baseball team celebrated their second Richmond Regional Championship in three years as they defeated Muncie South.

Our story has solely focused on the theme "Together We're Better." We have stressed the importance of diverse characters, brief encounters, and meaningful learning experiences and how they interrelate to influence our lives both at and away from school. Each of us as individuals have a responsibility to educate others about ourselves. Each of us possess unique qualities that distinguish us from our peers. Whether we take advantage of this opportunity is our own decision. Small, rural communities such as ours demand imperative steps essential to learning, growing, and determining the amount of success we have in our own lives.

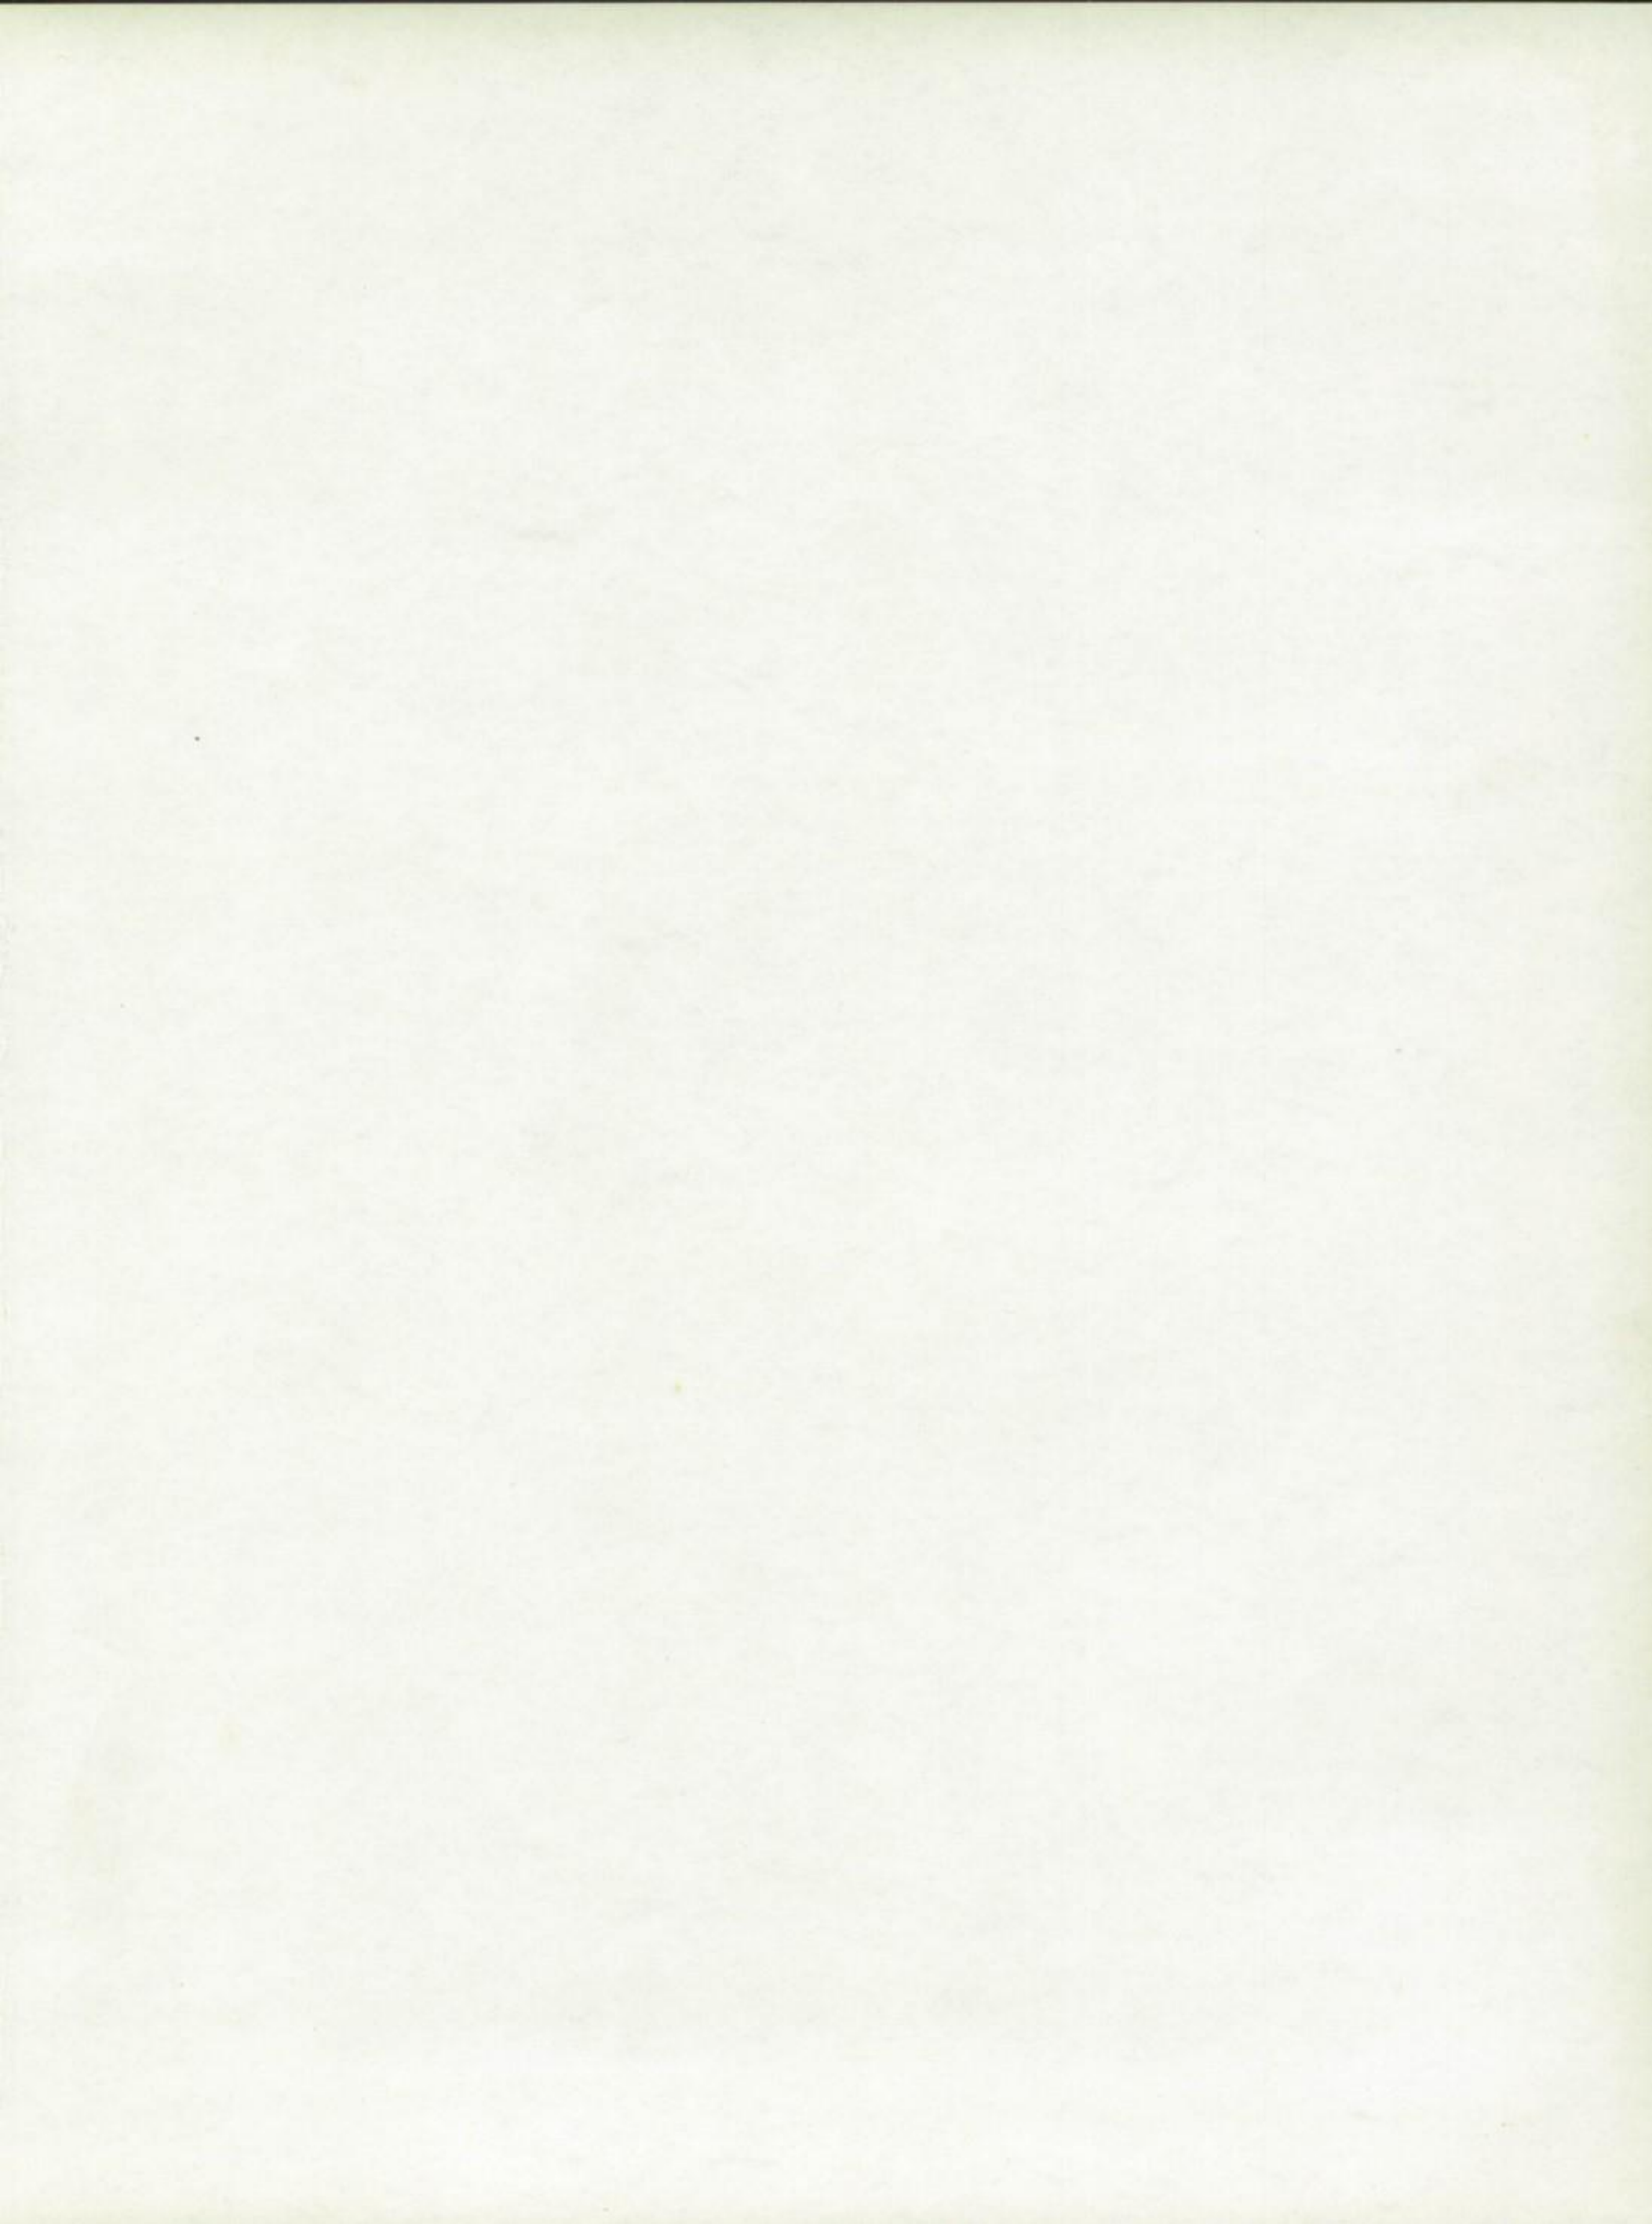

Although we may not be aware of the fact, we as individuals have cohesively joined together to dazzle and demonstrate our united front to similar, surrounding communities. We have responded openly displayed pride, support, and allegiance to our athletic families, band families, club families, publication families, faculty families, and more importantly, our own families.

As one encompassing family, we have seen the expected "good and bad times." We have helped each other through the bleak moments. We have also shared the exciting and prosperous times. Without each other, we, as a whole, would lose our strength and effectiveness.

As true in an authentic family, the children are very important. Their main function while at home is to learn. We hope that each child that attends Shenandoah obtains the wisdom to utilize and draw from school experiences and apply them to the future. The most important lesson that any child or adult can learn is to be yourself and work together to help others.

Our theme is evident in the hard work of the junior parents who provided the opportunity for these students to enjoy the post prom.
